The following communication was posted to an Express Scripts Holding Company intranet site available to its employees on March 8, 2018.

Cigna Announcement Talking Points

Earlier today, Cigna and Express Scripts announced a $70 billion acquisition, which will create the nation's leading healthcare services company. Cigna and Express Scripts bring together the best in pharmacy and medical benefits management, which will help us do even more to improve patient care, create innovative solutions, and protect payers budgets across our commercial, health plan, government agencies and individual PDP lines of business.

We encourage you to proactively meet with your teams as soon as possible (ideally today) and share with them our perspective on the deal. Talking points and FAQs are included, and if you have any additional questions that you cannot answer, please send them to CommC@express-scripts.com

In conversations with employees, it is important to listen to concerns and answer questions as directly and honestly as you can. Do not speculate, and remember that we continue to be separate companies until a deal is finalized. In the meantime, we will all focus on our work serving clients and patients.

All employees will receive an email from Tim Wentworth, and additional information and a mailbox for employee questions will be available on the Hub. All questions related to the acquisition should be submitted to CommC@express-scripts.com

What Does this Announcement Mean for Me?

There is no immediate change to our day-to-day work. We continue business as usual. Stay focused on serving patients our and clients.

You will have questions about your job and what, if anything, will happen. It is too soon to say what impact there will be. We are committed to communicating with you openly, honestly and regularly throughout the acquisition process. We also will provide Q&A for you on the Hub and in other venues, and will provide ways for you to ask questions and get direct answers.

Deals of this size may take several months to be reviewed by regulatory agencies, and while there is no guarantee of approval, we are confident in the companies' ability to make a strong case for the benefits of building a new healthcare leader.

We are excited about the potential of a combined company that, if approved, will build upon our legacy of making healthcare simpler to access, improving patient care, and protecting payer budgets.

Key Points

CREATING GREATER VALUE AND AFFORDABILITY BY MAKING HEALTHCARE SIMPLER

We will do more to make the healthiest decisions, the easiest decisions.

Our new health care model is built on choice, alignment and value:

Patients: Making healthcare simpler to use.

Physicians: Reducing administrative burden by adding our technology to provider expertise.

Payers: Creating value through alignment on what matters most: delivering best-in-class pharmacy and medical trend management.

Employees: Transforming healthcare on a bigger scale.

THE OPPORTUNITY IS EXCITING, BUT THERE IS ALSO THE REALITY OF CHANGE

Our focus today and going forward is the same: take great care of patients and clients.

The great news: Our work is highly valued, and our collective opportunity to improve healthcare will get a lot bigger. Our approach to pharmacy benefit management works.

Any acquisition means reorganization, but this acquisition is different:

There aren't as many areas of overlap between Cigna and Express Scripts. We can't predict the future, but we know our company will be expanding its work, as Cigna moves some of its businesses to our organization.

Edgar Filing: Express Scripts Holding Co. - Form 425

Important difference: We are used to acquisitions between PBMs. For example, the last acquisition we did was adding one PBM (Medco) to another PBM (Express Scripts). The proposed combination with Cigna is different. This is an acquisition between two healthcare companies that do different kinds of work: Cigna is a health insurer and we are a PBM. We complement each other and, together, can better manage the needs of a patient from pre-diagnosis to treatment to cure.

Our headquarters remain in St. Louis, we continue to operate as Express Scripts, and the importance of our work has never been greater.

Post-closing, the combined company will make an incremental investment of $200 million in its charitable foundation, to support the communities in which it operates, and with the continued focus on improving societal health.

A LOOK AHEAD

News about an acquisition can be unsettling. It is normal to think about what may happen in the future.

We will communicate what we know when we know it. We do not have any more information than what we have shared today.

Deals of this size take time. It could be completed by the end of the year. Even though we are realistic and optimistic, there are no guarantees.

Our everyday work does not change at all. In fact, it is more important than ever to have no disruptions as we go out to retain clients and win new business.

If you have questions, we will provide many ways to get the answers you need.

Our work is important, and, should the combination be approved, all of us will have a bigger opportunity to do more to make healthcare simpler.

Thank you for all you do.
