BRASKEM MERGES POLITENO WITH AND INTO ITSELF

São Paulo, Brazil, April 2, 2007 --- A Braskem (BOVESPA: BRKM5; NYSE: BAK; LATIBEX: XBRK), leader in the thermoplastic resins segment in Latin America and the second largest Brazilian industrial company owned by the private sector, announces that the merger of Politeno with and into itself was approved by the shareholders of both companies in Extraordinary Shareholders Meetings held today. Braskem therefore advances one step forward in its growth with value creation process.

The merger of Politeno was designed to align the interests of all shareholders and will allow shareholders of Politeno that decide to become shareholders of Braskem full access to the benefits offered by Braskem to all of its shareholders, such as 100% tag-along rights in the event of a change of control, commented Carlos Fadigas, Vice President of Finances and Investor Relations of Braskem.

Prior to the merger, Braskem owned 100% of Politeno's voting share capital and approximately 96.2% of its total share capital. Commencing as of tomorrow, Politeno's preferred shareholders can exchange their Politeno shares for Braskem's class A preferred shares, at an exchange ratio of 1,656 of Politeno shares for each Braskem's class A preferred share. This exchange ratio is based on an appraisal report with respect to both companies prepared by PricewaterhouseCoopers Auditores Independentes, and represents a 8.57% premium for shareholders of Politeno over the fair market value of these shares based on the respective shareholders' equity of these companies.

To maintain the legally required ratio of Braskem's common and preferred shares (1/3 and 2/3, respectively), Braskem's shareholders approved the conversion of 486,530 class A preferred shares into common shares, as well as the issuance of 1,533,670 class A preferred shares. As a result, Braskem's share capital will increase by R$19.2 million, and Braskem's free float will be maintained at approximately 53% of total capital.

Commencing as of tomorrow (April 3, 2007), minority shareholders of Politeno have until May 2, 2007 to exercise their appraisal rights, if they do not exchange their shares for Braskem's shares. The shareholder that has shares at CBLC - Companhia Brasileira de Liquidação e Custódia (Brazilian Closing and Trustee Company), and that wants to exercise this right should contact its chosen securities trader informing of its intention to exercise the appraisal right through a specific form to be given by CBLC. If the shares are registered at Banco Itaú (Itau Bank), the shareholder should contact any branch to fill a specific form to be given by Banco Itaú. Politeno shareholders that exercise their appraisal rights will receive a cash payment of R$7.543 per lot of 1,000 shares on May 15, 2007.
