How to Vote

If your shares of Apache common stock are held by a broker, bank or other nominee (in street name), you will receive instructions from them on how to vote your shares. If your shares are held by a broker and you do not give the broker specific instructions on how to vote your shares, your broker may vote your shares at its discretion on routine matters to be acted upon at the annual meeting. However, your shares will not be voted on any of the non-routine matters described below. An absence of voting instructions on any non-routine matters will result in a broker non-vote.

The only routine matter to be acted upon at the annual meeting is Item 4 ratification of appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as the Company's independent auditors. All other matters to be acted upon at the annual meeting are non-routine matters and, as such, if you hold all or any portion of your shares in street name and you do not give your broker or bank specific instructions on how to vote your shares, your shares will not be voted on any of the following non-routine matters:

Items 1-3 the election of directors;

When using internet/mobile or telephone voting, the voting systems will verify that you are a shareholder through the use of a company number for Apache and a unique control number for you. If you vote by internet/mobile or telephone, please do not also mail the enclosed proxy card.

Whichever method you use to transmit your instructions, your shares of Apache common stock will be voted as you direct. DIRECTOR INDEPENDENCE

During 2013 and the first two months of 2014, the Board of Directors evaluated all business and charitable relationships between the Company and the Company's non-employee directors (all directors other than Mr. Farris) and all other relevant facts and circumstances. As a result of the evaluation, the Board of Directors determined, as required by the Company's Governance Principles, that each non-employee director is an independent director as defined by the standards for director independence established by applicable laws, rules, and listing standards including, without limitation, the standards for independent directors established by The New York Stock Exchange, Inc. ( NYSE ), The NASDAQ National Market ( NASDAQ ), and the Securities and Exchange Commission ( SEC ). The Company's Governance Principles are available on the Company's website (www.apachecorp.com).

Subject to some exceptions, these standards generally provide that a non-employee director will not be independent if (a) the director is, or in the past three years has been, an employee of the Company; (b) the director or a member of the director's immediate family is, or in the past three years has been, an executive officer of the Company; (c) the director or a member of the director's immediate family has received more than $120,000 per year in direct compensation from the Company (other than for service as a director or for the immediate family member, as a non-executive employee); (d) the director is an employee of or the director or a member of the director's immediate family is employed as a partner of Ernst & Young LLP, the Company's independent registered public accountants, or the director has an immediate family member who is a current employee of such firm and works in any capacity on the Company's audit, or the director or an immediate family member was within the last three years a partner or employee of such firm and personally worked on the Company's audit within that time; (e) the director or a member of the director's immediate family is, or in the past three years has been, employed as an executive officer of a company where an Apache executive officer serves on the compensation committee; or (f) the director or a member of the director's immediate family is an executive officer of a company that makes payments to, or receives payments from, Apache in an amount which, in any twelve-month period during the past three years, exceeds the greater of $200,000 or two percent of the consolidated gross revenues of the company receiving the payment.

Lead Director

The Company's Governance Principles require that the independent (non-employee) directors meet in executive session at least twice each year and, in 2013, they met five times in executive session. These executive sessions are chaired by a lead director. Pursuant to the Company's Governance Principles, the lead director is an independent director who is elected from time to time, but not less than annually, by the affirmative vote of a majority of the non-management directors. In addition to chairing the executive sessions, the lead director discusses management's proposed meeting agenda with the other independent directors and reviews the approved meeting agenda with our chairman and chief executive officer, leads the discussion with our chief executive officer following the independent directors' executive sessions, ensures that the Board's individual group, and committee self-assessments are done annually, leads periodic discussions with other Board members and management concerning the Board's information needs, and is available for discussions with major shareholders. Randolph M. Ferlic served as lead director from February 2011 until February 2013. Effective February 2013, Charles J. Pitman was elected as the Company's lead director and effective February 2014, Mr. Pitman was re-elected as lead director. The role and responsibilities of the lead director and the method established for communication of concerns to the independent directors are included in the Company's Governance Principles.

Table of Contents

Reporting of Concerns to Independent Directors

Anyone who has concerns about the Company may communicate those concerns to the independent directors. Such communication should be mailed to the Company's corporate secretary at 2000 Post Oak Boulevard, Suite 100, Houston, Texas 77056-4400, who will forward such communications to the independent directors.

Board Leadership Structure and Risk Oversight

Board Leadership Structure

Throughout much of Apache's history, the Company has ascribed to the traditional U.S. board leadership structure, under which our chief executive officer has also served as the chairman of our Board of Directors. From 1969 until 2002, both of these positions were held by our founder, Mr. Raymond Plank. However, upon Mr. Raymond Plank's retirement as chief executive officer of the Company in 2002, Mr. Farris was appointed as the Company's chief executive officer and Mr. Raymond Plank remained as the Company's chairman of the board. Upon Mr. Plank's retirement as chairman of the board in January 2009, Mr. Farris was appointed the Company's chairman of the board, once again unifying the roles of chairman and chief executive officer. As Apache's history demonstrates, we believe it is important to maintain the flexibility to have either a combined or a separated chair and chief executive officer structure as circumstances dictate. Each structure has served us well in the past. Currently, we believe that the efficiencies created by a combined position work best, especially when viewed in conjunction with our lead director, elected annually by our independent directors, assuring strong board leadership. In particular, this structure helps to ensure clarity regarding leadership of the Company, allows the Company to speak with one voice and provides for efficient coordination of board action, particularly in the event of crisis. The combination of the chairman's ability to call board meetings with the chief executive officer's intimate knowledge of our business, including our risk management framework, provides a strong structure for the efficient operation of our board process and effective leadership of our Board overall. This structure avoids potential confusion as to leadership roles and duplication of efforts that can result from the roles being separated. It also assists our chairman and chief executive officer in managing the Company and dealing with third parties more effectively on a day-to-day basis. Our Board regularly reviews all the aspects of our governance profile, including this one, and will make changes as circumstances warrant. This is the model that the Company has utilized for much of its history, and we believe that it is the most effective way to lead the Company going forward.

Risk Oversight

The goal of the Company's risk management process is to understand and manage risk; management is responsible for identifying and managing the risks, while directors provide oversight to management in this process. Management identifies the significant risks facing the Company and the approaches to mitigate such risk. The Company's Governance Principles state that in addition to its general oversight of management, the Board of Directors is responsible for a number of specific functions, including assessing major risks facing the Company and reviewing options for their mitigation.

Our Board of Directors has four standing independent committees: Audit, Corporate Governance and Nominating, Management Development and Compensation, and Stock Plan. The Executive Committee was eliminated by the Board of Directors in May 2013. Our Audit Committee is primarily responsible for overseeing the Company's risk management processes on behalf of the Board. The Audit Committee charter provides that the Audit Committee should discuss and consider the process by which senior management of the Company and the relevant departments assess and manage the Company's exposure to risk, and discuss the Company's major financial risk exposure and the steps management has taken to monitor, control, and report such exposures. In addition, the Audit Committee reports to the Board of Directors, which also considers the Company's risk profile. The Audit Committee and the Board of Directors obtain input from management regarding the most significant risks facing the Company and the Company's risk management strategy. The Audit Committee and the Board ensure that the risks undertaken are consistent with the Board's tolerance for risk. While the Board is responsible for setting, monitoring and maintaining the Company's risk management policies and practices, the Company's executive officers and members of our management team are responsible for implementing and overseeing our day-to-day risk management processes. Additionally, the Board has created a Corporate Risk Committee composed of members of our management team. The Corporate Risk Committee monitors and manages risks and is tasked with, among other things, ensuring sound policies, procedures, and practices are in place to address corporate-wide management of risks. The Company believes that this division of responsibility is the most effective way to monitor and control risk.

