Dear shareholders,

We invite you to attend the Special Shareholders' Meeting of Banco Bradesco S.A. ("Bradesco"), to be held on October 7, 2016, at 5:00 p.m., at our headquarters, in the Núcleo Cidade de Deus, Prédio Vermelho, Salão Nobre do 5 º andar, Vila Yara, Osasco, SP.

Last July, we had the pleasure to announce to you the completion of the transaction for the acquisition of the entire capital of HSBC Bank Brasil S.A. - Banco Múltiplo (HSBC Bank) and HSBC Serviços e Participações Ltda., which began in the second half of 2015.

In compliance with our administrative plan, we decided to propose the absorption of a portion of the equity of HSBC Bank, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Bradesco, through a partial spin-off, in order to achieve improved results in terms of operational rationalization, competitiveness and productivity, as well as reducing administrative costs.

If the transaction is approved, HSBC's technologic integration in Bradesco will start on October 7, 2016, and current customers of HSBC will have access to their accounts in Bradesco on October 8, 2016, being served as usual and counting with all products, services and facilities offered by us. The approval also matter in subsequent replacement of the HSBC brand in its service network, which will become Bradesco.

In addition, proposals for the partial amendment to our bylaws will also be subject to your analysis and vote, regarding the wording of Articles providing for: i) the composition of Bradesco's Executive Board; ii) age limit to exercise the position of Chief Executive Officer; and iii) the operation of Bradesco Organization's Ombudsman.

Finally, we inform you that you will find in this manual all the documentation required by law and the necessary guidelines for the analysis and exercise of the right to vote on the matters listed in the Call Notice for the Meeting called herein.

Special Shareholders' Meetings to be held on October 7, 2016. The transaction, once authorized, shall comply with the following clauses and conditions:

- I. aims to promote a corporate restructuring with the following goals: (i) to segregate, redirect and consolidate assets and liabilities of HSBC Bank to Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões e Bradesco Leasing; (ii) to promote synergy between ongoing businesses and operations, with the consequent optimization and rationalization of operating and administrative costs; (iii) to preserve the continuity of HSBC Bank with the continuation of its activities for operational reasons;

- II. will ratify the appointment of KPMG Auditores Independentes, with headquarters in the city of Osasco, state of São Paulo, at Avenida Dionysia Alves Barreto, 500, 10º andar, CNPJ no. 57.755.217/0022-53, registered with the Regional Accounting Council (CRC) under no. 2SP028567/O-1 F-SP, as the appraiser of the Net Equity of HSBC Bank on the base date of July 31, 2016;

- III. will become effective on October 7, 2016, with the Net Equity of HSBC Bank having been appraised at the book value of R$7,713,126,737.21 (seven billion, seven hundred and thirteen million, one hundred and twenty-six thousand seven hundred and thirty-seven reais and twenty one cents) and the spun-off portion of its assets, to be transferred to Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing, will correspond, respectively, to R$12,657,840.06 (twelve million, six hundred fifty-seven thousand, eight hundred and forty reais and six cents), R$17,877,851.26 (seventeen million, eight hundred seventy-seven thousand, eight hundred and fifty-one reais and twenty-six centavos) and R$22,267,291.29 (twenty-two million, two hundred sixty-seven thousand, two hundred ninety-one reais and twenty-nine cents);

IV. the equity changes verified in HSBC Bank between the base date of July 31, 2016 and the effective date of the operation (October 7, 2016), will integrate its accounts movements and will be transferred, on the date of the event, in proportion and relation to each spun-off portion, to Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing;

V. the equity movements between the abovementioned companies involved in this corporate operation will not involve any exchange with third parties, given that HSBC Bank, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing are 100% (one hundred per cent) controlled by Bradesco. Thus, there is no need to speak of dissenting shareholders or withdrawal of rights of shareholders of the demerged company due to the transaction, also not being applicable the provisions of Article 264 of the Brazilian Corporations Law and Article 8 of CVM Instruction No. 565/15;

VI. the operation having been approved, there will be:

a) reduction of the Equity of HSBC Bank in the amount of R$52,802,982.61 (fifty-two million, eight hundred and two thousand, nine hundred and eighty-two reais and sixty-one cents), R$156,483,922.70 (one hundred fifty-six million, four hundred and eighty-three thousand, nine hundred and twenty-two reais and seventy cents) in the "Capital" account, without the cancellation of shares, offset by the outstanding balance of R$103,680,940.09 (one hundred and three million, six hundred eighty thousand, nine hundred and forty reais and nine cents) recorded in the "Equity Appraisal Adjustments" section. The said reduction of the share capital of HSBC Bank, in the amount of R$156,483,922.70 (one hundred fifty-six million, four hundred and eighty-three thousand, nine hundred and twenty-two reais and seventy cents) changes the share capital, going from R$10,299,759,603.73 (ten billion , two hundred ninety-nine million, seven hundred fifty nine thousand, six hundred and three reais and seventy-three cents) to R$10,143,275,681.03 (ten billion, one hundred forty and three million two hundred and seventy-five thousand, six hundred eighty-one reais and three cents), with the consequent amendment to the head of Article 6 of the Bylaws, which will become effective with the following wording: "Article 6) The share capital is of R$10,143,275,681.03 (ten billion, one hundred forty-three million, two hundred and seventy-five thousand, six hundred and eighty-one reais and three centavos), divided into 3,264,924,827 (three billion, two hundred sixty-four million, nine hundred and twenty-four thousand, eight hundred and twenty-seven) common, registered, book-entry shares with no par value."

