About the Annual Meeting

Who is soliciting my vote?

The board of directors of ConocoPhillips is soliciting your vote at the 2003 Annual Meeting of ConocoPhillips stockholders.

What am I voting on?

You are voting on:

Election of directors (see page 8), and

Ratification of the appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as ConocoPhillips independent auditors for 2003 (see page 34).

Who is entitled to vote?

You may vote if you were the record owner of ConocoPhillips common stock as of the close of business on March 10, 2003. Each share of common stock is entitled to one vote. As of March 10, 2003, we had 705,105,249 shares of common stock outstanding and entitled to vote. There is no cumulative voting.

How many votes must be present to hold the meeting?

Your shares are counted as present at the Annual Meeting if you attend the meeting and vote in person or if you properly return a proxy by Internet, telephone or mail. In order for us to hold our meeting, holders of a majority of our outstanding shares of common stock as of March 10, 2003 must be present in person or by proxy at the meeting. This is referred to as a quorum. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be counted for purposes of establishing a quorum at the meeting.

What is a broker non-vote?

If a broker does not have discretion to vote shares held in street name on a particular proposal and does not receive instructions from the beneficial owner on how to vote those shares, the broker may return the proxy card without voting on that proposal. This is known as a broker non-vote. Broker non-votes will have no effect on the vote for any matter properly introduced at the meeting.

How many votes are needed to approve each of the proposals?

The nominees for election as directors at the Annual Meeting who receive the highest number of FOR votes will be elected as directors. This is called plurality voting. Unless you indicate otherwise on your proxy card, the persons named as your proxies will vote your shares FOR all the nominees for director named in this proxy statement.

All other proposals require the affirmative FOR vote of a majority of those shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote on the proposal.

How do I vote?

You can vote either in person at the meeting or by proxy without attending the meeting.

To vote by proxy, you must either:

fill out the enclosed proxy card, date and sign it, and return it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope,

Edgar Filing: CONOCOPHILLIPS - Form DEF 14A

vote by telephone (instructions are on the proxy card), or vote by Internet (instructions are on the proxy card).

If you hold your ConocoPhillips stock in a brokerage account (that is, in street name), your ability to vote by telephone or over the Internet depends on your broker's voting process. Please follow the directions on your proxy card or voting instruction form carefully.

Even if you plan to attend the meeting, we encourage you to vote your shares by proxy. If you plan to vote in person at the Annual Meeting, and you hold your ConocoPhillips stock in street name, you must obtain a proxy from your broker and bring that proxy to the meeting.

Table of Contents

How do I vote if I hold my stock through ConocoPhillips employee benefit plans?

If you hold your stock through ConocoPhillips employee benefit plans, you must either:

fill out the enclosed voting instruction form, date and sign it, and return it in the enclosed postage-paid envelope, or vote by telephone (instructions are on the voting instruction form).

You will receive a separate voting instruction form for each employee benefit plan in which you have an interest. Please pay close attention to the deadline for returning your voting instruction form to the plan trustee. The voting deadline for each plan is set forth on the voting instruction form. Please note that different plans may have different deadlines.

Can I change my vote?

Yes. You can change or revoke your vote at any time before the polls close at the Annual Meeting. You can do this by:

signing another proxy card with a later date and returning it prior to the meeting, sending our Corporate Secretary a written document revoking your earlier proxy, voting again by telephone or over the Internet prior to 11:00 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time on May 5, 2003, or voting again at the meeting.

Is my vote confidential?

Yes. Our policy treats as confidential all proxies, ballots and voting tabulations, including telephone voting, that identify stockholders, except when:

the law requires disclosure, the stockholder writes comments on the proxy card, there is a proxy contest or other solicitation of proxies based on an opposition proxy statement, or any matter for stockholder approval requires the vote of more than a majority of the shares present at any meeting.

If you hold shares through one of ConocoPhillips domestic employee benefit plans, the provisions of the plans and related trust agreements require that your voting directions to each plan's trustee will be confidential.

Who counts the votes?

We have hired Mellon Investor Services LLC, our transfer agent, to count the votes represented by proxies cast by ballot, telephone and the Internet. Employees of Mellon Investor Services will act as Inspectors of Election.

Will my shares be voted if I don't provide my proxy and don't attend the Annual Meeting?

