Matsushita Electric Announces Annual Management Policy

- Rise to the Challenge! -

Osaka, Japan (January 10, 2007) - Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (Matsushita [NYSE symbol: MC]), best known for its Panasonic brand, today announced its management policy for fiscal year ending March 31, 2008 (fiscal 2008). With the Company's three-year Leap Ahead 21 business plan ending March 31, 2007, President Fumio Ohtsubo revealed a new mid-term business plan to make another leap toward March 2010. Under the plan, Matsushita will enter a new phase for further growth as follows:

1. Reviewing the Leap Ahead 21 Plan

A. Goals aimed under the Leap Ahead 21 plan

Under the plan, to survive the global competition, Matsushita has implemented various initiatives since fiscal 2005. Specifically, the plan aimed to achieve an operating profit to sales ratio of 5% or more and a positive Capital Cost Management (CCM*) index, on a consolidated basis. The Company has made steady progress toward these goals.

*CCM is an indicator created by Matsushita to evaluate return on capital. A positive CCM indicates that the return on invested capital meets the minimum return expected by capital markets.

B. Achievements under the Leap Ahead 21 plan

A lean and agile management style became firmly in place. For example, Matsushita reduced its consolidated total assets by 460 billion yen, from the beginning of the Leap Ahead 21 plan to September 30, 2006, by reducing factory inventories with the introduction of Next Cell Production System, as well as accelerating IT innovation. The Company also implemented Cost Busters Project to reduce costs by about 220 billion yen over the three fiscal years.

To improve its competitiveness, Matsushita endeavored to strengthen products, especially V-products, as strong business pillars and improved its market share.

Collaboration with Matsushita Electric Works, Ltd. (MEW), which became a majority-owned subsidiary in April 2004, created synergies, including development of Collaboration V-products in home appliances and building products. This collaboration contributed to a sales increase of more than 100 billion yen during the two fiscal years.

Under the plan, Matsushita implemented measures to enhance shareholder value, including the ESV (Enhancement of Shareholder Value) Plan, repurchases of its own shares and significant increases in dividends. These measures focused on the interests of shareholders and contributed to enhancing the market capitalization of the Company by about 1.5 trillion yen in the last three years.

Matsushita drove forward various reforms in organization, corporate culture and human resource management. The Company established a new Job Qualification System, the Corporate Diversity Promotion Division and a Skills Evaluation System.

2. Global Excellence Indicators that Matsushita aims to achieve

Matsushita aims for a global excellent company by achieving the following goals:

Sales of 10 trillion yen or more, 60% or more in overseas sales

Operating profit ratio of 10% or more and return on equity (ROE) of 10% or more

Global top share products sales ratio of 30% or more

In addition, it is imperative for the Company to gain a top reputation in terms of corporate social responsibility (CSR) and trusted brand.

3. The GP3 Plan

The new mid-term business plan sets forth milestones and strategies for the Company to enter into its next phase for growth. The plan will guide and challenge the Company so that it becomes the global excellent company that the Matsushita Group aims to be. The three-year business plan to be completed by March 2010 is called the GP3 plan. GP3 stands for (1) Global Progress, evolving through global sales expansion, (2) Global

Profit, enhancing profitability worldwide, (3) Global Panasonic, building globally trusted brand.

Table of Contents

A. Goals of the GP3 plan

Matsushita aims for 10 trillion yen sales and ROE of 10% for fiscal 2010 ending March 31, 2010.

Sales and ROE are two indicators in the GP3 plan to measure the Company's steady growth with profitability. The former indicates growth, and the latter profitability on stockholders' equity.

B. Priority themes of mid-term growth strategies

(1) Double-digit growth in overseas sales

To aim for double-digit growth in overseas sales of consumer products and to significantly boost consolidated overseas sales, the Company will focus on three points: 1) marketing tailored to regional characteristics; 2) improving product competitiveness through collaboration between sales and production divisions; and 3) strengthening its brands based on product competitiveness.

