CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This presentation contains forward-looking statements made pursuant to the safe-harbor provisions of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such forward-looking statements can often, but not always, be identified by the use of words like believe, continue, project, intend, anticipate, expect and similar expressions or future or conditional verbs such as will, would, can, may, or similar expressions. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements relating to the expected benefits of the proposed merger (the Merger) between German American Bancorp, Inc. ( German American ) and River Valley Bancorp, Inc. ( River Valley ).

Valley ), including future financial and operating results, cost savings, enhanced revenues, and accretion/dilution to reported earnings realized from the Merger, as well as other statements of expectations regarding the Merger, and other statements of German American intentions and expectations; statements regarding German American's business plan and growth strategies; statements regarding German American's loan and investment portfolios; and estimates of German American's risks and future costs and benefits, the Merger or otherwise.

These forward-looking statements are subject to significant risks, assumptions and uncertainties that may cause results to differ from those set forth in forward-looking statements, including, among other things: the risk that the businesses of German American and River Valley integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; expected revenue synergies from the Merger may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; revenues following the Merger may be lost due to customer and employee relationships and business operations may be disrupted by the Merger; the ability to obtain required regulatory and shareholder approvals, and the ability to complete the Merger on the expected timeframe; the costs and effects of litigation and other unexpected or adverse outcomes of such litigation; possible changes in economic and business conditions; the existence or exacerbation of geopolitical instability and uncertainty; the ability of German American to complete integration and attract new customers; possible changes in monetary and fiscal policies, and laws and regulations; the effects of easing restrictions on participants in the financial services industry; other effects of legal and administrative cases; possible changes in the creditworthiness of customers and the possible impairment of loans; fluctuations in market rates of interest; competitive factors in the banking industry; changes in the banking legislation or regulatory requirements of federal and state agencies applicable to bank holding companies and banks like German American's affiliate banks; the availability of earnings and excess capital sufficient for the lawful and prudent declaration of dividends; changes in market, economic, liquidity, credit and interest rate risks associated with German American's business; and other risks and factors identified in German American and River Valley's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Neither German American nor River Valley undertake any forward-looking statement, whether written or oral, relating to the matters discussed in this presentation. In addition, German American and River Valley's past results of operations do not necessarily indicate either of their anticipated future results, whether the Merger

Transaction Highlights

4

Meaningful addition to GABC franchise:

Further solidifies GABC's position as the premier Southern Indiana community banking franchise

Facilitates GABC's presence in three distinct markets located in the vibrant Southeast Indiana market area:

1. Adds 5 banking offices in the rapidly growing Indiana portion of the Louisville MSA (Floyd & Clark Counties)
2. Rounds out GABC's presence in markets adjacent to the Columbus, IN MSA (Jackson & Jennings Counties)
3. Provides a dominant share position in the Madison, IN market (Jefferson County)

Strong performer with similar culture and banking mentalities

Ability to cross-sell GABC products and services across RIVR customer base

Addition of Matt Forrester, President & CEO & Anthony Brandon, Executive Vice President as senior executives to help lead GABC's Southeast Indiana banking expansion
