Table of Contents*3Q09*1. SUMMARY

Bancolombia S.A. ( Bancolombia or the Bank ) reports consolidated net income of 321.2 billion Colombian pesos ( COP ) for the quarter ended September 30, 2009 ( 3Q09 ) or COP 408 per share-U.S. $0.85 per ADR. Net income for 3Q09 increased 27% as compared to the results for the quarter ended June 30, 2009 ( 2Q09 ) and decreased 12% as compared to the results for the quarter ended September, 2008 ( 3Q08 ). Bancolombia s annualized return on average shareholders equity ( ROE ) for 3Q09 was 20.1%, improving from 16.5% in 2Q09.

For the first nine months of 2009, net income totaled COP 885.4 billion (COP 1,124 per share-USD 2.33 per ADR), decreasing 11% as compared to the same period last year.

The main components of revenue presented mixed results in 3Q09:

Net interest income totaled COP 849.2 billion, decreasing 8% as compared to 2Q09 driven by lower loan volumes and lower margins resulting from lower market interest rates.

Net fees and income from services totaled COP 368.6 billion, down 3% as compared to 2Q09.

On the positive side, other operating income totaled COP 102.4 billion, significantly higher than the COP 20 billion for 2Q09. Bancolombia notes that it finished amortizing the effects generated by methodology changes in the valuation of derivatives in 2Q09.

Overall, total revenue amounted to COP 1,320 billion, remaining stable as compared to COP 1,326 billion for 2Q09.

Bancolombia ended 3Q09 with COP 60,087 billion in assets, down 5% as compared to 2Q09. Assets denominated in currencies other than COP (primarily U.S. dollars USD ) represented 26% of total assets by the end of 3Q09. Therefore, the 10% appreciation of the COP against the U.S. dollar during 3Q09 explained, to an extent, the reduction in assets. Nonetheless, loan volumes were lower than expected in 3Q09. COP-denominated loans decreased 4.3% while USD-denominated loans remained flat during 3Q09. This performance is explained by higher than anticipated prepayments on corporate loans motivated by increased activity of non-financial firms in the domestic and international debt markets. Additionally, credit demand remained weak due to low levels of economic activity, further contributing to the sluggish performance of volumes.

On a positive note, the pace of asset deterioration slowed down for the second consecutive quarter. The increase in past due loans before charge-offs for 3Q09 was COP 192.2 billion, down from COP 237.9 billion and COP 389 billion for 2Q09 and 1Q09 respectively. Consequently, and helped by recoveries, net provision charges were significantly lower in 3Q09, totaling COP 168 billion, half the amount of charges for 2Q09. Despite the lower deterioration, past due loans ( PDLs ), those overdue more than 30 days, represented 4.1% of gross loans, up from 3.9% in 2Q09. The PDL increase was primarily driven by the loan portfolio reduction presented in 3Q09.

Above all, Bancolombia maintained a strong balance sheet during 3Q09. The Bank s reserves for loan losses represented 5.5% of total loans by the end of 3Q09 while coverage, measured by the ratio of allowances for loans and accrued interest losses to past due loans (overdue more than 30 days) ended the quarter at 135%. Likewise, the Bank s capital ratio increased during 3Q09. Capital adequacy (tier 1+2 capital ratio) finished at 13.8% in 3Q09, considerably higher than the 11.4% presented in 3Q08.

Table of Contents*3Q09*2. CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET*2.1. Assets

As of September 30, 2009, BANCOLOMBIA's assets totaled COP 60,087 billion, representing a decrease of 5.0% as compared to the end of 2Q09 and an increase of 3.7% as compared to the end of 3Q08. COP-denominated assets totaled COP 44,614 by the end of 3Q09 decreasing 3.5% as compared to 2Q09 and increasing 8.8% as compared to 3Q08. Assets denominated in currencies other than COP (primarily USD) represented 26% of total assets (or USD 8.0 billion) by the end of 3Q09, and increased 1.2% as compared to 2Q09 and 3.5% as compared to 3Q08. However, the 10% appreciation of the COP against the USD during 3Q09 affected the translation to COP of assets denominated in currencies other than COP, more than off-setting their growth.

Asset structure had slight changes during 3Q09: net loans and financial leases accounted for 66% of assets, decreasing as compared to the 67% represented at the end of 2Q09, while net investments securities increased to 13.5% from 11.9% the previous quarter.

