FINANCIAL REVIEW

THE PNC FINANCIAL SERVICES GROUP, INC.

This Financial Review, including the Consolidated Financial Highlights, should be read together with our unaudited Consolidated Financial Statements and unaudited Statistical Information included elsewhere in this Report and with Items 6, 7, 8 and 9A of our 2016 Annual Report on Form 10-K (2016 Form 10-K). We have reclassified certain prior period amounts to conform with the current period presentation, which we believe is more meaningful to readers of our consolidated financial statements. For information regarding certain business, regulatory and legal risks, see the following: the Risk Management section of this Financial Review and of Item 7 in our 2016 Form 10-K; Item 1A Risk Factors included in our 2016 Form 10-K; and the Legal Proceedings and Commitments Notes of the Notes To Consolidated Financial Statements included in Item 1 of this Report and Item 8 of our 2016 Form 10-K. Also, see the Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information section in this Financial Review and the Critical Accounting Estimates And Judgments section in this Financial Review and in our 2016 Form 10-K for certain other factors that could cause actual results or future events to differ, perhaps materially, from historical performance and from those anticipated in the forward-looking statements included in this Report. See Note 14 Segment Reporting in the Notes To Consolidated Financial Statements included in this Report for a reconciliation of total business segment earnings to total PNC consolidated net income as reported on a generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) basis. In this Report, PNC, we or us refers to The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis. References to The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. or to any of its subsidiaries are specifically made where applicable.

- (a) The Executive Summary and Consolidated Income Statement Review portions of this Financial Review provide information regarding items impacting the comparability of the periods presented.
- (b) The effective income tax rates are generally lower than the statutory rate due to the relationship of pretax income to tax credits and earnings that are not subject to tax.
- (c) Calculated as annualized taxable-equivalent net interest income divided by average earning assets. To provide more meaningful comparisons of net interest margins, we use net interest income on a taxable-equivalent basis in calculating net interest margin by increasing the interest income earned on tax-exempt assets to make it fully equivalent to interest income earned on taxable investments. This adjustment is not permitted under GAAP in the Consolidated Income Statement. The taxable-equivalent adjustments to net interest income for the three months ended March 31, 2017 and March 31, 2016 were $52 million and $48 million, respectively. For additional information, see the Statistical Information (Unaudited) section of this Report.

For additional information, see the Supervision and Regulation section in Item 1 Business of our 2016 Form 10-K.

Business Outlook

Statements regarding our business outlook are forward-looking within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Our forward-looking statements are subject to the risk that economic and financial market conditions will be substantially different than those we are currently expecting and do not take into account potential legal and regulatory contingencies. These statements are based on our current view that the U.S. economy and the labor market will grow moderately in 2017, boosted by stable oil/energy prices, improving consumer spending and housing activity, and expanded federal fiscal policy stimulus as a result of the 2016 elections. Short-term interest rates and bond yields are expected to continue rising gradually in 2017, along with inflation. Specifically, our business outlook reflects our expectation of continued steady growth in GDP and two 25 basis point increases in short-term interest rates by the Federal Reserve in June and December of 2017. We are also assuming that long-term rates rise at a slower pace than short-term rates. See the Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Information section in this Financial Review and Item 1A Risk Factors in our 2016 Form 10-K for other factors that could cause future events to differ, perhaps materially, from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements.

For the full year 2017 compared to full year 2016, we expect:

Loans to increase by mid-single digits, on a percentage basis;

Revenue growth in the upper end of the mid-single digit range, on a percentage basis;

Noninterest expense to increase by low single digits, on a percentage basis; and

The effective tax rate to be approximately 25%, absent any tax reform.

For the remaining quarters of 2017, we expect quarterly other noninterest income to be between $225 million and $275 million.

For the second quarter of 2017 compared to the first quarter of 2017, we expect:

Modest loan growth;

Net interest income to increase by low single digits, on a percentage basis;

Fee income to increase by mid-single digits, on a percentage basis. Fee income consists of asset management, consumer services, corporate services, residential mortgage and service charges on deposits; Provision for credit losses to be between $75 million and $125 million, and could be at the higher end of this range as a result of an initial provision for acquired loans; and Noninterest expense to increase by low single digits, on a percentage basis.

