1. Results of Operations and Financial Condition

(1) Analysis of results of operations

(Results of operations for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017)

An overview of the financial and economic environment for fiscal year 2016 shows the global economy generally maintained a moderate recovery, particularly in developed countries. This was despite deep uncertainties arising from China's structural adjustment, as well as fluctuations in international financial markets due to key events such as the UK's vote to leave the EU and the advent of the new US administration. The US economy continued its self-sustained recovery, driven mainly by domestic demand, which was supported by improved employment conditions. However, the recovery in production and capital investment was a little slow in the corporate sector. In Europe, domestic demand continued to pick up, supported by improved employment conditions and low interest rates, despite an increase in uncertainty stemming from the UK's vote to leave the EU and NPL problems in Southern European countries. On the whole, the Asian economy was solid, particularly in ASEAN (Association of Southeast Asian Nations). However, each country's exports were pushed down by the economic slowdown in China, which has been undergoing structural adjustment. Under such circumstances, Japan's economy maintained a moderate recovery throughout the fiscal year, yet some areas experienced a delay in improvement. Private consumption continued to grow, albeit slowly, on the back of an increase in employment and wages; meanwhile, residential investment also remained strong. Capital expenditure continued to increase gradually, underpinned by an upturn in exports and production, although it was held back temporarily by a slowdown in corporate earnings growth caused by yen appreciation in the first half of the fiscal year. Public demand was almost flat.

Turning now to financial conditions, there were large fluctuations in foreign exchange rates and stock prices in Japan. During the first half of fiscal year 2016, the Japanese yen continued to appreciate against the US dollar and Japan's stock market was weak against a backdrop of uncertainties surrounding the global economy. However, after the US presidential election, the Japanese yen depreciated sharply and stock prices surged due to high expectations brought about by the new administration. Towards the end of the fiscal year, the Japanese yen appreciated again. As for interest rates, the US Federal Reserve raised interest rates in December and March; whereas the Bank of England reduced interest rates in August after the national referendum and the European Central Bank retained its monetary easing policy. Additionally, the Bank of Japan maintained its aggressive monetary easing stance with the introduction of Quantitative and Qualitative Monetary Easing with Yield Curve Control in September, resulting in continued, low, long-term interest rates.

Under such business environment, consolidated gross profits for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 decreased 131.3 billion yen from the previous fiscal year to 4,011.8 billion yen. This was mainly due to a decrease in the translated JPY value by the appreciation of JPY against other currencies, a decrease in net interest income from domestic loans and deposits, reflecting lower interest rates in domestic market, as well as decreases in fee income from sale of investment products and net gains on debt securities. Those were partially offset by increases in fee and net interest income in overseas. General and administrative (G&A) expenses for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was 2,593.5 billion yen, almost unchanged from the previous fiscal year, partially due to the appreciation of JPY against other currencies. As a result, net operating profits decreased 139.6 billion yen from the previous fiscal year to 1,418.2 billion yen.

Total credit costs for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 decreased 99.7 billion yen from the previous fiscal year, mainly due to a decrease in provision for allowance for credit losses. Net gains on equity securities increased 36.6 billion yen from the previous fiscal year, driven by a progress in sales of equity holdings. Other non-recurring losses increased 189.4 billion yen from the previous fiscal year, mainly due to increases in provision for repayment of excess interest of credit card/loan businesses, and expenses for defined benefit plans.

As a result, ordinary profits for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 were 1,360.7 billion yen, a decrease of 178.7 billion yen from the previous fiscal year, and profits attributable to owners of parent for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2017 was 926.4 billion yen, a decrease of 24.9 billion yen from the previous fiscal year.

(2) Analysis of financial condition

Total assets as of March 31, 2017 increased 4,994.5 billion yen from March 31, 2016 to 303,297.4 billion yen, and total net assets as of March 31, 2017 decreased 728.3 billion yen from March 31, 2016 to 16,658.3 billion yen. The decrease in total net assets was mainly due to decreases in net unrealized gains on available-for-sale securities and foreign currency translation adjustments, and share repurchases.

With regard to major items of assets, loans and bills discounted as of March 31, 2017 decreased 4,751.0 billion yen from March 31, 2016 to 109,005.2 billion yen and securities as of March 31, 2017 decreased 10,554.9 billion yen from March 31, 2016 to 59,438.8 billion yen. With regard to major items of liabilities, deposits as of March 31, 2017 increased 9,765.1 billion yen from March 31, 2016 to 170,730.2 billion yen.