1) Marketing tailored to regional characteristics

North American and European markets: Matsushita aims to achieve a sales increase of 310 billion yen in the three fiscal years. To realize the goal, the Company will continue to focus on the flat-panel TV business as a basis to significantly boost the sales of digital audiovisual (AV) products. It will strengthen its ties with influential local mass retailers and expand its XCS (Extreme Customer Satisfaction) Program implemented in North America. For the Eastern European market, Matsushita will reinforce its marketing structure to increase sales.

China and other Asian countries: A sales increase of 340 billion yen is targeted in the next three fiscal years. Matsushita will actively promote its flat-panel TVs and digital cameras. The region is considered an important market for the white goods and beauty and health-related home appliances.

Emerging markets: Matsushita aims to increase sales of consumer products by 200 billion yen in the next three fiscal years, focusing on priority countries such as BRICs and Vietnam. In Russia, management resources will be concentrated on flat-panel TVs and digital cameras. In Brazil, the Company plans to expand sales of digital AV products with expansion of local production. In India, the Company will mainly focus on flat-panel TVs and air conditioners. In Vietnam, Matsushita will promote marketing tailored to regional characteristics, focused on six major cities.

2) Improving product competitiveness through collaboration between sales and production divisions

To expand its business in the Chinese market, Matsushita will introduce V-products focusing on the daily lives with locally created added value in fiscal 2008. The Company will promote collaboration between sales and production divisions to further reinforce its competitive edge on a global scale.

3) Strengthening brands based on product competitiveness

Matsushita will implement the Global Plasma Caravan, carrying its plasma TVs to 175 major cities in accumulated total in the Americas, Europe and China for the next three fiscal years. The Global Plasma Caravan will provide opportunities for the people to directly experience the high picture quality of plasma TVs.

(2) Four strategic businesses

Matsushita has selected four strategic businesses for its sales growth: digital AV business, automotive electronics business, businesses providing comfortable living, and semiconductors and other devices businesses.

1) Digital AV business

Matsushita considers five product categories as driving force for growth including flat panel TVs, such as plasma TVs and LCD TVs, digital cameras, Blu-ray Disc recorders/drives and high-definition (HD) digital camcorders. The Company plans to increase sales, mainly overseas, by 700 billion yen in the next three fiscal years. The Company has the following targets of global market share of each product category for fiscal 2010:

Flat-panel TVs target of 25% in the 37-inch or larger: Matsushita will enhance the basic performance of its TVs and expand its plasma TVs of 1080p HD lineups with a 42-inch 1080p HD model scheduled to be launched this spring. The Company will also realize an outstanding cost-competitiveness by utilizing its unrivaled efficiency in investment and production.

Digital cameras target of 15%: Matsushita will enhance its lineups including single-lens reflex models (SLR). It will also strengthen in-house manufacturing of relevant key devices.

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

HD camcorders target of 40%: Matsushita will utilize the strength of SD Card camcorders at its core with their light-weight, compactness, sturdiness and excellent picture quality.

Blu-ray Disc recorders/drives target of 35% or more: Matsushita will reinforce its advanced technologies, including H.264 video compression technology, as well as enhancing cost-competitiveness.

2) Automotive electronics business

Matsushita will launch a Group-wide project targeting in excess of 1 trillion yen sales in this area in fiscal 2011. Under the GP3 plan, the Company aims to achieve sales of 950 billion yen in fiscal 2010. With a vision of contributing to the creation of a car society filled with dreams, peace of mind and inspiration, the Company will focus on three areas including comfortable car interior space, environment, and safety and peace of mind.

3) Businesses providing comfortable living

Matsushita plans to achieve sales of 3 trillion yen in this area in fiscal 2010. The Company will establish a project providing comfortable living to implement group-wide strategies by further promoting collaboration with MEW. By maximizing the strength of its products and the synergies created by the combination of these products, Matsushita will offer total solutions for homes and buildings.

4) Semiconductors and other devices businesses

In the next three fiscal years, Matsushita aims to increase sales of 240 billion yen with 120 billion yen in semiconductors business and 120 billion yen in other devices businesses.