CONSOLIDATED INCOME STATEMENT REVIEW

Our Consolidated Income Statement is presented in Part I, Item 1 of this Report.

Net income for the first quarter of 2017 was $1.1 billion, or $1.96 per diluted common share, an increase of 14%, compared to $943 million, or $1.68 per diluted common share, for the first quarter of 2016. The increase was driven by a 6% increase in revenue and lower provision for credit losses, partially offset by a 5% increase in noninterest expense. Higher revenue in the comparison reflected a 10% increase in noninterest income and a 3% increase in net interest income.

⁽a) Interest income calculated as taxable-equivalent interest income. To provide more meaningful comparisons of interest income and yields for all interest-earning assets, as well as net interest margins, we use interest income on a taxable-equivalent basis in calculating average yields and net interest margins by increasing the interest income earned on tax-exempt assets to make it fully equivalent to interest income earned on taxable investments. This adjustment is not permitted under GAAP on the Consolidated Income Statement.

Changes in net interest income and margin result from the interaction of the volume and composition of interest-earning assets and related yields, interest-bearing liabilities and related rates paid, and noninterest-bearing sources of funding. See the Statistical Information (Unaudited) Average Consolidated Balance Sheet And Net Interest Analysis section of this Report for additional information.

Net interest income increased by $62 million, or 3%, in the first quarter of 2017 compared with the first quarter of 2016, and net interest margin increased to 2.77% compared with 2.75% in the prior year quarter. Both increases reflected higher loan yields, partially offset by an increase in borrowing and deposit costs. The increase in net interest income also was driven by growth in loans and securities balances.

Average investment securities increased $6.0 billion, or 9%, due to higher average U.S. Treasury and government agency securities and average agency residential mortgage-backed securities, partially offset by decreases in average commercial mortgage-backed securities and non-agency residential mortgage-backed securities. Total investment securities increased to 24% of average interest-earning assets for the first quarter of 2017 compared to 23% for the first quarter of 2016.

Average loans grew $5.1 billion, or 2%, consisting of growth in average commercial loans of $4.0 billion and average commercial real estate loans of $1.2 billion, driven by our Corporate Banking and Real Estate businesses within our Corporate & Institutional Banking segment. Additionally, average residential real estate loans increased $1.1 billion. These increases were partially offset by a decline in consumer loans of $1.4 billion, which reflected decreases in the non-strategic runoff consumer loan portfolios of brokered home equity and government guaranteed education loans. Average loans represented 66% of average interest-earning assets for the first quarter of 2017 and 67% of average interest-earning assets for the first quarter of 2016.

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. Form 10-Q 5

Average total deposits of $254.9 billion grew $8.8 billion, or 4%, in the first quarter of 2017 compared to the first quarter of 2016. Average interest-bearing deposits increased $8.0 billion primarily due to higher average savings deposits, which largely reflected a shift from money market deposits to relationship-based savings products, as well as higher average interest-bearing demand deposits. Average interest-bearing deposits represented 76% of average interest-bearing liabilities in both quarters in the comparison.

Noninterest Income

Table 3: Noninterest Income

Three months ended March 31		Change
Dollars in millions	2017	2016	$	%

Other	322	306	16	5%
Total noninterest income	$ 1,724	$ 1,567	$ 157	10%

Noninterest income as a percentage of total revenue was 44% in the first quarter of 2017 compared to 43% in the first quarter of 2016.

Asset management revenue growth in the comparison reflected higher earnings from BlackRock and the impact of higher average equity markets as well as net new business activity in our asset management business. Discretionary client assets under management increased $6 billion to $141 billion at March 31, 2017 compared to March 31, 2016.

Corporate services revenue increased due to higher merger and acquisition advisory fees and other capital markets revenue, higher commercial mortgage servicing rights valuation, net of economic hedge, and higher treasury management revenue.

Residential mortgage revenue was higher in the comparison as a result of an increased benefit from residential mortgage servicing rights valuation, net of economic hedge.

