Alvarion® Appoints Hezi Lapid to Replace Eran Gorev as CEO

Highly-experienced and well-regarded telecom CEO will assume new role on May 6, 2012

Tel Aviv, April 19, 2012 – Alvarion® Ltd. (NASDAQ: ALVR), a provider of optimized wireless broadband solutions addressing the connectivity, coverage and capacity challenges of public and private networks, today announced that Hezi Lapid will become CEO of Alvarion, effective May 6, 2012. He replaces Eran Gorev who decided to leave the company to pursue other interests, having completed the initial phases of a strategic transformation of the company.

“Hezi’s industry experience and proven execution capabilities will be focused on creating value as the immediate goal,” said Amnon Yacoby, Chairman of Alvarion. “The board of directors has a great deal of confidence in Hezi’s ability to accomplish a rapid turnaround in performance. We pledge him our support and wish the entire team great success under his leadership.

“During Eran’s tenure, Alvarion has been transformed from a single-technology company into a provider of multi-technology solutions to various types of wireless broadband networks,” continued Mr. Yacoby. “In addition to placing more focus on select vertical markets, while serving our traditional BWA customers, the company is poised to capitalize on new, rapidly-growing markets for carrier-grade Wi-Fi solutions via the acquisition of Wavion Inc. The board is most grateful to Eran for his dedication, leadership, and tremendous contribution to the company’s progress, and we wish him success in his future endeavors.”