The Company will strengthen outside sales of devices by expanding its global customer base and further enhancing its capacity in proposing solutions. For the entire device business, Matsushita aims to increase the percentage of globally leading devices to 50%.

(3) Continuous selection and concentration

Matsushita plans to make a capital investment of 1.5 trillion yen and an R&D investment of 1.8 trillion yen over the next three fiscal years. The investments will be focused on the growing businesses such as flat-panel TVs, the advanced priority themes, and the key devices such as semiconductors.

The Company plans to build the fifth PDP plant in Japan, boasting the world's largest production capacity, with a total investment of 280 billion yen. The plant will have a monthly output capacity of 1 million units (calculated based on 42-inch panels) and is scheduled to commence production in 2009. (See the press release "Panasonic and Toray to Build the World's Largest Plasma TV Plant with a Capacity of One Million Units per Month" announced today.)

Toward realization of a manufacturing-oriented company

Manufacturing relates to an entire process of integrated flow from development through marketing and services.

The concept of a manufacturing-oriented company is to combine this process of manufacturing and all activities of the staff that support the process, toward the launch of products to contribute to the creation of customer value.

Manufacturing Innovation Division (planned to be established on April 1, 2007)

The new division will consist of four working groups of manufacturing, V-products, global marketing and management, aiming to realize overall optimization for the Company with its products at the core.

Introduction of a new performance evaluation

For the acceleration of steady growth with profitability, CCM and free cash flow, the former indicators, will be integrated into CCM, and the sales will be newly added as an indicator of growth. Accordingly, CCM and the sales will be the new indicators of growth.

Aiming at vitalizing the Company

(1) As a public entity

Matsushita's unwavering management philosophy of contributing to society as a public entity has guided its business activities. The Company considers implementing this management philosophy the essence of CSR, which includes promoting environmental management, enforcement of compliance, and strengthening information security, while enhancing transparency of the business, whereby contributing to the society as a whole.

(2) Nurturing corporate culture with diversity

Matsushita will implement the following measures to nurture a corporate culture where employees respect the personality of each individual and develop abilities through competition for excellence. The Company believes that such a culture will encourage employees to activate their potentials to the fullest extent while they work together toward its growth worldwide:

- 1) Further promoting employees based on skills and capabilities, regardless of gender, age or nationality
- 2) Encouraging personnel exchanges beyond the border between countries or business domains
- 3) Building a structure to promote communication worldwide
- 4) Accelerating implementation of Flat & Web, skill evaluation, and e-Work or teleworking system

Disclaimer Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This press release includes forward-looking statements (within the meaning of Section 27A of the U.S. Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the U.S. Securities Exchange Act of 1934) about Matsushita and its Group companies (the Matsushita Group). To the extent that statements in this press release do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Matsushita Group in light of the information currently available to it, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Matsushita Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Matsushita undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this press release. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Matsushita in its subsequent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the United States, Europe, Japan, China and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; currency rate fluctuations, notably between the yen, the U.S. dollar, the euro, the Chinese yuan, Asian currencies and other currencies in which the Matsushita Group operates businesses, or in which assets and liabilities of the Matsushita Group are denominated; the ability of the Matsushita Group to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the ability of the Matsushita Group to achieve its business objectives through joint ventures and other collaborative agreements with other companies; the ability of the Matsushita Group to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; the possibility of incurring expenses resulting from any defects in products or services of the Matsushita Group; the possibility that the Matsushita Group may face intellectual property infringement claims by third parties; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Matsushita Group has holdings or changes in valuation of long-lived assets, including property, plant and equipment and goodwill, and deferred tax assets; future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules; as well as natural disasters including earthquakes and other events that may negatively impact business activities of the Matsushita Group. The factors listed above are not all-inclusive and further information is contained in Matsushita's latest annual report on Form 20-F, which is on file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit (loss) is presented in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles in Japan. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies. Under United States generally accepted accounting principles, expenses associated with the implementation of early retirement programs at certain domestic and overseas companies are usually included as part of operating profit (loss) in the statement of income.

