Item 2.02 Results of Operations and Financial Condition.

On May 10, 2007, we issued a press release announcing our financial results for the first quarter ended March 31, 2007. A copy of the press release is attached as Exhibit 99.1.

The information in this Form 8-K and the attached exhibit shall not be deemed "filed" for purposes of Section 18 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or otherwise subject to the liability of that section nor shall it be deemed incorporated by reference in any filing under the Securities Act of 1933, except as shall be expressly set forth by specific reference in such filing.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

We define "EBITDA" as net income (loss) from continuing operations before interest expense, income taxes, and depreciation and amortization. We define "EBITDA, as adjusted" for the periods presented as EBITDA as adjusted for the fee paid in connection with the termination of a management services agreement that was recorded in the first quarter ended March 31, 2006.

We use EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, in our business operations to, among other things, evaluate the performance of our business, develop budgets and measure our performance against those budgets. We also believe that analysts and investors use EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, as supplemental measures to evaluate a company's overall operating performance. However, EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, have material limitations as analytical tools and you should not consider these measures in isolation, or as substitutes for analysis of our results as reported under GAAP. We find EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, useful tools to assist us in evaluating performance because they eliminate items related to capital structure, taxes and non-cash charges. The items that we have eliminated in determining EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, are interest expense, income taxes, depreciation of fixed assets, which includes rental equipment and property and equipment, and amortization of intangible assets and, in the case of EBITDA, as adjusted, as EBITDA as adjusted for the management services agreement termination fee that was recorded in the first quarter ended March 31, 2006. However, some of these eliminated items are significant to our business. For example, (i) interest expense is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate revenue because we incur a significant amount of interest expense related to our outstanding indebtedness; (ii) payment of income taxes is a necessary element of our costs; and (iii) depreciation is a necessary element of our costs and ability to generate revenue because rental equipment is the single largest component of our total assets and we recognize a significant amount of depreciation expense over the estimated useful life of this equipment. Any measure that eliminates components of our capital structure and costs associated with carrying significant amounts of fixed assets on our balance sheet has material limitations as a performance measure. In light of the foregoing limitations, we do not rely solely on EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, as performance measures and also consider our GAAP results. EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, are not measurements of our financial performance under GAAP and should not be considered as alternatives to net income, operating income or any other measures derived in accordance with GAAP. Because EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, are not calculated in the same manner by all companies, EBITDA and EBITDA, as adjusted, may not be comparable to other similarly titled measures used by other companies.

The "as adjusted" operating results presented in the earnings release show, for comparative purposes only, first quarter 2007 operating results compared to first quarter 2006 operating results without the negative impact of the $8.0 million non-recurring expense associated with the termination of a management services agreement in connection with the Company's initial public offering in February 2006.