In addition to the oversight provided by our full Board of Directors, Audit Committee, executive officers and the members of our management team, including our Corporate Risk Committee, our independent (non-employee) directors hold regularly scheduled executive sessions as often as they deem appropriate, but in any event at least twice each year. These executive sessions are chaired by our lead director, and provide an additional avenue through which we monitor the Company's risk exposure and policies regarding risk management.

For risk considerations in our compensation programs, please read the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section included in this proxy statement.

CRITERIA FOR NEW BOARD MEMBERS

AND RE-ELECTION OF BOARD MEMBERS

The CG&N Committee considers the following criteria in recommending new nominees or the re-election of directors to the Company's Board of Directors and its committees:

Expertise and perspective needed to govern the business and strengthen and support senior management for example: strong financial expertise, knowledge of international operations, or knowledge of the petroleum industry and/or related industries.

Sound business judgment and a sufficiently broad perspective to make meaningful contributions.

Interest and enthusiasm in the Company and a commitment to become involved in its future.

The time and energy to meet Board of Directors commitments.

Ability to constructively participate in discussions, with the capacity to quickly understand and evaluate complex and diverse issues.

Dedication to the highest ethical standards.

Supportive of management, but independent, objective, and willing to question and challenge both openly and in private exchanges.

An awareness of the dynamics of change and a willingness to anticipate and explore opportunities.

All decisions to recommend the nomination of a new nominee for election to the Board of Directors or for the re-election of a director are within the sole discretion of the CG&N Committee.

All director candidates are evaluated, and the decision of whether or not to nominate a particular candidate is made, based solely on Company- and work-related factors and not with regard to a candidate's or director's inclusion in any protected class or group identified in the Company's anti-discrimination policy.

The above criteria and guidelines, together with the section of the Company's Governance Principles entitled "Qualifications of Board Members" constitute the policy of the CG&N Committee regarding the recommendation of new nominees or the re-election of directors to the Company's Board of Directors or its committees. The Company's Governance Principles are available on the Company's website (www.apachecorp.com).

Diversity

Company policy precludes directors and employees from discriminating against any protected group. Company policy also precludes directors and employees from basing work-related decisions on anything other than work-relevant criteria. The Company's approach to diversity complements these policies without conflicting with them. Our status as a global company makes the need for board diversity in all its aspects essential to our business. Our criteria for board selection, summarized in this section, operates as our diversity policy.

REPORT OF THE AUDIT COMMITTEE

The following report of the Audit Committee of the Company shall not be deemed to be soliciting material or to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, nor shall this report be incorporated by reference into any filing made by the Company under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Audit Committee is operated under a charter that specifies the scope of the Committee's responsibilities. The charter, which is reviewed annually and available on the Company's website (www.apachecorp.com), was last amended effective May 16, 2013.

The Board of Directors has determined that all four members of the Committee are independent based upon the standards adopted by the Board, which incorporate the independence requirements under applicable laws, rules and regulations, including the listing standards of the New York Stock Exchange and the NASDAQ National Market and Rule 10A-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended.

The Company's management has the primary responsibility for preparing the Company's financial statements, managing the accounting and financial reporting processes, devising and maintaining the systems of internal controls over financial reporting, and assessing the effectiveness of internal controls over financial reporting. Ernst & Young LLP, Apache's independent registered public accounting firm (the independent auditors), is responsible for the integrated audit of the consolidated financial statements and auditing the Company's internal controls over financial reporting. The Committee's responsibility is to monitor and oversee these processes and procedures on behalf of the Board of Directors.

The Audit Committee held ten meetings during fiscal year 2013, including the five in-person meetings referenced below. The meetings of the Audit Committee are designed to facilitate and encourage communication among the Audit Committee, the Company, the Company's internal audit function, and the Company's independent auditors. Meeting agendas are set based upon the Audit Committee Charter and also include suggested topics from committee members and/or other relevant topics. At four of the five Audit Committee meetings held in person during 2013, the Committee met with the internal auditors and the independent auditors, with and without management present, to discuss the results of their examinations, their evaluations of the Company's internal controls, including internal controls over financial reporting, and the overall quality of the Company's financial reporting.

The Committee is responsible for oversight of the qualifications, performance, and independence of the Company's independent auditors and annually determines whether to retain the Company's current independent auditors or retain another auditor. In doing so, the Audit Committee takes into consideration a number of factors, including the historical and recent performance of the independent auditors and lead partner, its global capabilities, its knowledge of the Company's operations and industry, external data relating to audit quality and performance, including recent Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) (PCAOB) reports, and independence. The Audit Committee recognizes the importance of maintaining the independence of the Company's independent auditors, in both fact and appearance.

The Audit Committee discussed with the Company's internal auditors and the independent auditors the overall scope and plans for their respective audits. In addition, the Audit Committee reviewed with the independent auditors, which is responsible for expressing an opinion on the conformity of the Company's audited consolidated financial statements with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, its judgments as to the quality, not just the acceptability, of the Company's accounting principles and such other matters as are required to be discussed with the Audit Committee by the standards of the PCAOB, including PCAOB Auditing Standard No. 16, Communications With Audit Committees, the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and other applicable regulations. In addition, the Audit Committee has discussed with the independent auditors the firm's independence from Company management and the Company, including the matters in the letter from the firm required by PCAOB Rule 3526, Communication with Audit Committees Concerning Independence, and considered the compatibility of non-audit services with the independent auditors' independence.

The Audit Committee also reviewed and discussed together with management, the internal auditors, and the independent auditors the Company's audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013, including the clarity of disclosures in the financial statements, the results of management's assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal controls over financial reporting, and the independent auditors' audit of the Company's internal controls over financial reporting.

In reliance on the reviews and discussions referred to above, the Audit Committee recommended to the Board of Directors, and the Board of Directors has approved, that the audited consolidated financial statements and management's assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal controls over financial reporting be included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2013, filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

Non-Employee Directors Cash Compensation

During 2013, under the terms of the non-employee directors' compensation plan, each non-employee director received an annual cash retainer of $150,000 (with no separate meeting attendance fees and no retainers payable in shares), and the chairman of each committee received an additional annual cash retainer of $15,000 for chairing that committee.

During 2013, under the terms of the Company's non-employee directors' compensation plan, non-employee directors could defer receipt of all or any portion of their cash retainers. Deferred cash amounts accrue interest equal to the Company's rate of return on its short-term marketable securities. Once each year, participating directors may elect to transfer all or a portion of their deferred cash amounts into the form of shares of Apache common stock. After such election, amounts deferred in the form of Apache common stock accrue dividends as if the stock were issued and outstanding when such dividends were payable. All deferred amounts, as well as accrued interest and dividends, are maintained in a separate memorandum account for each participating non-employee director. Amounts are paid out in cash and/or shares of Apache common stock, as applicable, upon the non-employee director's retirement or other termination of his or her directorship, or on a specific date, in a lump sum or in annual installments over a ten-year (or shorter) period. During 2013, one non-employee director deferred all of his cash retainer fees and one non-employee director deferred a portion of his cash retainer fees.

