Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure

As disclosed previously in the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q (the "10-Q") filed by United Therapeutics Corporation (the "Company") on July 27, 2017, the Company is engaged in litigation with Watson Laboratories, Inc. ("Watson") based on Watson's Abbreviated New Drug Application seeking approval by the U.S. Food and Drug Administration to market a generic version of Tyvaso® (treprostinil) Inhalation Solution before the expiration of certain of the Company's U.S. patents at various dates from November 2018 through December 2028. This litigation is pending in the U.S. District Court for the District of New Jersey (the "District Court"), and the Company previously disclosed that trial is scheduled for September 2017.

Separately, Watson has filed petitions for inter partes review ("IPR") with the Patent Trial and Appeal Board ("PTAB") of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office, seeking to invalidate the claims of two of the Company's patents that expire in 2028, relate to Tyvaso and are asserted in the District Court case.

On July 27, 2017, the Company filed with the District Court an agreement with Watson to stay the District Court case until the PTAB resolves Watson's petitions for IPR either through declining to institute the IPRs or by issuing a final written decision on the merits of the IPR. The agreement is subject to the District Court's approval. If the District Court approves the agreement, trial may occur in early 2018 if the IPRs are not instituted, and the Company does not expect trial to take place before early 2019 if the IPRs are instituted. The Company does not expect Watson will launch a generic version of Tyvaso during the period that the stay of the District Court case is in effect.

The Company intends to vigorously enforce our intellectual property rights relating to Tyvaso.

For additional information regarding the Company's litigation with Watson, please refer to Note 12 Legal Proceedings to the financial statements contained in the 10-Q.
