(Commission File No. 001-32274)

Date: August 12, 2005

On August 12, 2005, the New York Stock Exchange, Inc. (NYSE) issued the following bulletin to its members:

DATE: August 12, 2005
TO: NYSE Members
FROM: Richard P. Bernard

On July 21, we sent to you and filed with the SEC our registration statement on Form S-4 containing a preliminary joint proxy statement/prospectus. The S-4 contains information required by the SEC's disclosure requirements, as well as a great deal of additional information. When updated after SEC review, it will provide Members with the information that they need to vote on the Archipelago merger.

Prior to July 21, meritless and costly litigation had sought to force our premature, selective and piecemeal disclosure of the S-4's information. That litigation would have required fragmented disclosure before your Board of Directors had an opportunity to approve the S-4 and make several key changes and decisions on merger provisions that you told us that you cared about. Fortunately, we avoided that premature and selective disclosure, assuring that all Members received the same information at the same time and within the federally-mandated context. We have also moved to dismiss the litigation. We are supported in our motion by the nearly 400 of you who submitted petitions to the Court explaining that the six plaintiff Members do not represent you.

Nevertheless, in the interim, we are now obliged to produce or make available to the six plaintiff Members several thousand pages of additional documents. While we believe that the S-4 contains all the information that is material to your vote, we will not permit selective disclosure.

Edgar Filing: ARCHIPELAGO HOLDINGS INC - Form 425

Accordingly, we are making these additional documents available to all Members in two ways. We are including as exhibits to this bulletin (which will be available on our website, nyse.com/merger) several additional documents not included among the more than 500 pages of exhibits to the S-4. These documents include, among other things, notes and other materials the Board used in considering the transaction, excerpts of the January and February Board minutes, Board meeting agendas, and examples of spread sheets prepared by the NYSE staff and Goldman Sachs. A complete list of these documents appears at the end of this bulletin. We believe that these documents contain no material information not included in the S-4. Please note that, in a few cases, we have not posted documents because they were prepared for the Exchange by third parties subject to confidentiality provisions or expectations.

We are making available to members for inspection at the Exchange all of the materials not posted on nyse.com/merger. Members who wish to view these documents should contact Mary Yeager, Acting Corporate Secretary, at (212) 656-2062. If you avail yourselves of the opportunity to review these documents, please bear in mind your obligations to your co-Members regarding appropriate use of Exchange documents, and that the law permits you to inspect the Exchange's books and records solely for proper purposes of the Exchange and your interest in the Exchange.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ from those set forth in the forward-looking statements: the ability to obtain governmental approvals of the transaction on the proposed terms and schedule; the failure of the NYSE members or Archipelago shareholders to approve the transaction; the risk that the businesses will not be integrated successfully; the risk that the cost savings and any other synergies from the transaction may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; disruption from the transaction making it more difficult to maintain relationships with customers, employees or suppliers; competition and its effect on pricing, spending, third party relationships and revenues; social and political conditions such as war, political unrest or terrorism; general economic conditions and normal business uncertainty. Additional risks and factors are identified in Archipelago's filings with the Securities Exchange Commission, including its Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ending December 31, 2004 which is available on Archipelago's website at <http://www.Archipelago.com>, and the Registration Statement on Form S-4 filed by NYSE Group, Inc. with the SEC on July 21, 2005.

You should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this bulletin or the date of the documents accompanying this bulletin, as applicable. Except for any obligation to disclose material information under the Federal securities laws, none of the NYSE, Archipelago or the combined company after the completion of the transactions undertake any obligation to release publicly any revisions to any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this bulletin or the date of the documents accompanying this bulletin, as applicable. The documents accompanying this bulletin were not prepared with a view toward public disclosure.

The NYSE, Archipelago, and their respective directors and executive officers and other members of management and employees may be deemed to be participants in the solicitation of proxies from Archipelago stockholders in respect of the proposed transaction. Information regarding Archipelago's directors and executive officers is available in Archipelago's proxy statement for its 2005 annual meeting of stockholders, dated March 31, 2005. Additional information regarding the interests of such potential participants will be included in the joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other relevant documents filed with the SEC when they become available.