Non-Employee Directors Restricted Stock Units Program

In May 2011, the Company established the Non-Employee Directors' Restricted Stock Units Program (the RSU Program), pursuant to the Company's 2011 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan. During 2013, all non-employee directors were eligible to receive grants of restricted stock units the number of which was calculated by dividing $150,000 by the fair market value of a share of Apache common stock on the date of grant. In May 2013, the Board determined that the amount used to calculate the number of restricted stock units granted in 2013 would be reduced to $150,000 from $200,000 in 2012.

On August 15, 2013, each non-employee director was awarded 1,868 restricted stock units under the RSU Program, with a grant date fair value of $149,944. Half of the restricted stock units vest thirty days after the grant and the other half vest on the one-year anniversary date of the grant. Each restricted stock unit is equivalent to one share of common stock. Except as noted below, any unvested restricted stock units are forfeited at the time the non-employee director ceases to be a member of the Board of Directors. The unvested portion of any award automatically vests upon death or termination without cause (including retirement). Non-employee directors are required to choose, at the time of each award, whether such award will vest as 100 percent common stock or a combination of 40 percent cash and 60 percent common stock. Effective with the 2012 award, non-employee directors no longer receive dividend equivalents on the unvested portions of their restricted stock unit awards.

Prior Plan for Directors Equity Compensation

The equity compensation plan for non-employee directors, originally established in February 1994, was terminated in January 2007. The original expiration date for this plan was July 1, 2009, with a maximum of 50,000 shares of common stock (115,500 shares after adjustment for the stock dividends and stock split) for awards granted during the term of the plan. However, in February 2007, the plan was amended to provide that no new awards would be granted subsequent to January 1, 2007, and no awards have been made since that date. The plan continues in existence solely for the purpose of governing still-outstanding awards made prior to January 1, 2007.

Under the plan, each non-employee director was awarded 1,000 restricted shares of the Company's common stock every five years from July 1, 1994 through July 1, 2000, with the shares vesting at a rate of 200 shares annually. On May 3, 2001, the plan was amended to provide that on July 1, 2001 and on July 1 of each third year thereafter, each non-employee director was awarded 1,000 restricted shares of common stock, with one-third of the shares vesting annually. On February 5, 2004, the plan was amended to adjust the awards to 2,310 restricted shares of common stock (1,000 shares adjusted for the stock dividends and stock split) for any awards made on July 1, 2004 and thereafter.

Awards were made from shares of common stock held in the Company's treasury and were automatic and non-discretionary. All shares awarded under the plan have vested, have full dividend and voting rights, and are not eligible for sale while the non-employee director is still serving as a member of the Board.

Outside Directors Retirement Plan

An unfunded retirement plan for non-employee directors was established in December 1992, and amended most recently in July 2011. The plan is administered by the MD&C Committee and generally pays an annual benefit equal to 100 percent of the retired director's annual cash retainer for a period based on length of service. Payments are made either (i) on a quarterly basis, for a maximum of ten years, or (ii) in a single lump sum equal to the net present value of the quarterly payments to which the director is entitled, and are paid from the general assets of the Company. In the event of the director's death prior to receipt of all benefits payable under the plan, the remaining benefits are payable to the director's surviving spouse or designated beneficiary until the earlier of the termination of the payment period or the death of the surviving spouse or designated beneficiary. During 2013, benefits were paid under this plan to four former directors who retired or resigned from the Company's Board of Directors in 2012 or 2013.

Annual Review of Director Compensation

In our annual review of director compensation, the Board determined that the aggregate compensation paid to the Company's directors for 2012 was slightly below the 50th percentile of the Compensation Peer Group (as defined in the Compensation Discussion and Analysis section). As discussed above, during 2013, the Board made a change to our non-employee director compensation to reduce the amount of the 2013 grant under the RSU Program to $150,000 from $200,000. As a result of this change, the benchmarking analysis provided to the Board for 2013 indicated that the average director compensation was the lowest of our Compensation Peer Group at that time.

Share Ownership Requirement

The Company has a minimum share ownership requirement for non-employee directors. Within three years of joining the Board of Directors, each non-employee director is required to directly own shares and/or share equivalents totaling at least 7,000 shares of the Company's common stock. See beneficial ownership information under the heading "Securities Ownership and Principal Holders" below.

Pledging and Hedging Policies

The Company has a pledging policy that prohibits non-employee directors and executive officers from holding Apache securities in a margin account or pledging any Apache securities as collateral for a loan. During 2013, the Company also adopted a hedging policy that prohibits non-employee directors and executive officers from entering into any hedge, or other transaction (such as puts, calls, options, or other derivative securities), in Apache securities that has the effect of limiting the risk of ownership of Apache common stock or stock options. As of the date of this proxy statement, each non-employee director was in compliance with the Company's pledging and hedging policies.

CD&A HIGHLIGHTS 2013: A YEAR OF SIGNIFICANT CHANGE

Our compensation decisions for 2013 had a complex backdrop. The year 2013 was strategically transformative for Apache. We accomplished key strategic objectives by divesting more than $7 billion of assets and using the proceeds to pay down debt and repurchase Apache common shares, while simultaneously reporting impressive operational performance results, particularly in our North American resource plays. We believe these moves have set the stage for a successful future, but despite these accomplishments, our stock price has not yet seen the impact of these efforts.

At the same time, we failed our annual say-on-pay vote in 2013, receiving slightly less than majority support. This disappointing result was a clear signal to the Board that our compensation programs required a thorough review, and our actions in this arena have also been transformative.

Key Compensation and Governance Actions

Leading up to our 2013 annual meeting, we engaged with many of our largest shareholders and heard their concerns regarding our compensation program. Before last year's vote was tallied, we:

Following the 2013 annual meeting, we conducted extensive shareholder engagement. Independent Board members met one-on-one with virtually all of our larger shareholders, representing almost 60 percent of our outstanding shares, and listened to their concerns about compensation and governance. This input contributed to these decisions:

The year-over-year changes in our CEO s reported total compensation demonstrate some of the effects of our compensation actions, which reduced our CEO s total compensation by 34.3%:

In 2013 our independent directors had 47 meetings with shareholders, including virtually all of our larger shareholders. Almost all of these meetings were one-on-one meetings held in our shareholders' offices country-wide. The shareholders with whom we met represented nearly 60 percent of our outstanding shares. We also met with two different proxy advisory firms. Our senior vice president for policy and governance held an additional 38 meetings with many of our other shareholders both in the U.S. and abroad. Senior management continually received input in the normal course of meetings with our shareholders. The feedback we received from our shareholders was very informative and incisive and significantly impacted the compensation and governance actions that we have recently taken. The following chart summarizes our responses to key compensation concerns specifically raised to us by our shareholders during this engagement process:

Our programs also continue to have many other features that our shareholders widely consider best practices and that we view as consistent with our compensation and governance philosophy, including:

2013 Strategic Corporate Achievements

At the end of 2012 and the beginning of 2013, we undertook a strategic review of our portfolio with the goal of rationalizing our assets and keeping the right mix of assets to generate strong returns, drive a more predictable production growth, and create shareholder value. In May 2013, the Company announced that it would divest approximately $4 billion in assets and use the proceeds to pay down debt and repurchase Apache common shares. Apache achieved these goals and more, divesting over $7 billion in assets, paying down debt, and repurchasing common shares. Significant highlights include:

Sold a one-third minority participation interest in our Egypt oil and gas business for $3.1 billion;

Divested for $3.7 billion our entire portfolio of shallow water Gulf of Mexico Shelf producing properties;

Divested $326 million of oil and gas producing properties in Canada;

Paid down $2.6 billion in debt, lowering our debt-to-capital ratio to 22 percent from 28 percent at year end 2012;

Repurchased 13.6 million shares of Apache common stock for approximately $1.2 billion, accomplishing the first half of our current share purchase authorization; and

Announced in early 2014 our entry into an agreement to sell all of our operations in Argentina for $852 million in cash and assumption of bank debt.

