Media General to Hold Special Shareholders Meeting on November 7, 2013 to Approve Merger with Young Broadcasting

RICHMOND, Va. – A Special Meeting of the Stockholders of Media General, Inc. (NYSE: MEG) will be held on November 7, 2013 at 11:00 a.m. ET, at 111 North 4th Street, Richmond, Virginia, to approve the company's merger with New Young Broadcasting Holding Co, Inc.

A proxy statement/prospectus was mailed to shareholders on October 8, 2013, and it provides detailed information about the meeting. The Media General Board of Directors has established September 5, 2013 as the record date for the Special Meeting.

“We are very excited about the prospects for the combined company,” said George L. Mahoney, president and chief executive of Media General. “The business combination of Media General and Young is a transformational event that will benefit shareholders, employees and the communities we serve. The combination provides immediate accretion to free cash flow, a strong balance sheet, the opportunity to refinance debt at a much lower cost, which is already committed, and attractive synergies. Young’s management and its owners share Media General’s commitment to quality local journalism and to operating top-rated TV stations, making this merger a unique and compelling combination with significant growth potential.”

The new company will retain the Media General name and will remain headquartered in Richmond, VA. Upon completion of the merger, the Young stations will be subsidiaries of Media General. Mr. Mahoney will serve as the president and chief executive of the combined company.

On June 5, 2013, the Board of Directors of Media General, Inc. unanimously approved Media General's entry into a merger agreement providing for a business combination of Media General and New Young Broadcasting Holding Co., Inc., a privately held company that, like Media General, is a local broadcast television and digital media company. The combined company will own or operate 31 network-affiliated television stations across 28 markets, reaching approximately 16.5 million, or approximately 14%, of U.S. TV households. On a pro forma basis, the combined company's 2012 revenues would have been approximately $588 million, including approximately $113 million of political revenues. Approximately $44 million of annual operating and financing synergies have been identified in connection with the transaction, which are expected to improve the operational and financial performance levels of the combined company. The combined company will have a strong balance sheet, including significant net operating loss carryforwards that will survive the transaction, and an enhanced credit profile.

The combined company will have stations with a more balanced mix of network affiliations and will have a presence in many more top markets. The balance of network affiliations of the combined company will include CBS (12), NBC (9), ABC (7), Fox (1), CW (1) and MyNetwork TV (1). Sixteen of the combined company's 31 stations are located in the top 75 designated market areas.