If you do not provide a proxy or vote your shares held in your name, your shares will not be voted.

If you hold your shares in street name, your broker may be able to vote your shares for certain routine matters even if you do not provide the broker with voting instructions. The election of directors and the ratification of Ernst & Young LLP as our independent auditors for 2003 are considered routine matters.

Edgar Filing: CONOCOPHILLIPS - Form DEF 14A

For matters not considered routine, if you do not give your broker instructions on how to vote your shares, the broker may return the proxy card without voting on that proposal. This is a broker non-vote.

If you hold your shares through one of ConocoPhillips employee benefit plans and do not vote your shares, your shares (along with all other shares in the plan for which votes are not cast) will be voted pro rata by the trustee in accordance with the votes directed by other participants in the plan who elect to act as a fiduciary entitled to direct the trustee of the applicable plan on how to vote the shares.

How are votes counted?

In the election of directors, you may vote FOR all of the nominees or your vote may be WITHHELD with respect to one or more of the nominees. For any other proposal, you may vote FOR, AGAINST or ABSTAIN. If you ABSTAIN, it has the same effect as a vote AGAINST

Table of Contents

What if I return my proxy but don't vote for some of the matters listed on my proxy card?

If you return a signed proxy card without indicating your vote, your shares will be voted FOR the nominee directors listed on the card and FOR the ratification of Ernst & Young LLP as ConocoPhillips independent auditors for 2003.

Could other matters be decided at the Annual Meeting?

Several stockholders have presented proposals which have been properly excluded from this proxy statement. We do not know whether any stockholder intends to bring an excluded proposal before the meeting. If a stockholder proposal that was excluded from this proxy statement is brought before the meeting, the proxies will be voted against the proposal by the persons named in your proxies. We are not aware of any other matters that will be considered at the Annual Meeting. If any other matters arise at the Annual Meeting, the persons named in your proxies will vote in accordance with their best judgment.

Who can attend the meeting?

The Annual Meeting is open to all holders of ConocoPhillips common stock. Each stockholder is permitted to bring one guest.

Do I need a ticket to attend the Annual Meeting?

Yes, you will need an admission ticket or proof of ownership of ConocoPhillips stock to enter the meeting. If your shares are registered in your name, you will find an admission ticket attached to the proxy card sent to you. If your shares are in the name of your broker or bank or you received your materials electronically, you will need to bring evidence of your stock ownership, such as your most recent brokerage statement. All stockholders will be required to present valid picture identification. IF YOU DO NOT HAVE VALID PICTURE IDENTIFICATION AND EITHER AN ADMISSION TICKET OR PROOF THAT YOU OWN CONOCOPHILLIPS STOCK, YOU MAY NOT BE ADMITTED INTO THE MEETING.

How can I access ConocoPhillips proxy materials and annual report electronically?

This proxy statement and the 2002 annual report are available on our website at www.conocophillips.com. Most stockholders can elect to view future proxy statements and annual reports over the Internet instead of receiving paper copies in the mail.

If you own ConocoPhillips stock in your name, you can choose this option and save us the cost of producing and mailing these documents by checking the box for electronic delivery on your proxy card, or by following the instructions provided when you vote by telephone or over the Internet. If you hold your ConocoPhillips stock through a bank, broker or other holder of record, please refer to the information provided by that entity for instructions on how to elect to view future proxy statements and annual reports over the Internet.

If you choose to view future proxy statements and annual reports over the Internet, you will receive a proxy card next year containing the Internet address to use to access our proxy statement and annual report. Your choice will remain in effect until you tell us otherwise. You do not have to elect Internet access each year. If you later change your mind and would like to receive paper copies of our proxy statements and annual reports, please contact Mellon Investor Services at 1-800-356-0066 (from the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico), at 1-201-329-8660 (from all other locations) or via the Internet at <https://vault.melloninvestor.com/isd>.

The Merger

This is the first proxy statement and Annual Meeting of Stockholders since we completed the merger of Conoco Inc. and Phillips Petroleum Company on August 30, 2002. As a result of the merger, Conoco and Phillips became wholly owned subsidiaries of ConocoPhillips. Each share of Phillips common stock was converted into one share of ConocoPhillips common stock and each share of Conoco common stock was converted into 0.4677 shares of ConocoPhillips common stock. Information about stock and stock-based awards has been adjusted to reflect the merger exchange ratio where appropriate.