Consequently, the corresponding merger of the spun-off portions of the Equity of HSBC Bank:

i. will not produce any effect on the Equity of Bradesco, given that HSBC Bank is its wholly-owned subsidiary, and is therefore 100% reflected in the "Investment" section of Bradesco;

Back to indexã Page 11 in 134

ii. that will be absorbed by Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing shall be deducted from the "Investment" held by Bradesco in HSBC Bank and added to the value of the "Investment" that Bradesco holds, respectively, in Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing, as the sole shareholder of listed Companies;

b) increase in the share capital of Bradesco Cartões, in the amount of R$17,877,851.26 (seventeen million, eight hundred seventy-seven thousand, eight hundred fifty-one reais and twenty-six cents), going from R$1,210,000,000.00 (one billion, two hundred and ten million reais) to R$ 1,227,877,851.26 (one billion two hundred and twenty-seven million, eight hundred and seventy-seven thousand, eight hundred fifty-one reais and twenty-six cents), by issuing 15,988,491 new shares, being 7,994,246 common shares and 7,994,245 preferred shares, considering the value of the equity per share of R$1,118169957, with a consequent change in the head of Article 6 of the Bylaws, which will take effect as follows: "Article 6) The Share Capital is of R$1,227,877,851.26 (one billion two hundred and twenty-seven million, eight hundred and seventy-seven thousand, eight hundred fifty-one reais and twenty-six cents) divided into 2,319,754,028 (two billion, three hundred and nineteen million, seven hundred and fifty-four thousand and twenty-eight) registered book-entry shares with no par value, with 1,159,877,015 (one billion, one hundred fifty-nine million, eight hundred and seventy-seven thousand and fifteen) common shares and 1,159,877,013 (one billion, one hundred fifty-nine million, eight hundred and seventy-seven thousand and thirteen) preferred shares".;

c) increase in the share capital of Bradesco Leasing in the amount of R$22,267,291.29 (twenty-two million, two hundred sixty-seven thousand, two hundred ninety-one reais and twenty-nine cents), going from R$2,290,000,000.00 (two billion, two hundred ninety million reais) to R$2,312,267,291.29 (two billion, three hundred and twelve million, two hundred sixty-seven thousand, two hundred ninety-one reais and twenty-nine centavos) through the issuance of 163 new shares considering the value of equity per share of R$135,988.072068141, with the consequent amendment to the head of Article 6 of the Bylaws, which will become effective with the following wording: "Article 6) The Share Capital is of R$2,312,267,291.29 (two billion, three hundred and twelve million, two hundred and sixty-seven thousand, two hundred and ninety-one reais and twenty-nine centavos), divided into 23,585 (twenty-three thousand, five hundred and eighty-five) registered book-entry common shares with no par value".;

VII. as explained in the letter "a" of Item VI, the partial spin-off of HSBC Bank will not result in the cancellation of shares of its share capital, which will continue to be wholly owned by Bradesco, as its sole shareholder;

VIII. the shares of Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing, issued as a result of the absorption of part of the equity of HSBC Bank, to be assigned to Bradesco, sole shareholder of HSBC Bank, will be fully entitled to the same rights and/or benefits guaranteed to common and/or preferred shares currently existing, including dividends and/or interest on capital that may be declared from the date of the General Meetings of HSBC Bank, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing approving the transaction, whose payment shall be made after the approval of the respective

f) Intention of the resulting companies to obtain registration as an issuer of securities

Not applicable.

4. Plans for conducting the corporate operations, notably regarding specific corporate events which the company intends to promote

There is no specific corporate action intended to be promoted with the companies involved in the transaction after the transfer of the portions of the equity of HSBC Bank.

5. Analysis of the following aspects of the operation:

a) Description of the main benefits expected, including:

i. Synergies

The partial spin-off of HSBC Bank with the merger of the spun-off portions by Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing will bring several synergies, including: consolidating assets and liabilities under the management of HSBC Bank to Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing; optimize and streamline operational and administrative costs; enable the transfer of interest in other investees from HSBC Bank to Bradesco, in order to subsequently allocate them to the corresponding business segment in Bradesco Organization's corporate structure.

We specified some anticipated synergies in more details below:

Branches

It is estimated that the merger of the portion of HSBC Bank will provide synergy in the administrative expenses of the branch network, the main ones being:

- Transport of values: unified logistics;
- ATM network: adequacy of logistics and maintenance;
- Development of systems: unification of systems;
- Data communication and sharing of lines;
- Review and renegotiation of agreements in general.

Customers

Bradesco has a large portfolio of products and services that will be available to customers from HSBC Bank, enabling an increase in the relationship with these customers.

