Fellow Shareholders:

It is a pleasure to submit this Semi-Annual Report for Foxby Corp., and to welcome our new shareholders who find the Fund's flexible total return investment approach attractive.

As a non-diversified, closed end fund seeking total return, the Fund uses a flexible strategy in the selection of securities, and is not limited by the issuer's location, size, or market capitalization. The Fund may invest in equity and fixed income securities of both new and seasoned U.S. and foreign issuers, including securities convertible into common stock, debt securities, futures, options, derivatives, and other instruments. The Fund also may employ aggressive and speculative investment techniques, such as selling securities short and borrowing money for investment purposes, an approach known as "leveraging," and may invest defensively in high grade money market instruments.

At June 30, the Fund's top ten holdings comprised approximately 68% of total assets. As a percent of net assets, investments in U.S. equities accounted for about 24%, foreign equities about 13%, and equity short sales 35%. Defensive holdings amounted to about 68%. As the Fund pursues its total return objective through this flexible approach, these holdings and allocations are, of course, subject to change at any time.

Market Report

On June 30th, the Federal Open Market Committee (FOMC) of the Federal Reserve Bank raised the federal funds rate from 1% to 1.25%, the first increase in the rate since June 2003 when the FOMC lowered the rate to 1%. Thus ended a period of 16 rate cuts that started in January 2001 when federal funds stood at 6.5%. By some standards, the U.S. economy seems in better shape than it was a year ago. Corporate earnings have greatly improved year-over-year, at a pace not seen in the last 20 years and employment has improved. Yet, despite the increase in corporate earnings, many companies appear cautious when it comes to hiring full time employees and much of the new job growth is coming from part time positions. In addition, overall consumer data suggest some hesitancy remains about the acceptance of higher pricing in consumer goods. Personal consumption statistics are positive, but consumer resistance to higher prices and the addition of new suppliers to undercut current prices could slow the encouraging pace of corporate earnings.

Against this economic backdrop, yields on 5 and 10 year Treasuries rose from levels of 3.25% and 4.25%, respectively, at the start of the year to 3.77% and 4.58%, respectively, at the end of June. It should be noted, however, that during the period the highs were 4.10% and 4.87%, respectively, and the lows were 2.64% and 3.68%, respectively, reflecting the fixed income markets' heightened volatility. The Fund's strategy in view of these conditions was to remain largely unhedged in the first quarter and more defensively invested in the second quarter, inhibiting returns as its technology oriented investments struggled early in the year before recovering somewhat later, leading to a negative 10.18% return in the first half, compared to positive returns of 0.80%, 3.44%, and 2.22%, respectively for the Dow Jones Industrial

Edgar Filing: FOXBY CORP - Form N-CSRS

Average, the Standard & Poor's 500 Index, and the Nasdaq Composite Index.

The FOMC appears to be seeking to raise interest rates to a level that allows for economic growth with low inflation, but without economic disruption. In the last quarter of 2003 and the first quarter of 2004, consumer spending rose at a 3.5% pace, but whether this pace will have continued in the quarter just ended and will over the second half is difficult to predict. The stimulus from the prior year's massive tax cuts may diminish and with higher interest rates the booming mortgage and refinancing housing markets could contract. At the same time, emerging internal and external political factors may have an increasing influence, including the U.S. deficit, presidential election, global terrorism, and Middle Eastern conflicts.

In these changing economic conditions, the Fund's flexibility to invest in large or small capitalization companies, U.S. or foreign, and in virtually any kind of security, gives it the advantage of being able to consider participating in an investment in whatever form it may take in seeking to achieve an attractive total return.

We appreciate your support and look forward to serving your investment needs in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

/s/ Thomas B. Winmill

Notes to Financial Statements (Unaudited)

(1) Foxby Corp., formerly Internet Growth Fund, Inc. (the "Fund"), was incorporated under the laws of the state of Maryland on August 24, 1998 and is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a non-diversified, closed-end management investment company. The Fund commenced operations on October 29, 1999. On December 11, 2002, the Board of Directors of the Fund approved a change in the fiscal year end to December 31.

(2) The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund in the preparation of its financial statements. With respect to security valuation, securities traded on a national securities exchange or the Nasdaq National Market System ("NMS") are valued at the last reported sales price on the day the valuations are made. Such securities that are not traded on a particular day and securities traded in the over-the-counter market that are not on NMS are valued at the mean between the current bid and asked prices. Certain of the securities in which the Fund invests are priced through pricing services which may utilize a matrix pricing system which takes into consideration factors such as yields, prices, maturities, call features and ratings on comparable securities. Bonds may be valued according to prices quoted by a dealer in bonds which offers pricing services. Debt obligations with remaining maturities of 60 days or less are valued at cost adjusted for amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts. Securities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars at prevailing exchange rates. Securities for which quotations are not readily available or reliable and other assets may be valued as determined in good faith by or under the direction of the Board of Directors. Investment transactions are accounted for on the trade date (the date the order to buy or sell is executed). Interest income is recorded on the accrual basis. In preparing financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, management makes estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, as well as the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(3) It is the Fund's current intention to meet the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute all of its taxable net income to its shareholders. In addition, the Fund intends to pay distributions as required to avoid imposition of excise tax. Therefore, no federal income tax provision is required. At December 31, 2003, the Fund had a capital loss carryforward of approximately $18,104,700 of which $10,509,500 expires in 2009, $6,757,800 expires in 2010, and $837,400 expires in 2011. No capital gain will be distributed until the capital loss carryforwards have been exhausted.