2.1.1 Loan Portfolio

As of September 30, 2009, BANCOLOMBIA's gross loans totaled COP 42,086 billion, decreasing 6% as compared to 2Q09 and remaining stable as compared to the level presented at the end of 3Q08. Although disintermediation driven by capital markets and low levels of credit demand experienced in 3Q09 explain to a large extent the decrease in loan volumes, the significant appreciation of the COP, which affects the translation of USD-denominated loans to COP, magnified the quarter's variation in the loans figure. At the end of 3Q09 USD denominated loans represented 24% of the loan portfolio.

During 3Q09, BANCOLOMBIA maintained a strong balance sheet through the adequate coverage of its loan portfolio. For further explanation regarding coverage of the loan portfolio, please see Section 4 Asset Quality and Balance Sheet Strength of this report.

Peso denominated lending activity and loan portfolio

COP-denominated loans decreased 4% during the quarter, totaling 32,063 billion. Such sluggish performance was driven by dynamic bond issue activity of local firms in the domestic and international debt markets which caused higher than anticipated prepayment of loans and lower general credit demand within the corporate segment. Likewise, demand for consumer credit remained weak. Consumer loans totaled COP 4,834 billion, decreasing 3% during the quarter, while financial leases totaled COP 4,788 billion, flat as compared to 2Q09. In contrast, mortgage lending activity was dynamic, driven mainly by the Colombian government's housing subsidy program that was implemented in April 09 and also by lower long-term interest rates in Colombia. When accounting for securitized loans, mortgages increased 4% in 3Q09 (Bancolombia securitized COP 200 billion of mortgage loans in the local market in 3Q09).

USD denominated lending activity

During 3Q09, the USD-denominated loan portfolio remained stable, totaling USD 5.2 billion. Performance of main loan categories was mixed: commercial loans decreased slightly, driven by a still weak economic environment in El Salvador and low levels of international trade affecting our clients, while consumer loans increased 1% during the quarter.

2.1.2. Investment Portfolio

As of September 30, 2009, Bancolombia s net investment securities amounted to COP. 8,126 billion, increasing 8% as compared to 2Q09, and 17% as compared to 3Q08. Net investment securities are primarily investments in debt securities, which represented 98% of Bancolombia s net investment securities portfolio and 13.3% of total assets at the end of 3Q09, up from 11.6% of assets at the end of 2Q09.

2.2. Funding

As of September 30, 2009, Bancolombia s liabilities totaled COP 53,493 billion, decreasing 6% as compared to 2Q09 and increasing 2% as compared to 3Q08. During 3Q09, the Bank maintained a solid liquidity position. The ratio of net loans to deposits (including borrowings from development banks) was 92% at the end of 3Q09, which compares favorably to the 99% level presented in 3Q08.

In line with the decrease in loan volumes, deposits totaled COP 40,347 billion, down 6% as compared to the figure for 2Q09. Nonetheless, there were no significant changes in the Bank's liabilities structure: deposits represented 75% of total liabilities, liabilities in the form of bonds or notes represented 10%, and borrowing from domestic development banks represented 6%.

With regard to the deposits mix, non-interest bearing deposits (12% of deposits) decreased 3% from the end of 2Q09 ending the quarter at COP 4,844 billion. On a yearly basis, non-interest bearing deposits increased 6% from the end of 3Q08. On the other hand, interest bearing deposits (88% of deposits) decreased 6% during 3Q09 as compared to 2Q09. Overall, time deposits decreased their relative size in the funding mix to 47% from 50% in 2Q09, while demand deposits increased to 52% from 49% at the end of 2Q09.

Primarily as a result of lower risk weighted assets, Bancolombia's capital ratio increased during 3Q09. Capital adequacy (tier 1+ 2 capital ratio) finished the quarter at 13.8%, increasing from 12.9% in 2Q09 and considerably higher than the 11.4% presented in 3Q08.

Net income for 3Q09 totaled COP 321.2 billion (COP 408 per share or USD $0.85 per ADR), increasing 27% as compared to the results for 2Q09, and decreasing 12% as compared to the results for 3Q08. The ROE for 3Q09 was 20.1%, improving from 16.5% in 2Q09.

For the first nine months of 2009, net income totaled COP 885.4 billion (COP 1,124 per share-USD 2.33 per ADR), decreasing 11% as compared to the same period last year. ROE for the first nine month of 2009 is 18.8%.

3.1. Net Interest Income

During 3Q09, interest on loans reached COP 1,140 billion, decreasing 13% as compared to 2Q09, due to additional compression in interest margins and lower loan volumes. During 3Q09, interest rates continued on a downward trend in Colombia. The Depósitos a Término Fijo rate ( DTF ), which is the weighted average interest rate paid by finance corporations, commercial banks and commercial finance companies for certificates of deposit with maturities of 90 days, fell an additional 77 basis points during the quarter, reaching 4.77% in the week of September 28, 2009. This decrease impacts a significant portion of BANCOLOMBIA's loan portfolio that is indexed to the DTF. Likewise, interest on financial leases totaled COP 165 billion in 3Q09, decreasing 14% as compared to 2Q09, while interest on investment securities decreased 6% over the quarter, totaling COP 129 billion.

