Subject Company: GTECH S.p.A.; International Game Technology

Filer's SEC File No.: 333-146050

Date: November 10, 2014

The following is an excerpt from the third quarter earnings release published by GTECH S.p.A. on November 10, 2014. The excerpt contains only those portions of the earnings release relating to the proposed acquisition of International Game Technology (IGT).

In a solid quarter, we were able to make up for the significant product sales of 2013 and for lower jackpot activity this year, and deliver stable revenues and higher profitability, thanks to the diversity of our revenue base, said Marco Sala, CEO of GTECH S.p.A. Our planned acquisition of IGT is progressing on schedule.

We are well on track to deliver our 2014 synergy target of 40 million said Alberto Fornaro, CFO of GTECH S.p.A. With continued significant generation of operating cash flow, we anticipate that, excluding costs related to the IGT acquisition, we should comfortably meet our year-end Net Financial Position guidance of 2.47 to 2.53 billion.

Operating Income was 133 million compared to 102 million. Transaction costs of 10 million associated with the pending IGT acquisition, which were incurred in the quarter, were more than offset by the gain from the sale of the Company's sports and events ticketing business in Italy.

Interest Expense was in line with the same period last year at 41 million, when excluding the 17 million incurred in the quarter on the Bridge Facility which was entered into in anticipation of the IGT acquisition.

At September 30, 2014, Consolidated Shareholders' Equity totaled 2.76 billion. GTECH had a Net Financial Position (NFP) of 2.58 billion, compared to 2.51 billion as of December 31, 2013. After adjusting for certain IGT acquisition related items, NFP totaled 2.49 billion.

The increase in the effective income tax rate to 41% compared to 39.8% in the prior year reflects non-deductible acquisition costs on the pending acquisition of IGT.

Marco Sala, Chief Executive Officer

In the area of game development we were also able to obtain the rights for the use of the popular Wheel of Fortune and Jeopardy franchises in the lottery space. That will nicely complement IGT's similar rights to those franchises in the gaming space.

Now, I'd like to offer some brief comments on the IGT transaction.

There have been some public notices about the progress we have made so far. Alberto will cover this in greater detail during his comments. And, just this past week, the shareholders voted to approve the recommendation of the GTECH Board to go forward with the transaction. All in all, there has been good progress to date.

As previously noted, one of the most compelling aspects of the deal is the consolidation of the two companies will generate substantial synergies of approximately $280 million to be captured over the next three years. As we have begun the integration planning process with our counterparts at IGT, we have gained further confidence that the integration targets are achievable.

As in previous calls, due to pre-closing conditions, we will not be entertaining any questions on the acquisition during this call. We'll provide updates, when and if there are material developments to report in the future.

The IGT acquisition is progressing well. The synergies we expect are realistic and achievable.

From our customers' perspective, we have just participated in the major exhibitions in lottery and gaming. In each, it was clearly evident that our customers value our existing offerings and are excited about the potential of our merger with IGT.

Thank you for joining us. We'll provide updates as developments warrant. Good evening.

Alberto Fornaro, Chief Financial Officer

At the Operating Income level, in addition to the previously mentioned 30 million euro impact from the machine gaming provision, in the third quarter of this year we incurred transaction costs of 10 million euros associated with the IGT acquisition that were more than offset by the 14 million euro gain on the sale of the Company's sports and events ticketing business in Italy.

After allowing for these items, as well as interest expense from the previously mentioned bridge facility, and the resulting Income Tax impact, Net Income Attributable to the Owners would have been comparable to the same period last year.

The most significant adjustment relates to the underlying NFP, which benefited from our strong cash flow generation in the quarter. At the end of September, NFP would have been 2.49 billion euros, down 38 million euros in the quarter, when adjusted for one-offs. These include IGT-related transaction expenses and the financial liabilities related to the bridge loan fees, as well as the share repurchase program, partially reduced by proceeds from the sale of the Italian ticketing business.

[]

As usual, you see here on slide 14 our year-to-date performance. I will only comment on our effective income tax rate for the nine months, which stands at 41 percent, slightly higher than the 39.8 percent in the prior year. This increase is due to the impact of non-deductible acquisition costs related to the pending acquisition of IGT.

As you see on slide 16, we are progressing as expected with our IGT acquisition related work streams.

In August, we cleared US and Canadian antitrust hurdles, and we also closed on the bridge loan credit facility syndication. We filed the preliminary Registration Statement with the SEC in October and IGT's 2019 bondholder consent was also completed in the same month. Last week, GTECH shareholders approved the cross-border merger of GTECH S.p.A. into Georgia Worldwide Plc, and we executed a new 5-year approx $2.6 billion dollar multicurrency revolving credit facility.

We are in the process of getting consent from bondholders on our 2018/2020 notes: at the early voting deadline, respectively 87% and 91% of the bondholders of the 2018 and 2020 bonds submitted instructions in favor of the consent solicitation; therefore, we look positively to November 24 for final approval by the bondholders meeting. We have also launched a call on our 2016 notes, as a liability management exercise. The recent developments on the financing (consents and RCF) have allowed us to have committed financing in place for approximately 50% of the new entity's pro-forma capital structure after closing.

On the Integration side, we have established a steering committee and program management office. We have identified and launched the 20 critical work streams, and obviously our progress here will be ongoing. Steps to moving closer to the completion of the IGT acquisition are on track.

So, all in all, we are quite pleased with the progress we have made in the quarter both with regards to our operations and to the implementation of our strategy.
