ADVANCED SEMICONDUCTOR ENGINEERING, INC.
ANNOUNCES SEPTEMBER 2005 NET REVENUES AND SALE OF ITS CAMERA MODULE ASSEMBLY OPERATION TO FLEXTRONICS

TAIPEI, TAIWAN, R.O.C., OCTOBER 7, 2005 □ ADVANCED SEMICONDUCTOR ENGINEERING, INC. (NYSE: ASX, TAIEX: 2311, □ASE□ or the □Company□), announces its unaudited consolidated net revenues for the month of September 2005. ASE also announces today that ASE Test Limited (ASE Test), one of the Company□s subsidiaries, signed an Asset Purchase Agreement with Flextronics for Flextronics to acquire ASE Test□s camera module assembly operation in Penang, Malaysia for around US$18.7 million. The purchase price is expected to cover the book value of the equipment and inventory to be transferred to Flextronics, plus an acquisition premium that reflects certain intangibles. Under the agreement, ASE Test will sell the assets and inventory, and transfer the employees, of its camera module assembly operations in Penang, Malaysia to Flextronics. In addition to the Asset Purchase Agreement, both parties signed a Tenancy Agreement for Flextronics to lease from ASE Test the factory floor space currently housing the camera module assembly operations. Both parties are expected to enter into a Transition Service Agreement to ensure a smooth transition of such operation from ASE Test to Flextronics.

As part of the Agreements, ASE Test will not invoice Flextronics the normal selling price of the camera modules shipped during the month of September 2005 (also known as the "Transition Period"). Instead, Flextronics will reimburse ASE Test for the actual costs incurred by ASE Test in the assembly of camera modules during the Transition Period. As a result, ASE Test will not recognize revenues from the assembly of camera modules shipped to Flextronics in September.