In addition, we produced the following operational results in 2013:

Reported earnings of $5.50 per diluted common share compared with $4.92 per diluted common share in 2012;

Increased onshore North American liquids production growth by 34 percent;

Replaced 140 percent of 2013 production through drilling; and

For the third consecutive year, continued uninterrupted operations in Egypt through a period of political turmoil.

Overview of CEO Pay for Performance

Apache Total Shareholder Return

Our CEO was appointed president, chief executive officer, and chief operating officer in May 2002, and was appointed chairman of the Board in January 2009. Under his leadership, we have adhered to our core principles of portfolio balance, financial prudence, and rate of return focus. This approach has resulted in competitive, long-term returns to our shareholders as illustrated by the graph below, which compares Apache's total shareholder return relative to the S&P 500 index and to the average total shareholder return of our Compensation Peer Group during his tenure as chief executive officer.

We are, of course, keenly aware that our Total Shareholder Return compared to our peers has been substandard for the past five, three, and one year periods, and we considered this factor heavily in determining not to pay our CEO an annual bonus for 2013.

Table of Contents

+ Egyptian political turmoil began on January 25, 2011.

Reported Pay Relative to Peers

The following graph compares Apache's CEO's total compensation as reported in our proxy statements for 2012 and 2013 versus the 2012 reported total compensation of his peers in our Compensation Peer Group as reported in their proxy statements. Overall, our CEO's 2013 reported compensation was 34.3 percent lower than 2012, lower than all of our peers' reported total compensation for 2012, and placed our CEO's reported compensation in line with the relative performance of our stock.

Table of Contents

Our CEO is one of the longest tenured CEOs in the above peer group. He has served as CEO for 12 years while the average years of service of the CEOs of our peer companies is less than half of that.

Historical Reported Pay vs. TSR Alignment

The following graph illustrates the alignment between our CEO's total compensation as reported in our proxy statements for 2009 through 2013 and the total shareholder return over that same period.

Reported Pay vs. Realized Pay

The compensation structure for our CEO is intentionally designed so that a large portion of his realized compensation directly aligns his interests with those of our shareholders. We not only consider the value of his compensation when granted, but also when realized, as we believe that it is important that the amount he eventually takes home correlates with our shareholders' returns. Therefore, a very substantial percentage of his compensation is long-term and equity-based, the realized value of which will be determined by the future long-term performance of our common stock on both a relative and absolute basis.

A large portion of total compensation reported in the Summary Compensation Table is long-term compensation using grant-date value, the calculated value on the day it is granted; this is only a starting point and is not necessarily indicative of the pay that he will actually realize. Virtually all of his long term compensation vests, if at all, over long periods, precluding its immediate realization at the grant date and correlating its realizable value to future stock performance.

While we appreciate that various methods can be utilized to calculate realized pay, we think it makes most sense to compare the pay as reported and the pay that the executive has taken home or is realizable as of a measurement date.

The following table shows the difference between our CEO's 2010 and 2011 compensation as reported in the proxy statement for those years and the realized value of that pay as of December 31, 2013. Note that the TSR Shares were conditional grants that were issued under our TSR Program. The three-year performance period for both 2010 and 2011 TSR shares has ended and our poor relative TSR performance resulted in a zero percent payout factor and forfeiture of the award. There is no future potential for realized income on these forfeited TSR Shares.

OUR COMPENSATION PHILOSOPHY AND USE OF PEER GROUPS

Our people are crucial to our success. We compete in a highly technical and complex industry where available talent is in high demand and valuable. Our business involves high up-front capital investment, risky operations, and long investment lead times. Therefore, we strive to attract, motivate, and retain technically proficient executives with extensive experience in the industry. The market for these executives is tight. To ensure our continued success, we must attract and retain superior talent in this competitive market. To provide competitive compensation packages for our executives, we reference the middle range of the market, while accounting for individual factors that allow us to be competitive in attracting and retaining the right people.

Our executive compensation philosophy is to design compensation programs so that they:

Attract, retain, motivate, and reward top talent.

Align our executives' interests with those of our shareholders by paying for performance; and

Provide a substantial portion of compensation as long-term equity-based compensation to reward excellent performance over the long-term and align the compensation of our top executives with the shareholder experience.

Compensation Peer Group

We consider multiple sources of internal and external data in making individual and plan-level compensation decisions. Peer group data plays an important role in our compensation decision making. For our 2013 compensation analysis, we expanded our peer group to include ConocoPhillips Company, Noble Energy and Pioneer Natural Resources. Our peer group is focused on the companies that we most often compete with for executive talent. The companies in this group are U.S. companies with North American as well as global oil and/or natural gas operations and are comparable based on relevant financial factors, such as revenue, market capital, net income, oil and gas revenue, and total assets. Apache is one of the larger companies in this peer group. Each company in our Compensation Peer Group also listed Apache as one of its peers in the proxy statement filed by such company in 2013. Our peer group for 2013 (the Compensation Peer Group ) is set forth below:

Compensation Peer Group

Anadarko Petroleum Corporation
Chesapeake Energy Corporation
ConocoPhillips Company
Devon Energy Corporation

EOG Resources, Inc.
Hess Corporation
Marathon Oil Company
Murphy Oil Corporation

Noble Energy, Inc.
Occidental Petroleum Corporation
Pioneer Natural Resources

Table of Contents

In addition to the Compensation Peer Group, we have used a broader group for the limited purpose of our TSR equity instruments issued for years 2010-2013, as described in the next section. Beginning in 2014, we will utilize our Compensation Peer Group for the TSR Program.

In addition to data pertaining to the Compensation Peer Group, we use the latest available data provided by our consultant, from general industry size-based surveys, and from our own experience in the labor market. We review the Consultant's benchmarking data and its process for assimilating the data used in this competitive benchmarking process, which is a blend of data from our Compensation Peer Group and the applicable survey data. Additionally, we review Fortune 500 proxy data for companies with market capitalization similar to ours to compare the compensation of the CEO.

Our Approach

Our approach to executive compensation begins with an analysis of executive base salaries relative to the market for their talent and experience. In addition to the external markets, we consider the importance of each role as it is valued internally within our organization. Factors such as experience in the industry, length of service with Apache, accountability, and any added functions not included in the market comparison are also evaluated. This is the fundamental step in analyzing our executive pay as both the annual cash incentive bonus and long-term compensation targets operate as a function of base salary. Once the base salary is established, market comparable bonus, and long-term compensation target values are derived based on salary ranges. This tiered approach to setting compensation ensures our executives are well aligned with the market as well as internally to each other. Once each component of pay is evaluated on an individual basis, total compensation for each executive is then compared to the market to ensure overall alignment. In addition, we perform an annual review of our benefits programs to ensure that we provide competitive benefits to all our employees.