The targets of new mid-term business plan are based on the current business organization and business segments, and the assumptions of management environment are as follows:

- Economic forecast Japan: gradual recovery trend

U.S.: a slight slowdown but steady

Europe: quite favorable

Asia: High growth in China and the Asian economy is steady overall

- Raw materials prices (including oil, metals and plastic materials): No significant change

Panasonic and Toray to Build the World's Largest Plasma TV Plant

with a Capacity of One Million Units per Month

- Commencing operations in May 2009, yielding 10 panels per sheet -

Osaka, Japan (January 10, 2007) Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (Panasonic [NYSE symbol: MC]), best known for its Panasonic brand, and diversified chemical group Toray Industries, Inc. (Toray), today announced plans to build a new plasma display panel (PDP) manufacturing facility in Japan. It will be the fifth PDP plant of their joint venture, Matsushita PDP Company Ltd. (MPDP), enabling Panasonic to further step up its PDP production capacity, making it by far the largest PDP manufacturer in the world.

To leverage concentration of manufacturing facilities to its advantage, MPDP plans to build the new plant in Amagasaki, Japan near the existing fourth plant. The construction is scheduled to start in November 2007 and the first phase of the production in May 2009.

With an investment of approximately 280 billion yen, the fifth plant will have a monthly production capacity of one million units (calculated based on 42-inch panels) - the largest production capacity of PDP in the world. The investment efficiency of the new plant will be five times or greater than that of MPDP's first PDP plant. With its overwhelming production capacity and cost competitiveness, Panasonic will lead the world market of large-screen flat-panel displays.

By introducing the latest facilities as well as MPDP's leading-edge processing technologies and production systems, the new plant will realize as many as ten 42-inch panels, or eight 50-inch panels, from a single sheet of glass, the world's largest number of panels per sheet in PDP production. MPDP will implement a comprehensive production management scheme to cover all its factories to realize speedier and more flexible supply of the products. With the new plant, MPDP will further strengthen its supply system to meet an ever-increasing demand in the global market.

Panasonic forecasts that with the rapid increase of the demand for flat-panel TVs due to the global digitalization of TV broadcasts, 65% of the 200 million world aggregate demand for TVs will be for flat-panel TVs in 2010. Panasonic also forecasts that the demand for larger-screen TVs will increase rapidly with the expansion of contents with high picture quality and creation of smaller footprint flat-panel TVs, leading to over 30% of the world aggregate demand for TVs occupied by the 37-inch or larger flat-panel TVs in 2010. Further increase of the demand is expected in China and other BRICs countries where infrastructure for digital TV broadcasts will be developed, as well as in the biggest TV markets such as the U.S. and Europe.

The demand for PDPs with extended lifetime, energy-efficiency and high picture quality has also been increasing rapidly for business-use as multipurpose display for business, educational and medical applications as well as for home-use.

As Panasonic anticipates that the world PDP market will grow to 30 million units in 2010 because of the superiority of PDP TVs to other flat-panel TVs in terms of production and cost efficiency as well as picture quality, Panasonic has decided to further expand its production capacity of PDP panels.

By positioning PDPs as one of their core businesses, Panasonic and Toray are committed to running MPDP jointly and making a significant contribution to the progress of the industry of new audiovisual equipment on a global scale.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF FINANCIAL RESULTS

(Note: Dollar amounts for the most recent period have been translated for convenience at the rate of U.S.$1.00 = 119 yen.)

MATSUSHITA REPORTS THIRD QUARTER NET PROFIT INCREASE

- Full-year Forecast Revised Upward on Strong Third Quarter Results -

Osaka, Japan, February 1, 2007 Matsushita Electric Industrial Co., Ltd. (Matsushita [NYSE symbol: MC]) today reported its consolidated financial results for the third quarter and the nine months, ended December 31, 2006, of the current fiscal year, ending March 31, 2007 (fiscal 2007).

Consolidated Third-quarter Results

Consolidated group sales for the third quarter increased 2% to 2,436.8 billion yen (U.S.$20.48 billion), from 2,398.4 billion yen in the same three-month period a year ago. Explaining the third quarter results, the company cited sales gains in digital audiovisual (AV) products. Of the consolidated group total, domestic sales increased 3% to 1,214.5 billion yen ($10.21 billion), from 1,181.6 billion yen a year ago. Overseas sales amounted to 1,222.3 billion yen ($10.27 billion), mostly unchanged from 1,216.8 billion yen in the third quarter of fiscal 2006.