Overall, total interest income was COP 1,450 billion during 3Q09, decreasing 12% as compared to 2Q09, while interest expense was COP 601 billion, down 17% as compared to the previous quarter, partly offsetting the drop in interest income. Consequently, net interest income for 3Q09 totaled COP 849 billion, down 77 billion, or 8%, as compared to 2Q09. As a result of decreasing interest rates and their net effect in the net interest income, net interest margin was 6.3% for 3Q09, down from the 6.7% for 2Q09.

3.2. Fees and Income from Services

For the nine month period ended September 30, 2009, net fees and income from services totaled COP 1,115 billion, increasing 17% as compared to the same period last year, driven primarily by the solid performance of credit and debit card annual fees, fiduciary activities, and collection and payments fees.

During 3Q09, net fees and income from services totaled COP 369 billion, decreasing 3% as compared to 2Q09 and increasing 6% as compared to 3Q08. In particular, collection and payment fees performed well, increasing 5% during the quarter, followed by branch network services which increased 3%, fees related to foreign trade which increased 22% and brokerage fees which increased 16%. However, credit and debit card annual fees, the biggest contributor to total fees, decreased slightly during the quarter (they decreased 2%), while commissions from banking services and other services were down 15%. Fiduciary activities continued their solid performance, contributing COP 42 billion in fees during the quarter, close to the level presented for 2Q09.

In general, Bancolombia increased its participation in the credit card business during the last 12 months. As of September 30, 2009 Bancolombia's accumulated credit card billing totaled COP 4,227 billion or 27% of the billing market share, increasing 6% in volumes from the COP 3,993 billion or 26% of billing market share recorded during the same period last year. In terms of number of credit cards, the Bank had 997,070 outstanding traditional franchise credit cards or 19.3% market share in Colombia by the end of 3Q09, which favorably compares to the 18.3% market share it, had at the end of 3Q08.

3.3. Other Operating Income

As explained in recent quarters, the other operating income line item was substantially affected by non-recurring events in 1Q09 and 2Q09 related to methodology changes in the derivatives valuation thereby affecting the comparison basis between periods. Bancolombia notes that it finished amortizing the difference in carrying value of derivatives related to changes in valuation methodology changes in 2Q09. As a result, total other operating income amounted to COP 102 billion in 3Q09, considerably higher than the COP 20 billion for 2Q09, although 22% lower than the level presented in 3Q08.

The combined revenue related to net foreign exchange gains and derivative financial instruments totaled a COP 21 billion in 3Q09, up COP 82 billion as compared to the negative value presented in 2Q09. In particular, 2Q09 was impacted by a reduction in the carrying value of derivatives which negatively impacted the income from derivative financial instruments in COP 62.9 billion.

Communication, postage, rent and others (primarily comprising income related to operating leases and commercial discounts) totaled COP 42 billion in 3Q09, representing an increase of 9% as compared to 2Q09.

The remaining other operating income categories (i.e. dividend income, securitization income, revenues from commercial subsidiaries, gains on sales of equity securities and insurance income) had an aggregate revenue of COP 39 billion, decreasing 5% as compared to 2Q09.

For the nine month period ended September 30, 2009, total other operating income amounted to COP 249 billion, decreasing 46% as compared to the same period of 2008. This performance is largely explained by the negative impact of the changes in methodology for the valuation of derivatives which caused charges of COP 123 billion during the first half of 2009. The non-recurring gain on sales of equity securities for COP 37.2 billion in connection with the sale of the Bank's interest in Multienlace S.A. recorded in 2Q08 should also be taken into account when comparing these periods.

Table of Contents*3Q09*3.4. Provision charges

Driven by lower asset deterioration and recoveries of provisions related to loan prepayments, provision charges were significantly lower in 3Q09, totaling COP 168 billion, and decreasing 51% as compared to 2Q09, and 31% as compared to 3Q08. Under Colombian regulator's provisioning models, a loan loss reserve is constituted upon the initial disbursement of any loan. Therefore, loan prepayments produce recoveries of loan loss reserves. On a relative basis, annualized provision charges for 3Q09 represented 1.5% of average loans, considerably lower than the 3.1% in 2Q09, and the 2.4% for 3Q08.