Administrative Expenses

Data Processing

Back to indexã Page 16 in 134

Bradesco may use its surplus processing capacity to also meet the acquired operation, enabling scale gains. In addition, some processes currently being operated by HSBC Bank may no longer be executed.

Information Technology (IT)

The unification of systems and communication lines will lead to a significant synergy of expenses.

Third Party and Specialized Technical Services

With the estimated scale gain benefits, the administrative service expenses, such as audit and consulting and agreement renegotiations, will be diluted by integrated hiring with Bradesco.

Marketing and Advertising

Discontinuity of institutional communication and products of HSBC Bank.

ii. Tax benefits

With the unification of the structures, the main object of the operation, Articles 20, 21 and 22 of Law No. 12,973/14 will be complied with.

iii. Strategic advantages

The Transaction

The advantages of the partial spin-off of HSBC Bank with the merger of the spun-off portions by Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing will arise from the allocation of activities currently developed at HSBC Bank in companies of the Bradesco Organization that effectively develop these activities (Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing), consequently rationalizing and reducing operating, administrative and legal costs.

The operation reinforces the presence of Bradesco's brand throughout the country, providing a greater degree of adaptation to a dynamic and highly competitive market.

The merger of the portion of HSBC Bank by Bradesco will allow the absorption of HSBC Bank branches already mature, established and fully operational.

With the acquisition of HSBC Bank, the portion of investments allocated for its expansion will be redirected to the adequacy of HSBC Bank branches.

Service Points (PAs)

Back to indexã Page 17 in 134

HSBC Bank's PAs are mostly located in large companies to provide services to employees in payroll agreements. Bradesco intends to maintain these structures.

Bank Correspondents

Bradesco is one of the leaders among private banks, owning more than 50,000 PAs in the country. All the know-how acquired by Bradesco in this service model will be transferred to correspondents who are currently linked to HSBC Bank, further democratizing the offerings of products and services, especially for the lower income audience.

Customers

Bradesco has the opportunity to take advantage of a significant number of high-income customers (Premier and Advance segment of HSBC Bank), converging with its strategy to expand its performance in this customer segment.

Bradesco believes that the merger of the portion of HSBC Bank and, consequently, of HSBC's branches and customers will add several benefits to customers of both banks, such as:

- Expansion of the service network (branches, Pas, bank correspondents, ATMs);
- Greater diversity of products and services offered (investment fund, cards and insurance, among others);
- Use of the best solutions of each bank in digital channels (mobile and Internet);
- Gains in scale and productivity

b) Costs

The costs incurred in the operation refer to lawyers' and independent auditors' fees, as well as migration costs (the integration of operating platforms), in the approximate amount of R$248 million

c) Risk factors

- Possible loss of customers due to the migration between banks;
- Not being able to carry out all the synergies planned in the business;
- Possible change in the tax law that hinders the use of the transaction tax benefits;
- Failure to comply with any item of the agreements with regulatory agencies;
- Loss of transactions with large corporate customers arising from HSBC Bank due to the eventual excessive risk exposure of Bradesco with these customers.

d) In case of a transaction with related parties, eventual alternatives that could have been used to attain the same goals, indicating the reasons why these alternatives were discarded

ii. Detailed description of the process for negotiating the replacement ratio and other terms and conditions of the operation

There is no exchange ratio in the spin-off transaction of HSBC Bank with incorporation of the spun-off portion.

- Reasons that justify any differences in the assessment in different operations

Proposal for partial amendment to the Bylaws

Dear shareholders,

The Board of Directors of Banco Bradesco S.A. hereby submits for your analysis and deliberation a proposal to partially amend the Bylaws, as follows:

a) the “caput” and Paragraph One of Article 12, regarding the composition of the Board of Officers, distributing its members among already existing categories of position, with no change in the maximum number of members, aiming to ensure rapid and flexible decision by Bradesco’s management, by allocating the Officers to the most convenient posts in terms of identified need, without the necessity to amend the Bylaws.

The intended change will enable the allocation of Officers coming from HSBC Bank that will be integrated into Bradesco due to the partial spin-off transaction, without the need to create new positions.

b) Sole Paragraph of Article 18, improving its wording and increasing the age limit for the position of Chief Executive Officer from less than 65 to less than 67 years old, on the date of election, understanding that it is desirable to enable the Company to take advantage of the vast professional experience and management experience acquired in the position of CEO, especially at this time of integration of the HSBC operations, when significant synergy gains are foreseeable.

c) Article 23, regarding the functioning of the Bradesco Organization’s Ombudsman, improving its content, especially in order to meet the requirements of National Monetary Council Resolution 4,433 of July 23, 2015.