During the third quarter, the U.S. economy remained steady with strong consumer spending. The Chinese economy maintained high-growth and the European economy continued a recovery trend. The Japanese economy, despite sluggish consumer spending, continued steady growth with strong export. Thus, the global economic situation was steady overall. However, the future economic conditions still remain uncertain, due primarily to possible adverse effects from weaker housing investment on individual spending in the U.S., and the concerns about a backlash to the current economic boom in China. Meanwhile, in the electronics industry, a severe business environment continued, due primarily to price declines mainly in digital AV products caused by intensified global competition. Under these circumstances, Matsushita is implementing growth strategies and strengthening management structures to ensure steady growth with profitability.

As part of such efforts, the company aggressively launched and promoted a new series of V-products to capture leading market shares and make a significant contribution to overall business results. Aiming to reinforce its management structures, the company has made all-out efforts to reduce raw materials costs and eliminate redundancies throughout the Matsushita Group.

Regarding earnings, operating profit¹ for the third quarter was up 5%, to 135.8 billion yen ($1.14 billion), from 129.4 billion yen in the same period a year ago, despite the effects from increased raw materials costs and intensified global price competition. This improvement was due primarily to companywide cost reduction efforts and a weaker yen. Pre-tax income totaled 144.4 billion yen ($1.21 billion), up 15% from 126.1 billion yen in the previous year, due mainly to a decrease in expenses associated with the implementation of early retirement programs. Net income also increased 60% to 78.7 billion yen ($661 million), from 49.3 billion yen in the same quarter of the previous year. The company's net income per common share was 36.13 yen ($0.30) on a diluted basis, versus 22.29 yen on the same period a year ago.

Consolidated Nine-month Results

Consolidated group sales for the nine months ended December 31, 2006 increased 3% to 6,826.3 billion yen ($57.36 billion), compared with 6,657.6 billion yen in the same nine-month period a year ago. Explaining the nine-month results, the company cited sales gains in digital AV products, such as flat-panel TVs. Domestic sales amounted to 3,394.6 billion yen ($28.52 billion), up 1% from a year ago, while overseas sales increased 4% to 3,431.7 billion yen ($28.84 billion) from the previous year's nine months.

For reasons similar to those given for third quarter results, the company's operating profit for the nine months increased 14% to 343.2 billion yen ($2.88 billion), from 300.5 billion yen in the comparable period a year ago. Pre-tax income for the nine-month period increased 34% to 376.9 billion yen ($3.17 billion), compared with 280.2 billion yen a year ago. In other income (deductions), the company recorded proceeds from tangible fixed assets and gains on the sale of investments, and incurred less expenses associated with the implementation of early retirement programs, compared with the previous year's nine months. Net income was also up 70% to 193.8 billion yen ($1.63 billion), as compared with 113.7 billion yen in the nine months of the previous year. The company's net income per common share was 88.44 yen ($0.74) on a diluted basis, versus 51.05 yen on the same period a year ago.

Consolidated Third-quarter Sales Breakdown by Product Category

The company's third-quarter consolidated sales by product category, as compared with prior year amounts, are summarized as follows:

AVC Networks

AVC Networks sales increased 2% to 1,069.3 billion yen ($8.99 billion), from 1,049.1 billion yen in last year's third-quarter. Sales of video and audio equipment increased 4% from the previous year's third-quarter, due mainly to favorable sales in digital AV products such as flat-panel TVs and digital cameras.

In information and communications equipment, despite sales downturns of mobile phones, sales gains were recorded mainly in automotive electronics, thereby the overall sales remained almost unchanged from a year ago.

Home Appliances

Sales of Home Appliances increased 1% to 314.8 billion yen ($2.64 billion), compared with 311.3 billion yen in last year's third-quarter, due mainly to favorable sales of air conditioners and compressors.

