Item 8.01 Other Events.

On September 28, 2018, Groupon, Inc. (the “Company”) and International Business Machines Corporation (“IBM”) entered into settlement and license agreements fully resolving the pending patent litigation and related proceedings between the Company and IBM. The settlement terms provide, among other terms, for the payment by the Company of $57.5 million to IBM, a cross-license to the parties’ respective patent portfolios, mutual releases of claims and the dismissal with prejudice of all pending litigation between the parties. In addition, IBM will consider making available to its employees certain of the Company’s products.

In connection with the settlement, as previously disclosed, on July 27, 2018, a jury in the patent litigation pending in the United States District Court for the District of Delaware returned a verdict finding the Company willfully infringed certain IBM patents and awarded damages of $82.5 million to IBM. The Company previously recorded charges to fully accrue for the potential liability relating to this judgment. The parties have asked the court to vacate that judgment in connection with the settlement.

The press release announcing the settlement is filed as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and incorporated herein by reference.