After the approval of the proposal, the above-mentioned statutory provisions will become effective with the following wording after the approval by the Brazilian Central Bank:

"Article 12) The Company's Executive Board, elected by the Board of Directors, with a term of office of 1 (one) year, with reelection allowed, is composed of 83 (eighty three) to 108 (one hundred and eight) members, distributed, at the Board's discretion, as follows: i) 17 (seventeen) to 27 (twenty-seven) Executive Officers, with 1 (one) Chief Executive Officer and 16 (sixteen) to 26 (twenty-six) members distributed among the positions of Executive Vice President, Managing Officer and Deputy Officer; and ii) 66 (sixty-six) to 81 (eighty-one) members, distributed among the positions of Department Officer, Officer and Regional Officer. Paragraph One - The Board of Directors will annually set, on the 1st Meeting of that Body to be held after the Annual General Meeting and, whenever appropriate, the number of Officers to be elected, designating them, by name, within the positions in the "caput" of this Article, subject to the provisions of Paragraph One of Article 7 and the requirements of Articles 17, 18 and 19 hereof.";

Detailing the origin and justification of the statutory amendments proposed and analysis of the legal and economic effects

Legal and economic effects of the amendment, pursuant to Article 11 of CVM Instruction No. 481 of December 17, 2009

Regarding the statutory amendments proposed, Bradesco's Management does not foresee any relevant *legal or economic effects, due to:

The increase of the minimum number (52 to 83) of positions on the Board of Officers, without changing the maximum number of positions (108), arises from the need to adjust the minimum administrative structure currently practiced, deemed necessary to efficiently support all the organizational areas.

The required statutory amendment also aims to provide greater speed and flexibility to Bradesco's management in its decision making process, by allowing, according to the identified need and with unfilled vacancies on the Board of Officers, its members to be readily distributed in a more convenient manner in the positions set out in the Bylaws, with the privilege of not having to wait for a new Shareholders' Meeting to approve the statutory amendment.

Once the change of this device in the Bylaws is approved, Bradesco will be able to allocate the Officers coming from HSBC Bank who will be integrated to the Company due to the partial spin-off transaction, without the need to create new positions.

It is also worth noting that the entry of these Officers into management will in no way alter its envisaged budget, given that the amounts determined at the last Annual General Meeting for management's overall compensation and pension contributions have a sufficient margin to cover contingencies of this nature.

Concerning the increase in the age limit to exercise the position of Chief Executive Officer, on the date of election, the statutory modification will not have any change in the currently prevailing management structure at Bradesco.

Regarding the operation of the Ombudsman of the Organization, the intended amendment is to mainly meet the provisions of Resolution No. 4,433, of July 23, 2015, of the National Monetary Council, concerning the criteria to appoint and dismiss the ombudsperson.

HSBC Bank Brasil S.A. - Banco Múltiplo

Description of the risk factors under item 11 (a) of Appendix 20-A of CVM Instruction 481 of December 17, 2009 that may influence investment decisions, particularly those related to:

a) to the issuer

HSBC Bank, as a national financial institution, is subject to market risks related to the offering of activities of a wide range of banking products and financial services and in Brazil to individuals and companies, the latter of small, medium and large size.

Considering this fact and that HSBC is fully controlled by Bradesco, which also operates in the same market, the risks (i) are basically the same risks faced by Bradesco, as detailed in items 4.1 and 4.2 of Bradesco's Reference Form and (ii) are already considered in the Bradesco Organization; that's why we understand that they would not have the power to affect future investment decisions.

We also emphasize that, as a result the share of merger of the spun-off portion of HSBC Bank to Bradesco, Bradesco Cartões and Bradesco Leasing, with the migration of customers and their transactions to the companies aforementioned (except for specific operations that will continue at HSBC Bank), HSBC Bank will have a significant risk reduction, remaining, in a minimized manner, the risks described below.

We may experience increases in our costs and level of delay in the payment of loans, to the extent that our portfolio of loans matures.

The volatility and uncertainty in the credit markets may result in cost increase. These conditions may impact our ability to replace, in due time and at reasonable cost, the maturing obligations.

Adverse economic conditions may result in an increase in our loss due to the impairment of these transactions, write-downs and the ratio of loans and advances due concerning the total number of loans, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations. The recent performance of the portfolio reflected an increase in non-payment observed in the market, with consequent impact on results. Corrective measures have been adopted by management to improve the profile of credit recoveries.

Losses on our investments in securities can have a significant impact on our operating results and are unpredictable.

The value of some of our investments in financial assets may decrease significantly due to the volatility of the financial markets and may vary over short periods. The gains and losses with investments have had and will continue to have an impact on the results of operations. The amounts of these gains and losses, which we account as the investments in financial assets are sold, or in certain circumstances when they are marked to market or recognized at a fair value, may fluctuate substantially from one period to another. The level of oscillation partially depends on the investment policies and the fair value of financial assets, which in turn may vary considerably.

A failure or violation in our operating, security or technology systems may temporarily interrupt our business, increasing our costs and generating losses.

Although we have ostensible information of data security controls, carry out continuous investment in infrastructure, ensure the robustness of the operational processes and have crisis management plans in order, our data processing systems, operating systems, financial business, accounting or other instruments may stop operating correctly for a limited period of time or become temporarily disabled or damaged. Such events may occur as a result of a number of factors, including those that are wholly or partially out of our control, such as electrical or telecommunications failures; collapses; system failures or other events affecting third parties with whom we do business. They may also occur from the instruments used for our business activities, including exchange, clearing houses, financial intermediaries or service providers. Finally, they may be associated with events around local politics and large-scale events, or social problems and cyberattacks.