Table of Contents

Board of Directors Information

What is the makeup of the Board of Directors and how often are the members elected?

Our Board of Directors currently has 16 members. Our Board is classified into three classes serving staggered three-year terms. Directors for each class are elected at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders held in the year in which the term for their class expires.

What if a nominee is unable or unwilling to serve?

That is not expected to occur. If it does, shares represented by proxies will be voted for a substitute nominated by the Board of Directors.

How are directors compensated?

Directors who are ConocoPhillips employees receive no additional compensation for serving on the board of directors. Compensation for non-employee directors consists of equity and cash.

Equity Compensation

Non-employee directors receive an annual grant of restricted stock units with an aggregate value of $90,000 on the date of grant. Restrictions on the units issued to non-employee directors will lapse three years after the date of grant or in the earlier event of retirement, disability, death or a change of control. Directors forfeit the units if their service terminates for any other reason before the restrictions lapse. Before the restrictions lapse, directors cannot sell or otherwise transfer the units, but the units are credited with dividend equivalents in the form of additional restricted stock units. One year prior to the date the restrictions on the units would otherwise lapse, directors can elect upon the lapsing of the restrictions to delay settlement of the restricted stock units until retirement from the Board, to receive a cash payment equal to the value of the units at the market value of ConocoPhillips stock, or to have the value of the units credited to the director's deferred compensation account.

Directors who were formerly directors of Conoco or Phillips also hold restricted stock and/or restricted stock units that were received as part of their compensation for service on those boards. The service requirements for shares or units that were granted after the announcement of the merger, November 18, 2001, will be satisfied by continued service on the ConocoPhillips Board of Directors.

Former Conoco directors received grants of restricted stock units both upon initial election to the Conoco board and on an annual basis. All restricted stock units are currently vested. The restrictions on the restricted stock units granted upon initial election to the Conoco board lapse in June 2003 for directors elected in 2000, and in October 2006 for directors initially elected in 2001. The restrictions on restricted stock units granted annually to Conoco directors lapse three years after the date of grant.

The restrictions on a percentage of the restricted stock and restricted stock units issued prior to January 1, 2003 to former directors of Phillips begin lapsing the year the director reaches age 66. All restrictions will lapse in the year the director reaches age 70. A director may choose to delay the lapsing of the restrictions until retirement from the Board. The director also may elect to have the value of the shares as to which the restrictions have lapsed credited to the director's deferred compensation account or may receive unrestricted stock.

Cash Compensation

All non-employee directors receive $90,000 annual cash compensation. Non-employee directors serving in specified committee positions also receive the following additional cash compensation:

Chair of the Audit and Compliance Committee	$ 15,000
Chair of the Compensation Committee	$ 10,000
Chair of the other committees	$ 5,000
All other Audit and Compliance Committee members	$ 5,000

Edgar Filing: CONOCOPHILLIPS - Form DEF 14A

All cash fees are payable monthly. Directors may elect on an annual basis to receive all or part of their cash compensation in restricted or unrestricted stock, or to have the amount credited to the director's deferred compensation account. All restrictions placed on stock granted in lieu of cash compensation during a calendar year lapse on the same date as the restrictions lapse on restricted stock units granted for the equity compensation for that year.

Deferral of Compensation

Directors can elect to defer their cash compensation and the value of the restricted stock and restricted stock units for which restrictions have lapsed. Deferred amounts are deemed to be invested in various mutual funds selected by the director. Compensation deferred prior to January 1, 2003 by former directors of Conoco and of Phillips continues to be deferred and is deemed to be invested as selected by the director. The deferred amounts may be paid as a lump sum or as installment payments following retirement from the Board.

The future payment of any compensation deferred by non-employee directors of ConocoPhillips after January 1, 2003 and former directors of Phillips prior to January 1, 2003 is funded in a grantor trust designed for this purpose. The future payment of any cash compensation deferred by former directors of Conoco prior to January 1, 2003 is not funded.