Other noninterest income for the first quarter of 2017 increased over the first quarter of 2016 largely attributable to higher revenue from private equity investments, including positive valuation adjustments of $47 million associated with our receipt of a five-year extension of the prior July 2017 deadline to conform certain equity investments subject to the Volcker Rule provisions of the Dodd-Frank Act. The increase was partially offset by the impact of first quarter 2016 net gains on the sale of Visa Class B common shares.

Provision For Credit Losses

The provision for credit losses was $88 million for the first quarter of 2017 compared with $152 million for the first quarter of 2016, which included a higher provision for energy related loans in the oil, gas and coal sectors.

The Credit Risk Management portion of the Risk Management section of this Financial Review includes additional information regarding factors impacting the provision for credit losses.

Noninterest Expense

Table 4: Noninterest Expense

Three months ended March 31			Change
Dollars in millions	2017	2016	$	%
Noninterest expense
Personnel	$ 1,249	$ 1,145	$ 104	9%

Marketing	55	54	1	2%
Other	625	627	(2)
Total noninterest expense	$ 2,402	$ 2,281	$ 121	5%

Higher noninterest expense in the comparison reflected the impact of overall higher levels of business activity on personnel and equipment expense. We remained focused on disciplined expense management while continuing to invest in technology and business infrastructure.

As of March 31, 2017, we were on track to achieve our full-year 2017 goal of $350 million in cost savings through our continuous improvement program, which we expect will substantially fund our 2017 business and technology investments.

Effective Income Tax Rate

The effective income tax rate was 23.0% in the first quarter of 2017 compared with 23.5% in the first quarter of 2016. Income taxes for first quarter 2017 included higher tax deductions for stock-based compensation related to vesting of restricted shares and options exercised at a higher common stock price.

The summarized balance sheet data in Table 5 is based upon our Consolidated Balance Sheet in Part 1, Item 1 of this Report.

Our balance sheet was strong and well positioned at both March 31, 2017 and December 31, 2016.

Total assets increased primarily driven by loan growth and higher interest-earning deposits with banks;

Total liabilities increased due to deposit growth and higher borrowed funds;

Total equity decreased due to a decline in noncontrolling interests related to the redemption of Perpetual Trust Securities.

The following discussion provides additional information about the major components of our balance sheet. Information regarding our capital and regulatory compliance is included in the Liquidity and Capital Management portion of the Risk Management section of this Financial Review and in Note 18 Regulatory Matters in the Notes To Consolidated Financial Statements included in our 2016 Form 10-K.

(a) Includes loans to customers in the real estate and construction industries.

Growth in commercial lending was driven by increased utilization from manufacturing, retail/wholesale trade and financial services customers. Lower consumer lending was driven by declines in home equity loans, education loans and credit cards. The decreases in home equity and education reflected runoff in the non-strategic brokered home equity and government guaranteed education loan portfolios.

Investment securities increased $.5 billion at March 31, 2017 compared to December 31, 2016. Growth in investment securities was driven by net purchases of agency residential mortgage-backed securities, partially offset by maturities and prepayments of U.S. Treasury and government agencies, non-agency commercial mortgage-backed and non-agency residential mortgage-backed securities.

Table 7 presents the distribution of our investment securities portfolio by credit rating. We have included credit ratings information because we believe that the information is an indicator of the degree of credit risk to which we are exposed, which could affect our risk-weighted assets and, therefore, our risk-based regulatory capital ratios under the regulatory capital rules. Changes in credit ratings classifications could indicate increased or decreased credit risk and could be accompanied by a reduction or increase in the fair value of our investment securities portfolio.

At least quarterly, we conduct a comprehensive security-level impairment assessment on all securities. If economic conditions, including home prices, were to deteriorate from current levels, and if market volatility and liquidity were to deteriorate from current levels, or if market interest rates were to increase or credit spreads were to widen appreciably, the valuation of our investment securities portfolio would likely be adversely affected and we could incur additional OTTI credit losses that would impact our Consolidated Income Statement.

The duration of investment securities was 3.2 years at March 31, 2017. We estimate that at March 31, 2017 the effective duration of investment securities was 3.3 years for an immediate 50 basis points parallel increase in interest rates and 3.1 years for an immediate 50 basis points parallel decrease in interest rates.