Our substantial reliance on technology, by its very nature, exposes us to infections by viruses, malicious software and other malicious attacks, which can unexpectedly affect the operation of our systems, used to manage and store confidential and/or sensitive data concerning our operations.

We and other financial institutions have gone through attacks on our computer systems. Although we have not suffered material or data losses from these attacks so far, it is possible that, given the use of new technologies, the growing reliance on the Internet, the changing nature and sophistication of attacks, we are unable to effectively predict and prevent all attacks.

Cyberattacks and temporary interruptions or failures in the physical structure or in operating systems that support our business and customers can result in problems with customer, regulatory fines, penalties or intervention, refund or other compensation costs.

We may incur in losses associated with counterparty exposures.

We face the possibility that the counterparties do not fulfill their contractual obligations. Such counterparties may become a defaulter due to bankruptcy, lack of liquidity, operational failure or other reasons. This risk may arise, for example, from swaps or other derivative agreements where the counterparties have an obligation to pay or perform coins or other businesses that do not occur in the required time due to delivery failure or system failures with clearing agents, exchange, clearing houses or other financial intermediaries.

b) to its controller, direct or indirect, or control group

HSBC Bank is controlled by Bradesco, a company member of the Bradesco Organization. Bradesco-related risks can be seen in item 4.1 of Bradesco's Reference Form.

c) to its shareholders

Bradesco is the sole shareholder of HSBC Bank

Back to indexã Page 51 in 134

d) to its subsidiaries and affiliates

HSBC Bank, as well as Bradesco holds an interest in the equity of companies operating in related and/or segments similar to the financial institutions, highlighting the segments of insurance, pension plan and capitalization. Except for the market risks inherent in such activities, which already are detailed in items 4.1 and 4.2 of Bradesco's Reference Form, HSBC Bank does not identify relevant risks related to its subsidiaries and affiliates.

e) to the suppliers

We are not exposed to material risks with our suppliers that may influence any decision to invest in our securities.

f) to the customers

We consider as a risk related "to our customers" the risk related to the "issuer", as described in item "a" of this section, which reads in "We may experience increases in our costs or level of delay in the payment of loans, to the extent that our portfolio of loans matures."

g) to the economy segments in which the issuer operates

The current weakness of the Brazilian macroeconomic conditions and the perception of certain risks and uncertainties related to Brazil may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and the results of our operations.

The results of our operations are significantly impacted by the macroeconomic conditions in Brazil. In previous years, we took advantage from the generally stable economic environment and the relatively strong annual growth of the Brazilian GDP. However, from 2013 on, the GDP growth began to slow as a result of several factors, including the weakening of the Brazilian currency, the increasing level of deficit in current accounts and the persistent inflation.

The reduction in the primary balances in recent years and the increase in net debt of the public sector have contributed to a further deterioration of the macroeconomic conditions. In addition, other events contributed to a slowdown even more intense in the economic activity of last year, affecting even more negative way the perception concerning the Brazilian risk. Still, the rise of the unemployment rate as a result of the macroeconomic conditions, creates risks to the banking industry (especially with the possibility of increase in the non-payment of households and companies).

The government exerts influence on the Brazilian economy and the political and economic conditions in Brazil have a direct impact on our business.

Our conditions and financial results of the operations substantially depend on the Brazilian economy, which in the past was characterized by frequent and occasionally drastic interventions by the government and volatile economic cycles.

Back to indexã Page 52 in 134

In the past, the government often changed monetary, fiscal and tax policies to influence the course of the Brazilian economy. We cannot control nor do we have ways to predict what measures or policies the government may take in response to the current or future Brazilian economic situation or how the government intervention and policies will affect the Brazilian economy and how they will affect our operations and revenues.

Historically, the political scenario of the country has influenced the performance of the Brazilian economy and political crises have affected the confidence of investors and of the public in general. Changes or uncertainties regarding the implementation of policies can contribute to economic uncertainty in Brazil, increasing the volatility in the Brazilian capital market.

h) to the regulation of industries in which the Company operates HSBC Bank meets the regulation of the Brazilian Central Bank that can adversely amend banking rules.

The government regulates the operations of Brazilian financial institutions and insurers. Changes in the existing laws and regulations or the imposition of new laws and regulations may adversely affect our operations and our revenues.

Brazilian banks, insurers and pension companies are subject to the extensive and continuous regulatory review by the government. We have no control over the government regulations, which govern all aspects of our operations, including the imposition of: (i) minimum capital requirements; (ii) requirements of compulsory deposits/reserves; (iii) investment limits in fixed assets; (iv) lending limits and other credit restrictions; (v) accounting and statistical requirements; (vi) minimum coverage; and (vii) mandatory provisioning policies.

The regulatory structure governing the Brazilian banks and insurers is constantly evolving. Existing laws and regulations may change, the way in which laws and regulations are interpreted or implemented may be different and new laws and regulations may be adopted. Such changes may adversely affect our operations and revenues.

