Item 1.01 Entry into Material Definitive Agreements

On December 31, 2008, Socket Mobile, Inc. (the "Company") entered into new domestic and international working capital credit facility agreements (the "Loan Agreements") with Silicon Valley Bank (the "Lender"), replacing the prior credit facility agreements with the Lender. This transaction was reported on Form 8-K dated December 31, 2008 and filed on January 7, 2009.

On February 19, 2008, the Company and the Lender amended the Loan Agreements effective as of February 15, 2009 (the "Amendments") to extend the expiration date to March 24, 2010, and to reallocate the line limits to enable the Company to continue to borrow up to $2.5 million, of which up to $1.5 million is based on qualified receivables from domestic (U.S. based) customers and up to $1.0 million is based on qualified receivables from international customers. The Company must maintain minimum liquidity based upon a quick ratio calculated at the end of each month. The quick ratio is equal to the quotient of (i) cash and cash equivalents plus net eligible accounts receivables, divided by (ii) current liabilities minus deferred revenues. The minimum quick ratio required at March 31, 2009 is 0.75 and increases to 0.9 at the end of April and May 2009 and to 1.0 thereafter.

The foregoing description of the Amendments does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the Amendments, copies of which are attached hereto as Exhibits 10.1 and Exhibit 10.2 and are incorporated herein by reference.