Use of Judgment

The Board and the MD&C Committee believe that the application of our collective experiences and business judgment is as important to the compensation decision process as is the application of data and formulae. Our compensation policies and practices reflect this belief.

During our shareholder outreach process, we found that most of our shareholders did not demand a purely formulaic approach to compensation. They understand that business judgment of our directors plays an important role in the compensation decision process. At the same time, there is a concern that board judgment will almost always be in favor of the executives. We believe that one of the most important applications of board discretion in adjusting executive compensation is where the board finds that successful and commendable management efforts have not translated into shareholder value.

While market data provides an important tool for analysis and decision-making, we realize that over-reliance on data can give a false illusion of precision. Consequently, we also give consideration to an individual's personal contributions to the organization, as well as his or her leadership qualities, skill sets, qualifications, experience, and demonstrated performance. We also value and seek to reward performance that develops talent from within, embraces the sense of urgency that defines us, and demonstrates the qualities of imagination and drive that enable an Apache officer to resolve longer-term challenges and important new issues. While these qualities and competencies are not easily correlated to typical compensation data, they deserve, and are given, consideration in reaching compensation decisions. Market data provides us with the foundation for application of the above principles and the ensuing decisions.

OUR NAMED EXECUTIVE OFFICERS

For 2013 our Named Executive Officers (NEOs) were:

G. Steven Farris

Previously, he served as regional vice president of Apache's Egypt region and prior to that he was regional vice president of Apache's Central region.

OUR ELEMENTS OF COMPENSATION AND COMPENSATION DECISIONS

Our executive compensation program has four elements:

Base salary;
Annual cash incentive bonus;
Long-term compensation; and Benefits.

Base Salary - Summary

A competitive base salary for each of our employees is the essential foundation to our ability to compete. We review base salaries continually with a view towards considering adjustment every 12 to 18 months, but base salary reviews may occur more or less frequently depending on Apache's performance, market conditions, and individual performance.

Base Salary 2013 Decisions

Chief Executive Officer

Mr. Farris' base salary for 2013 was $1,750,000. Our CEO has not received an increase in his base salary since January 1, 2010.

Table of ContentsOther NEOs*

To make base salary adjustment recommendations for the NEOs other than the CEO, the MD&C Committee begins with input from the CEO concerning the individual performance of each executive and the optimal application of the data and policies that are used (and summarized above) to establish salary ranges more generally. The MD&C Committee reviews this information and analyzes how the base salary and contemplated adjustments for each NEO aligns with market data, our performance, market conditions, and internal pay parity considerations. On February 7, 2013, Mr. Voytovich was promoted to executive vice president, international operations, resulting in a base salary increase from $550,000 to $675,000.

The base salaries of the other NEOs remained unchanged in 2013.

The table below reflects the base salaries of our NEOs during 2013:

Name	Salary as of December 31, 2012	Salary as of December 31, 2013
Mr. Farris	$ 1,750,000	$ 1,750,000
Mr. Plank	$ 900,000	$ 900,000
Mr. Eichler	$ 900,000	$ 900,000
Mr. Chambers	$ 600,000	$ 600,000
Mr. Voytovich	$ 550,000	$ 675,000

Annual Cash Incentive Bonus - Summary

Our executive officers are eligible to earn an annual cash incentive bonus. We set annual cash incentive bonus targets hierarchically as a multiple of base salary, with target multiples increasing with the level of responsibility of the executive. The percentage of target actually awarded to our corporate executive officers is determined as a function of a combination of (i) our achievement of a variety of financial, operational, and management objectives, which we refer to as the corporate performance element, (ii) each officer's individual achievement of job-specific goals and overall performance, which we refer to as the individual performance element, and (iii) any extraordinary adjustments the Board may choose to make in recognition of circumstances not captured by the bonus plan. The CEO evaluates officers with regional responsibilities based on their region's production, revenue, costs, and other regional results.

During our engagement efforts, our shareholders informed us that they wanted more disclosure with regard to the calculation of the annual cash incentive bonus and a better understanding of how we determine the final payout. In early 2013, we changed the incentive goals and metrics to align with our significant transformation efforts. Also, in response to shareholder input for more transparency, we have enhanced our disclosure.

Annual Cash Incentive Bonus 2013 DecisionsCorporate Performance Element*

The corporate performance element consists of corporate objectives and management objectives. Under the 2013 bonus plan, the corporate objectives were weighted 70 percent and our management objectives were weighted 30 percent.

Corporate Objectives (70 percent): The corporate objectives are a set of goals that are established each year. For each corporate objective, the executive officers can be awarded full credit if Apache achieves the goal, potential partial credit if Apache makes significant progress towards the goal, and potential extra credit if Apache exceeds the goal due to the extraordinary nature of these achievements. The list of the corporate objectives and the results for 2013 are as follows:

Corporate Objectives	Weighting	Result
2013 Corporate Goals

Final Modifier	Target	Actual

TOTAL MODIFIER POINTS	100.0%	130.3%

Management Objectives (30 percent): Our management objectives are a robust set of strategic and tactical goals developed and weighted by management and approved by the MD&C Committee. In essence, the management objectives are a lengthy to-do list for each of our regions and corporate departments, highlighting the priorities for each group. For 2013, the management objectives consisted of 68 different measurable objectives that set targets for achievement at the corporate level and across each of our regions. These objectives were reviewed and, if appropriate, modified through the year as circumstances dictated and as approved by the MD&C Committee. Each basic management objective represented no more than 3.5 percent of an officer's annual cash incentive bonus. The MD&C Committee has discretion in determining the relative success of the management objectives. Points for each goal varied based on the relative importance of each goal and were awarded upon achievement. In the case of certain objectives, partial or extra credit could be awarded based on the extent of goal achievement. In addition to the tactical goals, extra credit could have been earned for attainment of extraordinary objectives, although in 2013 only one of these extraordinary objectives was achieved. These management objectives are tracked throughout the year and management provides quarterly reports to the MD&C Committee and the Board on the company's progress towards the objectives. For 2013, we achieved a total of 112.4 percent of the management objectives.

The aggregate achievement of the corporate performance element was 124.9 percent, calculated as shown below:

Goal	Results	Weighting	Total
Corporate Objectives	130.3%	70%	91.2%
Management Objectives	112.4%	30%	33.7%
TOTAL 2013 ACHIEVEMENT			124.9%

Individual Performance Element

The foundation of our annual cash incentive bonuses is our achievement of the corporate objectives and management objectives. However, we believe that annual cash incentive bonuses are most effective when they are tailored to job responsibilities of individual executives. The MD&C Committee receives input from the CEO on the individual performance of each executive officer other than himself.

Annual Cash Incentive Bonus 2013 Payouts

The Board and management agreed that 2013 was an important transitional year for the company, and that our stated corporate goals were achieved at very high levels. We also agreed there is much work ahead, and 2013 can be seen as a year of setting the stage for the future. Given this overall picture, the MD&C Committee accepted management's recommendation that a payment of annual bonuses at 124.9 percent of target (the level proscribed by our pre-set formulas) was too high, particularly for senior management.