Charitable Gift Programs

The charitable gift programs of both Conoco and Phillips continue. These programs allow eligible directors to designate charities and tax-exempt educational institutions to receive a donation from us of up to $1 million upon their death. Former Conoco directors were eligible for the program after one year of service, while former Phillips directors were eligible after five years of service. The donations will be payable over five years for the Conoco program and ten years for the Phillips program. These programs may be funded through the purchase of life insurance policies on the lives of the directors. We are the owner and beneficiary of all insurance policies purchased to fund the programs.

Directors Matching Gift Program

All active and retired directors are eligible to participate in the Directors Annual Matching Gift Program, which provides a dollar-for-dollar match of a gift of cash or securities, up to a maximum of $15,000 per donor for active directors and $7,500 per donor for retired directors during any one calendar year, to charities and educational institutions, excluding religious, political, fraternal or athletic organizations, that are tax-exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Stock Ownership

Directors are expected to own stock with a value equivalent to five times their annual equity compensation, or $450,000 at current compensation levels, and are expected to reach this level of target ownership within five years of joining the board. Actual shares of stock, restricted stock or restricted stock units, including deferred stock units, may be counted in satisfying the stock ownership guidelines.

How were former Conoco directors compensated before the merger?

Directors who were Conoco's employees received no additional compensation for serving on the board of directors. Upon election to the board, non-employee directors received a grant of restricted stock units with an aggregate value on the date of grant equal to $100,000. On an annual basis, non-employee directors received a cash fee of $50,000, and a grant of restricted stock units with an aggregate value on the grant date of $50,000.

Directors received a fee of $1,000 for each board or committee meeting attended. In addition, a board member who served as chairman of a standing committee received a supplement of $5,000 annually.

Shares underlying restricted stock units granted to directors upon initial election to the board were not permitted to be sold or voted for a period of five years. Dividend equivalents in the form of additional units were credited during this period. Restricted stock units granted upon initial election to the board became vested at a rate of 20% of the grant per year of completed board service following the award. Shares underlying restricted stock units that were granted annually to directors were not permitted to be sold or voted for a period of three years, but dividend equivalents in the form of additional units were credited during such period. Restricted stock units which were annually awarded vested immediately upon grant.

Table of Contents

How were former Phillips directors compensated before the merger?

Directors who were Phillips employees received no additional compensation for serving on the board of directors. Each non-employee director who chaired a committee received $126,500 per year, while the other non-employee directors received $125,000 per year. Half of this compensation was paid in Phillips stock, which was permitted to be either unrestricted or restricted stock. The other half was paid as cash, but was permitted to be deferred or taken as additional restricted or unrestricted stock.

Dividends payable on restricted stock were reinvested in restricted stock. The restrictions on a percentage of the restricted shares began lapsing five years prior to retirement from the board. All restrictions lapsed in the year the director reached age 70. A director may have chosen to delay the lapsing of the restrictions until retirement from the board of directors. The director also was permitted to elect to credit the value of lapsed shares to the director's deferred compensation account, or was permitted to take possession of the shares.

Prior to retirement, Phillips also provided each director with life insurance. The amount of coverage, which was based on length of board service, began at $200,000 and increased to a maximum of $300,000.

How often did the Board meet in 2002?

The ConocoPhillips Board of Directors met four times in 2002. Each director attended at least 75% of the Board meetings and the meetings of the committees on which he or she served, except Norman R. Augustine, who was unable to attend one meeting of the Committee on Directors' Affairs.

Executive Compensation

Compensation Committee Report to Stockholders on Executive Compensation

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of ConocoPhillips (the "Compensation Committee") was formed following the merger to administer ConocoPhillips' executive compensation programs. The Compensation Committee is composed solely of independent, outside directors who qualify as non-employee directors under Rule 16b-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and as outside directors under section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code. The respective compensation committees of Conoco and Phillips made decisions, prior to the merger, regarding salary levels, awards of stock options, restricted stock, annual incentive awards and long-term incentive plan payouts. The members of the Compensation Committee, in certain instances, are therefore reporting about determinations made by the prior Conoco and Phillips compensation committees. Although stock and stock-based awards prior to the merger may have been originally denominated in Phillips or Conoco common stock, information about those awards has been adjusted to reflect the merger exchange ratio where appropriate.