Changes in tax and other tax assessments may adversely affect us.

The government regularly enacts amendments to tax and other releases that affect us and our customers. These amendments include changes in the incidence rate and, occasionally, the enactment of temporary taxes. The effects of these changes and other changes that result from the enactment of additional tax amendments have not been and cannot be quantified. There is no assurance that these amendments, once implemented, will not have a negative effect on our business. Moreover, such changes can cause uncertainty in the financial system, increasing the cost of loans and contributing to the increase in the portfolio of loans and advances overdue.

i) to foreign countries where the issuer operates

The risks to which our reliance abroad is exposed are not relevant that they may generate significant impacts and would not influence the investment decision.

Back to indexã Page 53 in 134

j) to environmental issues

The environmental risk is represented by the potential damage that an economic activity can cause to society and the environment. Social and environmental risks associated with financial institutions are mostly indirect and result from business relations, including those with the supply chain and customers, through financing and investment activities.

The Bradesco Organization promotes credit and financing, operating in different segments, which can significantly affect an entire ecosystem, involving local communities, flora and fauna. If a customer, in the development of its activities, generates an environmental impact such as soil contamination and water pollution above the limit set by regulations and/or environmental disasters, the customer has a direct obligation to financially compensate the damage caused and may have its economic financial structure compromised that may cause losses to the Bradesco Organization.

Description of the main market risks

Considering this fact and that HSBC Bank is fully controlled by Bradesco, which also operates in the banking retail market, the market risks to which HSBC Bank is exposed (i) are basically the same risks faced by Bradesco, as detailed in items 4.1 and 4.2 of Bradesco's Reference Form and (ii) are already considered in the Bradesco Organization; that's why we understand that they would not have the power to affect future investment decisions.

Main changes in the risk factors, pursuant to item 11 (b) of Appendix 20-A of CVM Instruction No. 481 of December 17, 2009

Regarding the last fiscal year, there were no significant changes in the main risks to which the Bradesco Organization is exposed and, consequently, HSBC Bank is exposed. The changes made in internal risk management policies/standards sought to reflect a more conservative approach to address the deterioration of the macroeconomic environment, which had an impact on the default of the customers. The integration process of part of HSBC Bank into Bradesco, which is in progress, should substantially mitigate the risks to which HSBC Bank is exposed.

Description of activities of HSBC Bank Brasil S.A. - Banco Múltiplo, pursuant to item 11 (c) of Appendix 20-A of CVM Instruction No. 481, of December 17, 2009

HSBC Bank operates offering activities of a wide range of banking products and financial services and in Brazil to individuals and companies, the latter of small, medium and large size. Considering the similarity of these activities with those developed by Bradesco, its controller, see details in items 4.1 and 4.2 of Bradesco's Reference Form. The development of such activities is already considered at Bradesco Organization, which is why we believe that they would not have the power to affect any investment decisions.

We also emphasize that with the merger of the spun-off portion of HSBC Bank to Bradesco, with the migration of customers and their transactions by Bradesco (except for specific operations that will continue at HSBC Bank), HSBC Bank will have a significant reduction in its activities.

The products and services currently distributed by HSBC Bank will be distributed by Bradesco, with the adjustments that may be necessary, in the markets in which it operates. Consequently, the revenues, profit or losses of each segment, conditions characteristic of participation in the market, competition in the markets, seasonal conditions, relationships and reliance on suppliers, price volatility, etc., will directly be fully reflected in Bradesco.

Banco Bradesco Cartões S.A.

Description of the risk factors under item 11 (a) of Appendix 20-A of CVM Instruction 481 of December 17, 2009 that may influence investment decisions, particularly those related to:

The activity of risk management is highly strategic due to the increasing complexity of services and products and to the globalization of the Bradesco Organization's business. The dynamism of the markets leads us to a constant improvement of this activity in the pursuit of the best practices.

Bradesco Organization exercises the corporate control of risks in an integrated and independent manner, preserving and enhancing the environment of collective decisions, developing and implementing methodologies, models, measurement and control tools.

Bradesco Cartões, as part of Bradesco Organization, adopts the same management structure of risks, of credit risks, market risks, liquidity risks and operational risks adopted by Bradesco Organization.

Description of the risk factors

The following describes the main risk factors that Bradesco Cartões considers relevant today. In the event they materialize, these risks could adversely affect our business, our financial and equity position.

We note that the risks described below are not the only risks to which the Institution is subject. Other risks that currently we are not aware of, in case they happen, can generate effects similar to those mentioned above.

It should be noted that the order in which the risks are presented reflect a relevant criterion established by the Organization.

a) to the Issuer

Adverse conditions in the credit and capital markets may adversely affect our ability to access resources in due time and at reduced costs.

The volatility and uncertainty in the credit and capital markets usually have reduced liquidity resulting in higher funding costs for financial and non-financial institutions. Such conditions may impact our ability to replace in due time and at reduced costs, the maturing obligations and/or access to resources to carry out our growth strategy. If we are forced to postpone capital increases or to pay discouraging interest rates in order to raise capital, our financial condition and the results of our operations may be adversely affected.

