Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On February 8, 2013, J. C. Penney Company, Inc. (the “Company”) and its direct wholly-owned subsidiary J. C. Penney Corporation, Inc. (“Corporation”) and indirect wholly-owned subsidiary J. C. Penney Purchasing Corporation (“Purchasing”) (Company, Corporation and Purchasing collectively referred to as the “Loan Parties”) entered into an amendment and restatement agreement (the “Amendment Agreement”) for the purpose of amending and restating its previously amended and restated Credit Agreement dated as of January 27, 2012 among the Loan Parties, the lenders party thereto and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Administrative Agent, and Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as LC Agent (as amended by the First, Second and Third Amendments thereto, the “2012 Credit Agreement,” and as amended and restated by the Amendment Agreement, the “2013 Credit Agreement”).

The 2013 Credit Agreement, which replaces the 2012 Credit Agreement, provides for maximum availability to the Loan Parties of up to $1.85 billion for general corporate purposes, including the issuance of letters of credit. No borrowings have been made under either the 2012 Credit Agreement or the 2013 Credit Agreement. The Company currently has approximately $ 281 million in standby and import letters of credit outstanding under the Credit Agreement, none of which have been drawn upon.

The 2013 Credit Agreement continues to be an asset-based facility, in which borrowing availability varies according to the Loan Parties’ levels of inventory and accounts receivable, and matures on April 29, 2016. The 2013 Credit Agreement increases the letter of credit sublimit to $750 million from $500 million and provides that the Corporation may at any time prior to the maturity date request that the aggregate size of the facility be increased by an additional amount not to exceed $400 million.

In connection with execution of the Amendment Agreement, the Company, Corporation, Purchasing and certain of the Company’s indirect wholly-owned subsidiaries that are not borrowers under the Credit Agreement entered into a Reaffirmation Agreement pursuant to which such parties reaffirmed their guarantee of the obligations of the Loan Parties under the 2013 Credit Agreement and their grant of a security interest in inventory (except for consignment inventory), accounts receivable, and deposit accounts and cash credited thereto of the Loan Parties and those other subsidiary guarantors identified in the Amended and Restated Guarantee and Collateral Agreement dated as of January 27, 2012 among the Company, Corporation, Purchasing, the subsidiaries of Company identified therein, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Administrative Agent.

As with the 2012 Credit Agreement, the 2013 Credit Agreement contains customary representations, warranties and affirmative and negative covenants. There are exceptions to the covenants and some are only applicable when availability falls below certain thresholds. The 2013 Credit Agreement continues to provide for a springing fixed charge coverage ratio covenant when availability falls below a specified threshold. The 2013 Credit Agreement also contains customary events of default for credit facilities of this type. Upon an event of default that is not cured or waived within any applicable cure periods, in addition to other remedies that may be available to the lenders, the obligations of the Loan Parties may be accelerated, outstanding letters of credit may be required to be cash collateralized and remedies may be exercised against the collateral.

Certain of the lenders who are parties to the 2013 Credit Agreement provide commercial banking, investment banking, trustee and custodial services to the Company.

Copies of the Amendment Agreement and the Reaffirmation Agreement are filed herewith as Exhibits 10.1 and 10.2, respectively. The foregoing descriptions of the 2013 Credit Agreement and the Reaffirmation Agreement do not purport to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full texts of the 2013 Credit Agreement and Reaffirmation Agreement which are incorporated herein by reference.