CEO

The Board considered 2013 a very successful transitional year for Apache. We believe that the asset rationalization process has set the stage for the future, and we commend our CEO for his tremendous leadership and the very high level of accomplishment during 2013. Yet we are very mindful that our shareholders have not yet reaped the benefits of these efforts as our share price has continued to lag our peers. Therefore, the Committee unanimously recommended and the independent members of the Board unanimously agreed, as did our CEO, that the appropriate annual bonus for our CEO this year was zero.

Other Named Executive Officers

The other NEOs unanimously recommended to the MD&C Committee that their annual cash bonus be reduced from the calculated 124.9 percent to 100 percent. They, too, were aware of the trailing relative stock performance. While we were mindful of the exceptional accomplishments made by our executive officers during this transitional year, the MD&C Committee felt their recommendation was appropriate.

The NEOs' annual cash incentive bonus awards are set forth below and reflected in the Summary Compensation Table.

Name	2013 Annual Cash Incentive Bonus	Target as Percent	Annual Cash Incentive Bonus as Percent of Target of 2013 Base Salary Earnings
Mr. Farris	$ 0	150%	0%
Mr. Plank	$ 990,000	110%	100%
Mr. Eichler	$ 990,000	110%	100%
Mr. Chambers	$ 600,000	100%	100%
Mr. Voytovich	$ 657,450	100%	100%

From time to time we also award special achievement bonuses, separate and apart from the annual bonus, where circumstances warrant. During 2013, no special achievement bonuses were awarded to any NEO.

Long-Term Compensation Awards - Summary

Long-term, equity-based compensation is regularly made available to substantially all of our employees to ensure a company-wide ethic of ownership and entrepreneurialism. Properly designed long-term, equity-based compensation aligns the interests of executive officers and employees with those of our shareholders and plays an important role in our overall compensation structure.

We annually grant to our executive officers a combination of equity instruments (RSUs, stock options, TSR Shares or other Performance Shares), the overall grant value of which is based on a hierarchical multiple of salary. The multiple of salary for each executive is determined based on the executive's level in the organization and is adjusted periodically as necessary to align the total compensation of our executives with the market. The multiples for long-term compensation increase as the level of responsibility rises.

At the beginning of 2013, long-term compensation planned to be awarded to our executive officers was to be apportioned in accordance with targeted grant date values as follows: TSR Shares (35 percent), RSUs (35 percent), and stock options (30 percent). TSR shares were issued in January, with the remainder normally to be issued in May. In anticipation of our impending say-on-pay vote, we reduced the amount of RSUs and stock options issued to our top three NEOs, including our CEO, in order to reduce their total compensation and increase the amount of their equity based compensation that was performance related.

TSR Shares

Each January, our NEOs receive TSR Shares under our TSR Program. Under the TSR Program:

We issue conditional awards to each executive officer based on a target percentage of the grantee's annual base salary;

Each TSR Program has a three-year performance period at the end of which a calculation of TSR performance is determined for Apache and each member of the Performance Peer Group;

Our TSR performance is directly ranked against the Performance Peer Group, resulting in the application of a payout factor to the target number of TSR Shares to derive the adjusted number of shares that will actually be paid at the end of the performance period;

If a payout is warranted, for 2013, 50 percent of the resulting shares are delivered at the end of the three-year performance period, with the remaining 50 percent vesting equally over the following two years;

Officers must be employed at the time of each vesting to receive vested shares; and

If a change of control and a recipient's involuntary termination or voluntary termination with cause (double trigger) occur (i) prior to the calculation of performance, the TSR is calculated and our TSR performance is ranked within the Performance Peer Group as of the date of termination; (ii) following the calculation of performance, the entire amount of the earned award vests as of the date of termination.

The Performance Peer Group for our 2013 TSR Program was the same as for 2012<sup>xi</sup>. Through 2013, we used an expanded peer group for this purpose only.

Restricted Stock Units

Each May through 2013, our employees including our NEOs received RSUs. Generally, the RSUs:

Are granted to substantially our entire employee population, including our executive officers, based on a target percentage of the grantee's then annual base salary;

Vest ratably over four years;

Upon vesting, allow each grantee to receive one share of common stock for each RSU; and

Require a double trigger for accelerated vesting (both a change of control and a recipient's involuntary termination or voluntary termination with cause).

Stock Options

Each May through 2013, our NEOs also received stock options. Generally, our stock options:

Are granted to our NEOs based on a target percentage of the grantee's then annual base salary;

Become exercisable ratably over a four-year period;

Have an exercise price equal to the closing price of our common stock on the date of grant and expire 10 years after grant;

Require a double trigger for accelerated vesting (both a change of control and a recipient's involuntary termination or voluntary termination with cause); and

Cannot be repriced or reset or exchanged for cash, if they are underwater (exercise price is greater than current stock price).

Long-Term Compensation Awards 2013 Decisions

In 2013, we granted TSR Shares, RSUs, and stock options to the NEOs. Originally, we planned the grant date value of long-term compensation for all NEOs to be allocated as follows: 35 percent TSR Shares, 35 percent RSUs, and 30 percent stock options. However, in May 2013, the Board determined that the remaining unissued equity awards (RSUs and stock options) for Mr. Farris, Mr. Plank, and Mr. Eichler would be reduced. As a large portion of our equity awards for 2013 had already been granted in January, by the time our say-on-pay vote was developing in May 2013, the May RSU and option grants were the only remaining scheduled grants for 2013.

Table of Contents

Under our 2013 TSR Program, a rank of one results in a multiple of 2.0 with the multiple grading down to 0.55 for a ranking of 15 (out of 19), and a multiple of 0.0 for a ranking in the bottom quartile as follows:

TSR Rank	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15	16	17	18	19
Payout	2	1.9	1.8	1.7	1.6	1.5	1.4	1.3	1.2	1.1	1.0	.90	.80	.70	.55	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0

Compared to the 2012 TSR Program, the maximum payout of this program was reduced from 2.5 to 2.0 of target. As mentioned previously, due to feedback from our shareholders regarding the payout scale of the 2013 TSR Program, we redesigned the payout scale of our 2014 TSR Program (see discussion of 2014 TSR program below).

In 2013, the following equity-based long-term incentive awards were granted.

	TSR Shares		RSUs		Stock Options
	Shares	Value	Shares	Value	Shares	Value
Mr. Farris	59,839	$ 4,629,743	24,633	$ 1,992,563	85,493	$ 1,981,728
Mr. Plank	24,894	$ 1,926,049	16,794	$ 1,358,467	58,287	$ 1,351,093
Mr. Eichler	24,894	$ 1,926,049	16,794	$ 1,358,467	58,287	$ 1,351,093
Mr. Chambers	10,976	$ 849,213	10,584	$ 856,140	31,486	$ 729,845
Mr. Voytovich	10,062	$ 778,497	39,907	$ 3,477,277	35,422	$ 821,082
TOTAL	130,665	$ 10,109,551	108,712	$ 9,042,914	268,975	$ 6,234,841

Note that the targeted grant date values of long-term compensation and the actual grant date values shown in the tables in this proxy vary somewhat due to the prospective nature of targets. The amounts that will be actually realized by the NEOs from these awards may differ substantially from the grant date values.

