Lamperd Less Lethal Receives Fifth Large Order from Major Distributor

Sales Growth Continues Due to Rising Demand for Advanced Security Products and New Product Introduction

SARNIA, ON--(November 28, 2016) - Lamperd Less Lethal, Inc. (OTC : LLLI) has now received a fifth purchase order from Lockhart Tactical (<http://www.lockharttactical.com/>).

Lamperd has developed a new pepper spray grenade that has the less lethal industry buzzing with excitement. We are currently in talks with a large U.S. police force who are especially interested in this product. The excitement is caused by the products ability to explode in the air and cover 200 square feet without any harmful fall out to anyone while protecting the police forces and military personnel using it. The “grenade” only weighs 1.5 ounces making it easy to carry and throw. Lamperd knows of no other product like it anywhere else. Lamperd expects this product to be the future for riot and crowd control!

About the Company

Lamperd Less Lethal, Inc. (LLLI) is a developer, manufacturer and international sales company for advanced less lethal weapons, ammunition and other security products marketed to police, correctional, military and private security forces of any NATO country.