Edgar Filing: FOXBY CORP - Form N-CSRS

As of December 31, 2003, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

Capital loss carryforward	$(18,104,670)
Unrealized appreciation	1,752,410

	$(16,352,260)

(4) Effective July 12, 2002, the Fund retained CEF Advisers, Inc. as its Investment Manager. Previously, LCM Capital Management, Inc. ("LCM") was the manager. Under the terms of the Investment Management Agreement, the Fund pays the Investment Manager a fee for its services at the annual rate of 1.00% of the Fund's average daily net assets. The fee is accrued each calendar day and the sum of the daily fee accruals is paid monthly. The daily fee accrual is computed by multiplying 1/365 by the annual rate and multiplying the product by the net asset value of the Fund as of the close of business on the previous day. LCM's fee was substantially similar. Certain officers and directors of the Fund are officers and directors of the Investment Manager. The Fund reimbursed the Investment Manager $29,510 for providing at cost certain compliance services of $8,263 and accounting services of $21,247 during the six months ended June 30, 2004.

FOXBY CORP.

(5) The Fund has an arrangement with its custodian and transfer agent whereby interest earned on uninvested cash balances was used to offset a portion of the Fund's expenses. Purchases and sales of investment securities (excluding short-term investments, and futures) aggregated $4,567,000 and $2,213,312, respectively, for the six months ended June 30, 2004. At June 30, 2004, gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation of investments for tax purposes were as follows:

Appreciation	$ 199,403
Depreciation	(387,258)

Net appreciation on investments	$(187,855)

At June 30, 2004, the cost of investments for federal income tax purposes was $4,699,039.

(6) The Fund may engage in transactions in futures contracts. Upon entering into a futures contract, the Fund is required to deposit with the broker an amount of cash or cash equivalents equal to a certain percentage of the contract amount. This is known as the "initial margin." Subsequent payments ("variation margin") are made or received by the Fund each day, depending on the daily fluctuation of the value of the contract. The daily change in the contract is included in unrealized appreciation/depreciation on investments and futures contracts. The Fund realizes a gain or loss when the contract is closed. Futures transactions sometimes may reduce returns or increase volatility. In addition, futures can be illiquid and highly sensitive to changes in their underlying security, interest rate or index, and as a result can be highly volatile. A small investment in certain futures could have a potentially large impact on a Fund's performance. At June 30, 2004 the Fund had no open future contracts.

(7) Of the 2,602,847 shares of common stock outstanding at June 30, 2004, Investor Service Center, Inc. ("ISC"), an affiliate of the Fund's Investment Manager, owned 184,000 shares. Certain officers and directors of ISC are also officers and directors of the Fund and the Investment Manager.

(a) Total return on market value basis is calculated assuming a purchase of common stock on the opening of the first day and sale on the closing of the last day of each period reported. Dividends and distributions, if any, are assumed for purposes of this calculation, to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan. Generally, total return on net asset value basis will be higher than total return on market value basis in periods where there is an increase in the discount or a decrease in the premium of the market value to the net asset value from the beginning to the end of such periods. Conversely, total return on net asset value basis will be lower than total return on market value basis in periods where there is a decrease in the discount or an increase in the premium of the market value to the net asset value from the beginning to the end of such periods. Total return calculated for a period of less than one year is not annualized. The calculation does not reflect brokerage commissions, if any.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

The Fund has adopted a Dividend Reinvestment Plan (the "Plan"). Under the Plan, each dividend and capital gain distribution, if any, declared by the Fund on outstanding shares will, unless elected otherwise by each shareholder by notifying the Fund in writing at any time prior to the record date for a particular dividend or distribution, be paid on the payment date fixed by the Board of Directors or a committee thereof in additional shares. If the Market Price (as defined below) per share is equal to or exceeds the net asset value per share at the time shares are valued for the purpose of determining the number of shares equivalent to the cash dividend or capital gain distribution (the "Valuation Date"), participants will be issued additional shares equal to the amount of such dividend divided by the greater of that net asset value per share or 95% of that Market Price per share. If the Market Price per share is less than such net asset value on the Valuation Date, participants will be issued additional shares equal to the amount of such dividend divided by the Market Price. The Valuation Date is the day before the dividend or distribution payment date or, if that day is not an American Stock Exchange trading day, the next trading day. For all purposes of the Plan: (a) the Market Price of the shares on a particular date shall be the average closing market price on the five trading days the shares traded ex-dividend on the Exchange prior to such date or, if no sale occurred on any of these days, then the mean between the closing bid and asked quotations, for the shares on the Exchange on such day, and (b) net asset value per share on a particular date shall be as determined by or on behalf of the Fund.

PRIVACY POLICY

The Fund recognizes the importance of protecting the personal and financial information of its shareholders. We consider each shareholder's personal information to be private and confidential. This describes the practices followed by us to protect our shareholders' privacy. We may obtain information about you from the following sources: (1) information we receive from you on forms and other information you provide to us whether in writing, by telephone, electronically or by any other means; (2) information regarding your transactions with us, our corporate affiliates, or others. We do not sell shareholder personal information to third parties. We will collect and use shareholder personal information only to service shareholder accounts. This information may be used by us in connection with providing services or financial products requested by shareholders. We will not disclose shareholder personal information to any nonaffiliated third party except as permitted by law. We take steps to safeguard shareholder information. We restrict access to nonpublic personal information about you to those employees and service providers who need to know that information to provide products or services to you. With our service providers we maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to guard your nonpublic personal information. Even if you are no longer a shareholder, our Privacy Policy will continue to apply to you. We reserve the right to modify, remove or add portions of this Privacy Policy at any time.