Based on expected prepayment speeds, the weighted-average expected maturity of the investment securities portfolio (excluding corporate stock and other) was 5.1 years at March 31, 2017 compared to 5.0 years at December 31, 2016.

Growth in total deposits was driven by higher consumer savings and demand deposits, partially offset by seasonal declines in commercial deposits. The overall increase in savings deposits reflected in part a shift from money market deposits to relationship-based savings products. The decline in time deposits reflected the net runoff of maturing accounts.

The increase in total borrowed funds reflected net increases in FHLB borrowings and bank notes and senior debt, as new issuances outpaced maturities and calls. These increases were partially offset by subordinated debt maturities.

See the Liquidity and Capital Management portion of the Risk Management section of this Financial Review for additional information regarding our 2017 capital and liquidity activities.

Shareholders Equity

Total shareholders—equity as of March 31, 2017 remained relatively stable compared to December 31, 2016. Increased retained earnings, driven by net income of $1.1 billion partially offset by $.3 billion of common and preferred dividends, was largely offset by common share repurchases of $.6 billion and lower capital surplus.

The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc. Form 10-Q 9

Common shares outstanding were 485 million at both March 31, 2017, and December 31, 2016, as repurchases of 5.0 million shares during the first quarter of 2017 were largely offset by share issuances from treasury stock related to warrants exercised and stock based compensation activity.

BUSINESS SEGMENTS REVIEW

Effective for the first quarter of 2017, as a result of changes to how we manage our businesses, we realigned our segments and, accordingly, have changed the basis of presentation of our segments, resulting in four reportable business segments:

Retail Banking Corporate & Institutional Banking Asset Management Group BlackRock

Our changes in business segment presentation resulting from the realignment included the following:

The Residential Mortgage Banking segment was combined into Retail Banking as a result of our strategic initiative to transform the home lending process by integrating mortgage and home equity lending to enhance product capability and speed of delivery for a better customer experience and to improve efficiency. In conjunction with this shift, residential mortgages previously reported within the Other category were also moved to Retail Banking.

The Non-Strategic Assets Portfolio segment was eliminated. The segment s remaining consumer assets were moved to the Other category as they are unrelated to the ongoing strategy of any segment, while its commercial assets were transferred to Corporate & Institutional Banking in order to continue the relationships we have with those customers.

A portion of business banking clients was moved from Retail Banking to Corporate & Institutional Banking to facilitate enhanced product offerings to meet the financial needs of our business banking clients.

Net interest income in business segment results reflects our internal funds transfer pricing methodology. Assets receive a funding charge and liabilities and capital receive a funding credit based on a transfer pricing methodology that incorporates product repricing characteristics, tenor and other factors. Effective for the first quarter of 2017, we made certain adjustments to our internal funds transfer pricing methodology primarily relating to weighted average lives of certain non-maturity deposits based on our recent historical experience. These changes in methodology affected business segment results, primarily adversely impacting net interest income for Corporate & Institutional Banking and Retail Banking, offset by increased net interest income in the Other category.

The prior period presented was revised to conform to the new segment alignment and to our change in internal funds transfer pricing methodology.

Business segment results and a description of each business are included in Note 14 Segment Reporting included in the Notes To Consolidated Financial Statements in this Report. Certain amounts included in this Business Segments Review differ from those amounts shown in Note 14, primarily due to the presentation in this Financial Review of business net interest revenue on a taxable-equivalent basis.

Total business segment financial results differ from total consolidated net income. The impact of these differences is reflected in the Other category in the business segment tables. Other includes residual activities that do not meet the criteria for disclosure as a separate reportable business, such as gains or losses related to BlackRock transactions, integration costs, asset and liability management activities including net securities gains or losses, other-than-temporary impairment of investment securities and certain trading activities, exited businesses, certain non-strategic runoff consumer loan portfolios, private equity investments, intercompany eliminations, most corporate overhead, tax adjustments that are not allocated to business segments and differences between business segment performance reporting and financial statement reporting (GAAP), including the presentation of net income attributable to noncontrolling interests as the segments—results exclude their portion of net income attributable to noncontrolling interests.