Components and Devices

Sales of Components and Devices were also up 2% to 294.0 billion yen ($2.47 billion), compared with 286.9 billion yen in the same period of the previous year, due mainly to favorable sales in general electronic components.

MEW and PanaHome

Sales of MEW and PanaHome increased 11% to 428.1 billion yen ($3.60 billion), from 387.3 billion yen a year ago. At Matsushita Electric Works, Ltd. (MEW) and its subsidiaries, sales gains were recorded in electrical construction materials and electronic and plastic materials. At PanaHome Corporation, sales of detached housing and rental apartment housing were favorable, contributing to overall increased sales.

JVC

Sales for JVC (Victor Company of Japan, Ltd. and its subsidiaries) totaled 176.3 billion yen ($1.48 billion), down 17% from 211.8 billion yen in the third-quarter of the previous year. This result was due primarily to sluggish sales of AV equipment.

Other

Sales for Other totaled 154.3 billion yen ($1.30 billion), up 1% from 152.0 billion yen in the same period a year ago.

Consolidated Financial Condition

Net cash provided by operating activities in the fiscal 2007 third quarter amounted to 129.6 billion yen ($1.09 billion). This was attributable to cash inflows from net income and depreciation. Net cash used in investing activities amounted to 180.7 billion yen ($1.52 billion). Capital expenditures for tangible fixed assets were 113.5 billion yen ($0.95 billion), mainly consisting of manufacturing facilities for priority business areas such as plasma display panels (PDPs) and semiconductors, while time deposits increased 64.9 billion yen ($0.55 billion) from the end of fiscal 2007 first half (September 30, 2006). Net cash used in financing activities was 112.7 billion yen ($0.95 billion). Major factors included the repurchase of the company's common stock and the payment of cash dividends. All these activities resulted in cash and cash equivalents of 1,265.9 billion yen ($10.64 billion) at the end of December 2006, down 141.8 billion yen from the end of the first fiscal half.

The company's consolidated total assets as of December 31, 2006 increased by 96.3 billion yen as compared with the end of the first fiscal half, to 8,088.3 billion yen ($67.97 billion). This was due mainly to an increase in trade receivables caused by seasonal factors such as year-end sales and an increase of market value in investments. Stockholders' equity increased 57.1 billion yen, as compared with the end of the first fiscal half, to 3,913.4 billion yen ($32.89 billion) as of December 31, 2006. This was due primarily to increases in retained earnings and accumulated other comprehensive income as a result of increased market value of available-for-sale securities and a weaker yen, despite an increase in treasury stock on continued repurchases of the company's own shares.

Outlook for the Full Fiscal Year 2007, ending March 31, 2007

Regarding the outlook for the full fiscal year 2007, considering the current financial results, Matsushita today announced an upward revision of the forecast announced on April 28, 2006. Regarding net sales on a consolidated basis, Matsushita revised its previous forecast of 8,950 billion yen upward to 9,000 billion yen. The reasons given for the upward revision include favorable sales of V-products and a weaker yen, sufficient to offset sales downturns in mobile phones. Operating profit is now expected to remain unchanged, from the previous forecast of 450 billion yen. Despite negative factors such as increasing raw materials costs and ever-intensifying price competition, the rationalization efforts in materials costs and other cost reduction activities could offset those negative effects. Regarding consolidated income before income taxes², Matsushita has revised its forecast upward from the previously announced 400 billion yen to 430 billion yen, as a result of a decrease in restructuring expenses, as well as gains from the sale of tangible fixed assets and investments. Net income is now expected to increase from the previous forecast of 190 billion yen to 205 billion yen as a result of increased pre-tax income.

² Other income (deductions) affecting the forecast for income before income taxes is expected to amount to a loss of 20 billion yen, including business restructuring charges of 25 billion yen.