The ever-increasing competitive environment in the segments of banking and payment method may negatively affect the prospects for our business.

The markets for financial, banking and payment methods services are highly competitive. We face a significant competition from other Brazilian and foreign, public and private, big banks and companies of payment methods in all main areas of operation.

Back to indexã Page 56 in 134

The competition has increased as a result of the consolidation among financial institutions in Brazil and the regulations of the National Monetary Council, which made it easier for customers to switch their banking resources/business. The increased competition may significantly affect us adversely, among other things, limiting our ability to retain and grow our existing customer base and expand our operations, reducing our profit margins on banking and other products and services we offer, limiting opportunities for investment.

The increased competition may adversely affect the results of our business and potential business, among other things:

- limiting our ability to increase our customer base and expand our operations;
- reducing our profit margins of banking products and services and other services and products offered by us; and
- increasing the competition for foreign investment opportunities.

We may experience increases in our level of delay in the payment of loans, to the extent that our portfolio of loans and advances matures.

Our portfolio of loans and advances has been growing in recent years. The levels of nonperforming loans are usually higher for our individual clients than for corporate clients.

Adverse economic conditions and a lower growth rate of our loans and advances to customers may result in an increase in our loss due to the impairment of these transactions, write-downs and index of loans and advances due concerning the total number of loans, which may have an adverse effect on our business, financial condition and results of operations.

A failure or violation in our operating, security or technology systems may temporarily interrupt our business, increasing our costs and generating losses.

Although we have ostensible data security controls, carry out continuous investment in infrastructure, operations and have a crisis management in order, our data processing systems, financial and accounting business operating systems, or other tools may stop operating correctly for a limited period of time or become temporarily disabled or damaged as a result of a number of factors, including events that are wholly or partially out of our control, such as electrical or telecommunications failures; collapses; system failures or other events affecting third parties with whom we do business or in our tools used for business activities, including exchange, clearing houses, financial intermediaries and service providers; and events concerning local politics and large-scale issues, or social and cyberattacks problems.

Risk factors related to Banco Bradesco Cartões S.A. required by item 11a of Appendix 20-A of CVM Instruction No.

Our substantial reliance on technology, by its very nature, exposes us to infections by viruses, malicious software and other malicious attacks, which can unexpectedly affect the operation of our systems, used to manage and store confidential and/or sensitive data concerning our operations.

We and other financial institutions have gone through attacks on our computer systems. Although we have not suffered material or data losses from these attacks so far, it is possible that, given the use of new technologies, the growing reliance on the Internet, the changing nature and sophistication of attacks, that we are unable to effectively predict and prevent all attacks. Cyberattacks and temporary interruptions or failures in the physical structure or in operating systems that support our business and customers can result in problems with customer, regulatory fines, penalties or intervention, refund or other compensation costs.

Fraud Risk

The risk of fraud consists in the deliberate act of omission or manipulation of transaction and tampering with documents and/or records involving transactions made with credit and debit cards.

b) to its controller, direct or indirect, or control group

Bradesco Cartões is controlled by Bradesco, a company member of the Bradesco Organization. Bradesco-related risks can be seen in item 4.1 of Bradesco's Reference Form.

c) to its shareholders

Bradesco is the sole shareholder of Bradesco Cartões

d) to its subsidiaries and affiliates

The main subsidiaries of Bradesco Cartões develop activities related to the payment method segment. The potential inability of these subsidiaries to monitor market trends and offer new payment methods can cause significant and adverse effects. The payment methods industry must constantly monitor the changing expectations of merchants and card carriers, as well as technological advances. It is expected that new payment methods, associated with new technologies, among which are transactions originated and captured by mobile phone, are developed and implemented in order to meet the demand of carriers for ease, speed and security in the use of credit and debit cards.

Since July 2010, the card market in Brazil has been marked by a new competitive environment in which the Purchasers (institutions that settle transactions made through credit and debit cards - example Cielo) operate simultaneously with the main goals for credit and debit cards, among them Visa and MasterCard, which generates a greater competition between the various competitors and participants in the cards market.

e) to its suppliers

Bradesco Cartões is not exposed to significant risks with its suppliers.

f) to its customers

We consider as a risk related "to its customers" the risk related to the "Institution", as described in item "a" of this section.

g) to the economy segments in which the Institution operates

Back to indexã Page 58 in 134

The current weakness of the Brazilian macroeconomic conditions and the perception of certain risks and uncertainties related to Brazil may have a material adverse effect on our financial condition and the results of our operations.

The results of our operations are significantly impacted by the macroeconomic conditions in Brazil. In previous years, we took advantage from the generally stable economic environment and the relatively strong annual growth of the Brazilian GDP. However, from 2013 on, the Brazilian GDP growth began to slow as a result of several factors, including the weakening of the Brazilian currency, the increasing level of deficit in current accounts and the persistent inflation.