TSR Share Results: Earlier TSR Programs

The performance period for the 2011 TSR Program began on January 1, 2011, and ended on December 31, 2013. Apache was ranked in the bottom 10 percent amongst its peer group, which resulted in a zero payout and the cancellation and forfeiture of the grants under this program for all eligible employees. The 2010 TSR Plan also yielded a zero payout.

Compensation Decisions With Respect to 2014Base Salary*

Effective January 1, 2014, base salaries were changed for two NEOs related to the following role changes:

Edgar Filing: APACHE CORP - Form PRE 14A

Mr. Eichler became Executive Advisor to the Chairman and assumed the role of chief executive officer for Kitimat LNG resulting in a base salary adjustment from $900,000 to $650,000.

Mr. Voytovich became chief operating officer, international, resulting in an increase from $675,000 to $725,000.

Table of Contents2014 Annual Bonus Structure*

Consistent with the 2013 plan, the weightings for the corporate performance element of the 2014 plan are again based 70 percent on corporate objectives and 30 percent on management objectives.

Due to the recent transformation in our portfolio, we have revised the corporate objectives to include a combination of operational metrics imperative to the 2014 success of our E&P business and strategic objectives tailored specifically to our plan for 2014. The corporate objectives established for 2014 include metrics related to production growth per share, reserves replacement, cash flow per barrel sold, the after-tax rate of return on the 2014 drilling program, and health, safety, security and environmental objectives.

The structure of the 2014 management objectives remains the same as the 2013 objectives, with each business unit defining specific objectives for the year tailored to the 2014 plan.

Long-Term Compensation Awards in 2014

As an outcome of our meetings with our shareholders in 2013, we determined that a greater emphasis should be placed on performance-based equity awards for 2014. The weight of performance-based equity has been increased to two-thirds of the awards for the CEO and half of the awards for all other NEOs. Stock options have been suspended from the awards for 2014.

During our shareholder engagement process we found that most of our shareholders view our peer group to be the eight to ten E&P companies closest to us in size (as measured by market cap or assets). While many of our shareholders understood the desire to expand our peer group for TSR purposes in order to have larger statistical validity, a number of our shareholders had negative reactions to the expanded group we used for TSR, as the expansion required us to include increasingly dissimilar companies. We determined that the larger TSR group did not deliver a materially different outcome and have elected for the 2014 TSR program to unify our peer group for both pay assessment and TSR purposes.

The 2014 TSR Program is similar to the 2013 TSR Program with some modifications. Under our 2014 TSR Program we have a more focused group of 12 peer companies including ourselves. A TSR rank of number one in the peer group results in a multiple of 2.00 times target with the multiple grading down to 0.40 for a ranking of 9, and a multiple of 0.0 for a ranking below 9 as shown below.

TSR Rank	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
Payout	2.0	1.8	1.6	1.4	1.2	1.0	.80	.60	.40	0.0	0.0	0.0

The TSRs have a cap at target payout in the event absolute TSR for Apache is negative over the performance period, notwithstanding the relative performance of the shares. The shares will vest 50 percent at the end of the three-year performance period, with the remaining 50 percent vesting one year later. This vesting schedule was reduced from prior years to align with the four-year vesting timeframe of our other equity compensation programs.

In addition to the 2014 TSR Program, a new form of performance shares has been introduced for 2014 that is based on business performance results coinciding with our corporate objectives as stated above. The overall results of the objectives will be calculated at the end of 2014 and, if a payout is warranted, applied to the target number of RSUs awarded. The actual amount of shares awarded will be between 0 percent and 150 percent of target. The initial 2014 program is designed to measure performance over a one-year period as we emerge from our portfolio restructuring period, however, the MD&C Committee is considering longer performance periods for future programs. The shares will vest 50 percent at the end of three years, with the remaining 50 percent vesting at the end of four years. The executive must remain employed with Apache on the vesting date to receive the vested shares. These internal business factors combined with relative TSR provide for a more balanced perspective of overall company performance.

OUR EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION DECISION MAKING PROCESS

Role of the Board of Directors

Compensation decision making for executives is both a core Board responsibility and an effective tool for shaping our strategy and performance. The MD&C Committee provides recommendations to the independent members of the Board for the CEO's compensation and to the entire Board for other NEOs' compensation, including base salary, annual cash incentive bonus, and long-term compensation multiples and components. The Board (or the independent members of the Board, as the case may be) actively reviews the recommendations and approves them as recommended or with modifications.

Table of Contents

Role of the Management Development and Compensation Committee

The MD&C Committee, which met 8 times in 2013, plays a key role in the Board's compensation oversight and decision making.

The MD&C Committee, on behalf of the Board, is responsible for reviewing and assessing the effectiveness of our compensation programs in general, and our executive compensation programs in particular. In performing these duties, the MD&C Committee reviews compensation programs and policies to avoid the incentivizing of excessive risk.

The MD&C Committee's key responsibilities are:

To review our goals and objectives, evaluate performance in light of such goals, and recommend the CEO's compensation to the Board for approval by the independent directors. This review is handled in independent sessions.

To make recommendations to the Board concerning the base salary, incentive and equity-based compensation plans for executive officers other than the CEO.

To review and recommend to the Board broad-based, long-term compensation programs for executive and non-executive employees.

Each of the MD&C Committee's four members meets the independence requirements of the New York Stock Exchange and NASDAQ listing standards. The MD&C Committee's charter is available on our website.

Role of the Stock Plan Committee

The principal purpose of the Stock Plan Committee, which met 8 times in 2013, is to assist the Board in the discharge of its responsibilities relating to equity-based compensation of our employees. The Stock Plan Committee's key responsibilities are:

Administration of our equity-based compensation plans and programs and the approval, award, and administration of grants under the same, including certification of performance goals and their achievement.

Make recommendations to the Board with respect to our equity-based compensation plans and programs.

Prepare a summary of the grants and awards made under our equity-based compensation plans and programs for the MD&C Committee for use in our proxy statement.

Any other duties or responsibilities expressly delegated to the Stock Plan Committee by the Board from time to time relating to our equity-based compensation plans and programs.

Each member of the Stock Plan Committee meets the independence requirements of the New York Stock Exchange and NASDAQ listing standards and is an outside director within the meaning of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code. The Stock Plan Committee's charter is available on our website.

Role of the Compensation Consultant

The Board and the MD&C Committee have broad access to information to perform their compensation functions. The Board has authorized the MD&C Committee to retain an independent compensation consultant. In September 2013, the MD&C Committee engaged Meridian Compensation Partners (the Consultant), to provide independent compensation advice and data to the MD&C Committee and the Board. Prior to this time, the MD&C Committee retained the services of Pearl Meyer & Partners (PMP). The Consultant performs an annual review of executive total compensation relative to the market. In addition, the Consultant assesses the competitiveness of our compensation programs versus the practices of our compensation peers and reviews these programs for any potential risk. Except for limited work for management in connection with the Consultant's published industry-specific surveys, for which the Consultant received de minimis compensation, neither the Consultant nor PMP provided any services to Apache other than the executive compensation-related services to the Board. After its review, the MD&C Committee determined that no conflict of interest arose from the work performed by the Consultant.