Notes to consolidated financial statements:

1. The company's consolidated financial statements are prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles (U.S. GAAP).
2. In order to be consistent with generally accepted financial reporting practices in Japan, operating profit is presented as net sales less cost of sales and selling, general and administrative expenses. The company believes that this is useful to investors in comparing the company's financial results with those of other Japanese companies. Please refer to the accompanying consolidated statement of income and Note 5 for U.S. GAAP reconciliation.
3. On April 1, 2005, Matsushita sold approximately 2,707 thousand shares of Matsushita Leasing & Credit Co., Ltd. (MLC) to The Sumitomo Trust & Banking Co., Ltd. (STB) for cash proceeds of 27,756 million yen, and recorded a gain of 10,313 million yen, pursuant to a basic agreement regarding the equity ownership of MLC concluded between the company and STB. As a result of the sale, Matsushita now owns 34% of MLC's total issued shares. MLC (renamed Sumishin Matsushita Financial Services Co., Ltd. on May 1, 2005) was changed from a consolidated subsidiary to an equity method investee of Matsushita as of April 1, 2005.
4. Comprehensive income was reported as a gain of 140,831 million yen ($1,183 million) for the third quarter ended December 31, 2006, and a gain of 169,527 million yen for the third quarter ended December 31, 2005. Comprehensive income was a gain of 272,977 million yen ($2,294 million) for the nine months ended December 31, 2006, and a gain of 340,456 million yen for the nine months a year ago. Comprehensive income includes net income and increases (decreases) in cumulative translation adjustments, unrealized holding gains of available-for-sale securities, unrealized gains (losses) of certain derivative instruments and minimum pension liability adjustments.
5. Under U.S. GAAP, expenses associated with the implementation of early retirement programs at certain domestic and overseas companies are included as part of operating profit in the statement of income.
6. Regarding consolidated segment profit, expenses for basic research and administrative expenses at the corporate headquarters level are treated as unallocatable expenses for each business segment, and are included in Corporate and eliminations.
7. The company's business segments are classified according to a business domain-based management system, which focuses on global consolidated management by each business domain, in order to ensure consistency of its internal management structure and disclosure.

To the extent that statements in this document do not relate to historical or current facts, they constitute forward-looking statements. These forward-looking statements are based on the current assumptions and beliefs of the Matsushita Group in light of the information currently available to it, and involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors. Such risks, uncertainties and other factors may cause the Matsushita Group's actual results, performance, achievements or financial position to be materially different from any future results, performance, achievements or financial position expressed or implied by these forward-looking statements. Matsushita undertakes no obligation to publicly update any forward-looking statements after the date of this document. Investors are advised to consult any further disclosures by Matsushita in its subsequent filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

Edgar Filing: MATSUSHITA ELECTRIC INDUSTRIAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

The risks, uncertainties and other factors referred to above include, but are not limited to, economic conditions, particularly consumer spending and corporate capital expenditures in the United States, Europe, Japan, China and other Asian countries; volatility in demand for electronic equipment and components from business and industrial customers, as well as consumers in many product and geographical markets; currency rate fluctuations, notably between the yen, the U.S. dollar, the euro, the Chinese yuan, Asian currencies and other currencies in which the Matsushita Group operates businesses, or in which assets and liabilities of the Matsushita Group are denominated; the ability of the Matsushita Group to respond to rapid technological changes and changing consumer preferences with timely and cost-effective introductions of new products in markets that are highly competitive in terms of both price and technology; the ability of the Matsushita Group to achieve its business objectives through joint ventures and other collaborative agreements with other companies; the ability of the Matsushita Group to maintain competitive strength in many product and geographical areas; the possibility of incurring expenses resulting from any defects in products or services of the Matsushita Group; the possibility that the Matsushita Group may face intellectual property infringement claims by third parties; current and potential, direct and indirect restrictions imposed by other countries over trade, manufacturing, labor and operations; fluctuations in market prices of securities and other assets in which the Matsushita Group has holdings or changes in valuation of long-lived assets, including property, plant and equipment and goodwill, and deferred tax assets; future changes or revisions to accounting policies or accounting rules; as well as natural disasters including earthquakes and other events that may negatively impact business activities of the Matsushita Group. The factors listed above are not all-inclusive and further information is contained in Matsushita's latest annual report on Form 20-F, which is on file with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.