Compensation Philosophy

Both Conoco's and Phillips' executive compensation programs were principally designed to give executives strong incentives to focus on and achieve the respective company's business objectives. Each company's compensation program used, to varying degrees, annual performance-based incentives, stock options and restricted stock or restricted stock units. Both companies significantly varied compensation with performance against company business objectives, including relative industry performance, and encouraged executives to maximize stockholder value by aligning executive interests with those of stockholders.

ConocoPhillips' goal is to provide a total compensation package that will enable it to attract, retain, motivate and reward a highly qualified, diverse global workforce. The Compensation Committee intends to achieve this goal for our executive workforce by:

encouraging stronger executive performance by making a substantial percentage of total executive compensation variable, or at-risk, through annual incentive compensation, the granting of stock options and long-term incentive awards;

allowing executives to share in ConocoPhillips' successes and failures by varying compensation with business performance;

benchmarking target compensation levels at competitive levels within the industry; motivating individual performance by linking rewards to the accomplishment of individual goals and objectives, leadership principles and ConocoPhillips values; and integrating all elements of compensation into a comprehensive package that aligns ConocoPhillips' goals, efforts and results throughout the organization.

In determining overall target executive compensation levels, the Compensation Committee will consider the compensation structures of other major companies in the global energy industry, such as Exxon Mobil Corporation, ChevronTexaco Corporation, BP p.l.c. and Royal Dutch Petroleum Company and Shell Transport and Trading Company p.l.c. (which together comprise the Royal Dutch/ Shell Group), as well as other U.S.-based integrated petroleum companies, and upstream or downstream companies such as Anadarko Petroleum Corporation, Marathon Oil Corporation, Occidental Petroleum Corporation and Valero Energy Corporation. In addition, other large U.S.-based multinationals will be considered because the competition for executive talent for ConocoPhillips extends beyond the energy industry. The Compensation Committee relies on independent third-party consultants for input regarding competitive compensation levels. Because compensation will be based on company, business unit, and individual performance, as appropriate, total compensation of executives may significantly exceed or fall short of industry medians.

ConocoPhillips' businesses are extremely capital intensive, requiring large investments, in most cases over a number of years, before tangible financial returns are achieved. The Compensation Committee will base executive compensation decisions on qualitative measures relating to individual performance, as well as on quantitative measures relating to performance of ConocoPhillips and its business units such as total return to stockholders and relative improvement of return on capital employed. It will also take into account external factors, such as commodity prices, that may have positively or negatively affected such measures.

Executive Compensation Actions for 2002

In November 2001, in connection with the signing of the merger agreement, the compensation committees of Conoco and Phillips approved new employment agreements for Mr. Dunham and Mr. Mulva, respectively. The Conoco and Phillips compensation committees considered it important to enter into the agreements with Mr. Dunham and Mr. Mulva to induce them to remain with their respective companies through the merger and for a significant time thereafter to facilitate integration and ultimate realization of the value of the merger. The compensation committees also considered it important for Mr. Dunham to serve as Chairman of the Board of ConocoPhillips and for Mr. Mulva to serve as Chief Executive Officer of ConocoPhillips.

The employment agreements, which are described beginning on page 27 of this proxy statement under the caption "Employment Agreements," became effective upon the closing of the merger.

Base Salaries

Prior to the merger, the base salaries of the executive officers were set by the respective compensation committees of Conoco and Phillips. Base salaries for both Conoco and Phillips were generally set based on competitive compensation levels for similar positions in peer companies. There was no change in Mr. Mulva's base salary during 2002. On the closing of the merger, pursuant to his employment agreement, Mr. Dunham's annual base salary was increased from $1,350,000 to $1,375,000 to be equal to Mr. Mulva's base salary.

The Compensation Committee will annually review the salaries of all executive officers and employees with salaries greater than $300,000. Base salaries will be set according to competitive compensation levels for similar positions in peer companies, and salaries will be adjusted over time to recognize market trends and individual levels of performance and contribution.

Incentive Compensation Programs

Annual Incentives

Annual incentives for 2002 performance were generally determined according to the applicable Phillips and Conoco programs established by the respective compensation committees prior to the merger, except as amended by the ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee to permit payouts based on ConocoPhillips' performance without business unit differentiation and to provide for a common individual performance adjustment methodology. In accordance with the individual company programs, the quantitative performance measures the Compensation Committee considered for 2002 incentive compensation included:

Conoco's 2002 pro forma cash from operations versus operating plan objectives;

Conoco's 2002 pro forma after-tax operating income versus operating plan objectives;

ConocoPhillips' one-year and three-year total return to stockholders relative to the peer companies previously identified by the respective companies;

ConocoPhillips' total return to stockholders since the closing of the merger relative to the peer index; and ConocoPhillips' 2002 return on capital employed relative to the peer companies previously identified by the respective companies.