Table of Contents

Also, each year the MD&C Committee reviews the independence of the Consultant to ensure that the Consultant is indeed independent. Among other things, this review includes a certification from the Consultant in which the Committee is provided with written evidence of compliance with the Consultant's own rules regarding independence. This certification from the Consultant was provided to the MD&C Committee, and after its review, the MD&C Committee determined that both the Consultant and PMP were independent.

Role of Management

In addition to the use of the Consultant, the MD&C Committee receives compensation recommendations and evaluations of the executive group from the CEO. The MD&C Committee, along with each of the independent directors, is authorized by the Board to obtain information from and work directly with any employee in fulfilling its responsibilities. Our executive vice president of human resources prepares information and materials for the CEO and the MD&C Committee for the exercise of their distinct, but interrelated, compensation responsibilities. The MD&C Committee also utilizes the data provided by the Consultant, including recommendations for the associated compensation values derived from their reports. The MD&C Committee carefully considers the CEO's recommendations on these matters, reaches final determination, and reports these outcomes to the Board in the form of recommended actions.

Risk Considerations in Our Compensation Programs

Our MD&C Committee has discussed the concept of risk as it relates to our compensation programs, and the MD&C Committee does not believe our compensation programs encourage excessive or inappropriate risk taking. The MD&C Committee with assistance of the Consultant arrived at this conclusion for the following reasons:

Our employees receive both fixed and variable compensation. The fixed (salary) portion provides a steady income regardless of the Company's stock performance. This allows executives to focus on the Company's business without an excessive focus on the Company's stock price performance.

The goals and objectives for the annual cash incentive bonus are set to avoid overweighting any single factor that, if not achieved, would result in the loss of a large percentage of compensation.

Our stock options and restricted stock units for executives generally vest over four years, which discourages short-term risk taking.

Our equity ownership requirements encourage a long-term perspective by our executives.

All of our executives' unvested long-term equity compensation is forfeited upon voluntary termination, which encourages our executives to remain with the Company and maintain a long-term focus.

Our incentive programs have been in place for many years, and we have seen no evidence that they encourage excessive risk taking.

Essentially all of our employees participate in our equity-based compensation programs, regardless of business unit which encourages consistent behavior across the Company.

TAX LEGISLATION RELATED TO COMPENSATION

Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, imposes a limit, with certain exceptions, on the amount that a publicly held corporation may deduct in any tax year commencing on or after January 1, 1994, for the compensation paid or accrued with respect to its chief executive officer and its three highest compensated officers for the year (other than the principal executive officer or the principal financial officer). The MD&C Committee continues to review our compensation plans based upon these regulations and, from time to time, determines what further actions or changes to our compensation plans, if any, would be appropriate. It is the intention of the MD&C Committee for us to receive shareholder approval for all future stock-based compensation plans so that they may qualify for the performance-based compensation exemption.

Our 2005 Stock Option Plan, 2007 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan (including the 2011 TSR Program), and 2011 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan (including the 2012 and 2013 TSR Programs) were approved by our shareholders and grants made under such plans qualify as performance-based under the regulations. Our existing annual cash incentive compensation plan, special achievement bonuses, and 2000 Stock Option Plan do not meet the requirements of the regulations, as the shareholder approvals necessary for exemption were not sought. However, these plans operate similarly to prior or other existing plans and are designed to reward the contribution and performance of employees and to provide a meaningful incentive for achieving Apache's goals, which in turn enhances shareholder value. No further grants can be made under the 2000 and 2005 Stock Option Plans, or the 2007 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan. While the MD&C Committee cannot predict with certainty how our compensation policies may be further affected by this limitation, it is anticipated that executive compensation paid or accrued pursuant to our compensation plans that have not met the requirements of the regulations will not result in any material loss of tax deductions in the foreseeable future.

Internal Revenue Code section 409A requires nonqualified deferred compensation plans to meet requirements in order to avoid acceleration of the recipient's federal income taxation of the deferred compensation. The Internal Revenue Service issued final regulations in April 2007 regarding the application of Section 409A, which were generally effective January 1, 2009. Prior to effectiveness, companies were expected to comply in good faith with the statute, taking note of the interim guidance issued by the Internal Revenue Service. We amended several of our benefit plans in order for them to be exempt from Section 409A, while we continue to provide benefits through several plans that remain subject to Section 409A. The terms of these plans were amended before January 1, 2009, as necessary, and are intended to meet the requirements of the final regulations.

Officers participate in two qualified retirement plans. The 401(k) Savings Plan provides a match up to the first six percent of base pay and incentive bonus. The Money Purchase Retirement Plan provides an annual eight percent company contribution into the same investment choices as the 401(k) Savings Plan with the exception of Company stock. Additionally, officers can elect to participate in the Non-Qualified Retirement/Savings Plan to defer beyond the limits in the 401(k) Savings Plan and continue Company contributions which exceed the limits in the qualified plans. The investment choices mirror those in the 401(k) Savings Plan and the Money Purchase Retirement Plan. The Deferred Delivery Plan allows officers the ability to defer income in the form of deferred units from the vesting of restricted stock units under the Company's 2007 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan and 2011 Omnibus Equity Compensation Plan. The contributions into both non-qualified plans are reported in the Non-Qualified Deferred Compensation Table. The Company does not have a defined benefit plan for U.S. employees.

Apache provides U.S. employees with two times their base salary under group term life insurance. Executives receive the first $50,000 of coverage under the same group term life insurance plan, and the remaining amount to bring them up to two times salary is provided in the form of whole life insurance policies.

The Board requires G. Steven Farris to use the Company's aircraft for all air travel for security reasons and to facilitate efficient business travel, unless good business judgment requires otherwise. Even though the Company considers these costs a necessary business expense rather than a perquisite for Mr. Farris, in line with SEC guidance, the following table includes the amounts attributable to each Named Executive Officer's personal aircraft usage. Executives are not reimbursed for the taxes on the income attributable to the personal use of corporate aircraft. The methodology for the valuation of non-integral use of corporate aircraft for disclosure in the Summary Compensation Table, in compliance with SEC guidance, calculates the incremental cost to the Company for personal use of the aircraft based on the cost of fuel and oil per hour of flight; trip-related inspections, repairs and maintenance; crew travel expenses; on-board catering; trip-related flight planning services; landing, parking, and hanger fees; supplies; passenger ground transportation; and other variable costs. Additionally, the value of trips attributable to philanthropic interests was included, even though they are seen as contributing to the goodwill of the Company. In addition, Standard Industry Fare Level (SIFL) tables, published by the Internal Revenue Service, are used to determine the amount of compensation income that is imputed to the executive for tax purposes for personal use of corporate aircraft.

In addition to the benefits for which all employees are eligible, the Company also covers the cost of an annual physical and the full cost of enhanced long-term disability coverage for executive officers.

The Company provides various forms of compensation related to expatriate assignment that differ according to location and term of assignment, including: foreign service premium, foreign assignment tax equalization, location pay, housing and utilities, home leave and travel, goods and services allowance, relocation expense, and tax return and visa preparation. These items have been reflected in the following table under Foreign Assignment Allowances for the amounts that pertain to Mr. Eichler and to Mr. Voytovich. Mr. Eichler, as executive vice president – Egypt, resided in Egypt from 2007 to June 2009. Mr. Voytovich, as region vice president – Egypt, resided in Egypt from June 2009 to February 2012.