The reduction in the primary balances in recent years and the increase in net debt of the public sector have contributed to a further deterioration of the macroeconomic conditions. In addition, other events contributed to a slowdown even more intense in the economic activity of last year, affecting even more negative way the perception concerning the Brazilian risk. Still, the rise of the unemployment rate as a result of the macroeconomic conditions, creates risks to the banking industry (especially with the possibility of increase in the non-payment of households and companies). At the same time, the inflation still high may lead to an increase in the basic interest rate of financial assets, which can also influence the profitability of our operations.

The continuity of any of these factors or of the combination of them, may lead to a further slowdown in the GDP growth, which may have an adverse effect on our financial conditions and the results of our operations.

The government exerts influence on the Brazilian economy and the political and economic conditions in Brazil have a direct impact on our business.

Our conditions and financial results of the operations substantially depend on the Brazilian economy, which in the past was characterized by frequent and occasionally drastic interventions by the government and volatile economic cycles.

In the past, the government often changed monetary, fiscal and tax policies to influence the course of the Brazilian economy. We cannot control nor do we have ways to predict what measures or policies the government may take in response to the current or future Brazilian economic situation or how the government intervention and policies will affect the Brazilian economy and how they will affect our operations and revenues.

Historically, the political scenario of the country has influenced the performance of the Brazilian economy and the political crises have affected the confidence of investors and of the general public, which resulted in a slowdown of the economy and an increased volatility of securities of Brazilian companies issued abroad.

h) the regulation of segments in which the institution operates

The government regulates the operations of Brazilian financial institutions. Changes in the existing laws and regulations or the imposition of new laws and regulations may adversely affect our operations and our revenues.

Back to indexã Page 59 in 134

Brazilian banks, including our banking and payment methods operations are subject to extensive and continuous regulatory review by the government. We have no control over government regulations, which governs all aspects of our operations, including the imposition of:

- minimum capital requirements;
- reserve/compulsory deposit requirements;
- investment limits in fixed assets;
- loan limits and other credit restrictions;
- accounting and statistical requirements;
- minimum coverage; and
- mandatory provisioning policies.

The regulatory structure governing the Brazilian banks is constantly evolving. Existing laws and regulations may change, the way in which laws and regulations are interpreted or implemented may be different and new laws and regulations may be adopted. Such changes may adversely affect our operations and revenues.

The government, in particular, historically promulgated regulations affecting financial institutions in an attempt to implement its economic policies. These regulations are intended to control the availability of credit and reduce or increase consumption in Brazil. These changes may adversely affect us. The regulations issued by the Central Bank does not go through the legislative process, so that its enactment and implementation can occur in a very short time, affecting our activities in an unforeseen and sudden manner.

Standards may be edited to change the rules of the card segment, which may affect the adversely and materially institution. Several bills are also being handled by the National Congress in order to change the regulation of the payment method with cards segment. The main initiatives deal with:

- limiting management fees charged to merchants and payment terms;

- the possibility to set different prices in the sale of goods or the provision of paid services with credit and debts cards in relation to other payment methods in cash; and
- ISS impact on services provided in powdered manner in Brazilian cities.

These bills are at different stages at the National Congress and represent uncertainty focuses on the regulatory framework to be faced by the institution in the coming years.

Still, any increase in the rate of Tax on Financial Operations (IOF) in transactions with card may materially affect the use of cards and consequently reduce the results of the institution.

Changes in tax and other tax assessments may adversely affect us.

The government regularly enacts amendments to tax and other releases that affect us and our customers. These amendments include changes in the incidence rate and, occasionally, the enactment of temporary taxes, whose proceeds are intended for government purposes. The effects of these changes and other changes that result from the enactment of additional tax amendments have not been and cannot be quantified. There is no assurance that these amendments, once implemented, will not have a negative effect on our business. Moreover, such changes can cause uncertainty in the financial system, increasing the cost of loans and contributing to the increase in the portfolio of loans and advances overdue.

i) to foreign countries where the institution operates

The risks to which our operations abroad are exposed are not relevant, because they cannot generate significant impacts that may influence any investment decision.

It should be mentioned that the operations of our Dependencies Abroad are supported by policies, standards and procedures issued by the Bradesco Organization.

j) to environmental issues

The environmental risk is represented by the potential damage that an economic activity can cause to society and the environment. Social and environmental risks associated with financial institutions are mostly indirect and result from business relations, including those with the supply chain and customers, through financing and investment activities, observing the principles of relevance and proportionality of activities of the Bradesco Organization.

Main changes in the risk factors, pursuant to item 11 (b) of Appendix 20-A of CVM Instruction No. 481 of December 17, 2009

Regarding the last fiscal year, there were no significant changes in the main risks to which Banco Bradesco and Bradesco Cartões are exposed.

Bradesco Cartões may eventually suffer some increase in risk exposure as a result of the merger of the spun-off portion of HSBC Bank, due to the absorption of all the rights and obligations regarding the spun-off portion.

The market for credit cards in Brazil is highly competitive. Our main competitors are Banco do Brasil S.A., Itaú Unibanco Holdings S.A. and Banco Santander (Brasil) S.A. The Management believes that the main competitive factors in this area are the interest rates, the annual fees, the distribution network of cards and the benefits on the cards.

There are no clients that are responsible for over 10% of the revenue of Bradesco Cartões.
