Questions On

Benefits

Q- Are the 401k stock shares (units) going to be under Certegy, or will they now be Fidelity National? If they will be converting to Fidelity National stock, what is the anticipated number of shares that we will be receiving in their stock per units of Certegy stock that we now have?

When will the dividends be distributed? Will the Certegy stock have dividends paid out now, or will they pay dividends after any shares are converted?

A- Certegy shares in the Certegy Stock Fund of the 401(k) Plan will receive the cash dividend in the same manner as any other Certegy shareholder as of the relevant dates. These dividends will be reinvested in additional Certegy shares. Because Fidelity National Information Services, Inc. is merging into a subsidiary of Certegy, the shares held by Certegy shareholders, including those held by the 401(k) Plan, will not be changed by the merger, and the Certegy 401(k) Plan will continue to hold the Certegy shares following the consummation of the merger. The name of the Company will change from Certegy Inc. to Fidelity National Information Services, Inc., and the shares will begin trading on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol FIS.

Cautionary Language Concerning Forward-Looking Statements

Information set forth herein may contain financial estimates and other forward-looking statements that are subject to risks and uncertainties, and actual results might differ materially. Such statements include, but are not limited to, any expectations concerning accretions to earnings, levels of revenue, EBITDA, and other financial results, statements about the benefits of the merger, including future operating results, business synergies, and the plans, objectives, expectations and intentions of the combined companies and other statements that are not historical facts which may be expressed herein. Such statements are based upon the current beliefs and expectations of the management of Certegy and FNF and are subject to significant risks and uncertainties (many of which are difficult to predict) that may cause actual results to differ materially from those set forth in, or implied by, the forward-looking statements.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ from those set forth in the forward-looking statements: the ability to obtain Certegy shareholder approvals of the transaction on the proposed terms and schedule; the risk that the businesses will not be integrated successfully; the risk that the anticipated cost savings and any other synergies from the transaction may not be fully realized or may take longer to realize than expected; disruption from the transaction making it more difficult to maintain relationships with customers, management and key employees or suppliers; diversion of management attention from business operations as a result of time demands attendant to the merger; failure to accurately forecast restructuring charges and allocations or the impact of any equity based compensation expense; competition and its effect on pricing, spending, third-party relationships and revenues. Additional factors that may affect future results are contained Certegy's and FNF's filings with the SEC, including the definitive proxy statement, which are available at the SEC's Web site www.sec.gov.