For the nine month period ended September 30, 2009, provision charges totaled COP 853 billion, increasing 29% as compared to the same period last year. On a relative basis, annualized provision charges for the first nine months of 2009 represented 2.6% of average loans.

For an explanation of the trends driving the current level of provisions charges, please see Section 4 Asset Quality and Balance Sheet Strength of this report.

3.5. Operating expenses

During 3Q09, operating expenses totaled COP 696 billion, increasing 2% as compared to 2Q09, and 9% as compared to the figures for 3Q08. For the nine month period ended September 30, 2009, operating expenses totaled COP 2,094 billion, increasing 14% as compared to the same period last year.

Administrative and other expenses increased 5% in 3Q09, totaling COP 352 billion. On a yearly basis, administrative and other expenses increased 11% as compared to 3Q08 driven by increased fees paid in connection with software development and IT upgrades the Bank is currently undertaking.

Personnel expenses (the sum of salaries and employee benefits, bonus plan payments and compensation) totaled COP 277 billion in 3Q09, decreasing 2% as compared to 2Q09 and increasing 3% as compared to 3Q08. Such performance has been primarily driven by lower bonus plan payments related to BANCOLOMBIA's variable compensation program in which compensation is determined taking into account the economic value added by the firm.

Depreciation expense totaled COP 48 billion in 3Q09, up 36% as compared to 3Q08, driven by the growth in the depreciation of assets that are part of the operating lease business of BANCOLOMBIA. In particular, COP 19.2 billion or 40% of the quarter's depreciation expense is associated with operating lease assets.

As a result of lower revenues and higher expenses, efficiency deteriorated in 3Q09. The ratio of operating expenses to operating income increased to 53.9% from 52.7% the previous quarter. On the contrary, operating expenses represented 4.6% of total assets in 3Q09, a lower percentage than the 4.7% they represented in 3Q08.

3.6. Effect of non-recurring items in results

The following is the summary of the most representative non-recurring events affecting the Bank's results in 3Q09, 2Q09 and 3Q08:

Other operating income line item was impacted by a negative impact on derivative financial instruments in 2Q09 by a COP 62.9 billion charge related to rule changes concerning valuation methodologies for derivative instruments established by the Colombian regulator. As previously noted, the Bank finished amortizing the reductions related to such regulatory changes in 2Q09.

Table of Contents*3Q09

As part of Mastercard's payment network restructuring into the public corporation called Mastercard Incorporated and Visa's similar restructuring into the public corporation called Visa Inc, Bancolombia, as member, received stocks of such new listed corporations. During 3Q09 Bancolombia sold its interest in both companies which produced non-recurring gains (before taxes) totaling COP 28.9 billion registered as non-operating income.

4. ASSET QUALITY AND BALANCE SHEET STRENGTH

On a positive note, the pace of asset deterioration slowed down for the second consecutive quarter. New net past due loans (before charge-offs) amounted to COP 192 billion in 3Q09, which favorably compares to COP 238 billion for 2Q09 and COP 389 billion for 1Q09. In addition, net loans less charge-offs totaled COP 189 billion in 3Q09, down from COP 331 billion in charge-offs for 2Q09.

Despite a lower pace of deterioration, and largely due to the reduction in the size of the loan portfolio, the PDL ratio (for loans overdue more than 30 days) increased to 4.1% in 3Q09 from 3.9% in 2Q09. Nonetheless, PDLs totaled COP. 1,740 billion, stable from the COP 1,737 billion for 2Q09.

Driven by lower asset deterioration and recoveries of provisions related to loan prepayments, provision charges were significantly lower in 3Q09, totaling COP 168 billion, and decreasing 51% as compared to 2Q09, and 31% as compared to 3Q08. On a relative basis, annualized provision charges for 3Q09 represented 1.5% of average loans, considerably lower than the 3.1% in 2Q09, and the 2.4% for 3Q08.

Overall, BANCOLOMBIA maintains a strong balance sheet in terms of loan loss reserves. Allowances for loan losses totaled COP 2,297 billion, or 5.5% of total loans, which is higher than the 5.2% of total loans as of June 30, 2009, while coverage, measured by the ratio of allowances for loans and accrued interest losses to PDLs reached 135% at the end of 3Q09, decreasing slightly from 137% in 2Q09, but above the 124% level in 3Q08.

- (1) Performing past due loans are loans upon which the Bank continues to recognize income although interest in respect of such loans has not been received. Mortgage loans cease to accumulate interest on the statement of operations when they are more than 60 days past due. For all other loans and financial leasing operations of any type, interest is no longer accumulated after they are more than 30 days past due.
- (2) Under Colombian Bank regulations, a loan is past due when it is at least 31 days past the actual due date.