Because of the extraordinary nature of 2002, participant awards for the heritage incentive programs (the Conoco Global Variable Compensation Plan and the Phillips Annual Incentive Compensation Plan) were based on company performance, without differentiation among business units. Both plans paid out at the same percent of target award.

In addition to these financial performance measures, the Compensation Committee also considered core values of safety, ethics and environmental stewardship as well as the smooth implementation of the merger.

The Compensation Committee used qualitative performance measures, including those listed below, for executives in assessing the portion of incentive compensation attributable to individual performance under the Conoco and Phillips programs:

success in developing and implementing strategic plans;

contribution to the growth and success of ConocoPhillips;

merger related integration results;

leadership in the industry and community;

performance versus predetermined personal job objectives; and social and ethical responsibility.

The Committee made the final determinations of performance for the Chairman and the CEO and received input from the Chairman and the CEO on the performance of the senior executives on these qualitative measures in making its final determinations of performance for these senior executives.

Phillips

The 2002 annual incentive awards for former Phillips executives were made under the Annual Incentive Compensation Plan (AICP). The Phillips compensation committee, using both internally generated data and data obtained from independent, third-party consultants, had previously established targets for individual AICP awards based on individual salary grades. The target percentages were adjusted to recognize changes in salary grades during the year. Under the AICP, individual awards could range from 0% to more than 200% percent of the target amount for the award year, based upon the Phillips compensation committee's assessment of total company, business unit and individual performance.

To determine the 2002 payout under AICP, the ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee reviewed one year (2002) ConocoPhillips relative total return to stockholders as well as one year (2002) ConocoPhillips relative return on capital employed. The major business units were reviewed in such areas as operating efficiency and return on capital employed compared to their original operating plan objectives. In addition, the Compensation Committee also reviewed ConocoPhillips performance for its core values of safety, ethics and environmental stewardship, ConocoPhillips total return to stockholders from the merger date to year end relative to the peer index, and the smooth implementation of the merger. Based on these considerations, the standard award for all employees under the AICP was set at 90% of target for the year. Individual employee adjustments were also made to recognize individual performance. All awards were paid in cash.

A total of $5,846,074 was awarded to 19 executives with annual base salaries of more than $300,000 for 2002 performance under the AICP. Mr. Mulva received an annual incentive award under the AICP of $1,612,000. The Compensation Committee determined this amount considering ConocoPhillips' financial performance and Mr. Mulva's leadership in areas such as safety, ethics and environmental performance as well as his role in the smooth implementation of the merger integration.

Conoco

The 2002 annual incentive awards for former Conoco executives were made under the Global Variable Compensation Plan (GVC). At the beginning of 2002 Conoco's compensation committee assigned each former Conoco executive a target GVC award based on salary grades using a competitive assessment of award opportunities for similar positions within Conoco's peer group. Actual awards could vary from 0% to more than 200% of the target based on the Conoco compensation committee's assessment of both business and individual performance.

Edgar Filing: CONOCOPHILLIPS - Form DEF 14A

To determine the 2002 payout under the Conoco GVC Plan, the ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee reviewed Conoco's total company pro forma 2002 after tax operating income and cash from operations compared to Conoco's original operating plan objectives. There was no differentiation among business units. In addition, the Compensation Committee also reviewed

Table of Contents

ConocoPhillips performance for its core values of safety, ethics and environmental stewardship, ConocoPhillips total return to stockholders over a three-year period (2000-2002), ConocoPhillips total return to stockholders from the merger date to year end relative to the peer index, and smooth implementation of the merger. Based on these considerations, the standard award for all employees under the GVC Plan was set at 90% of target for the year. Individual employee performance adjustments were also made to recognize individual performance. All awards were paid in cash.

A total of $4,839,675 was paid to 12 executives with annual base salaries of more than $300,000 for 2002 performance under the GVC Plan. Mr. Dunham's GVC award was calculated at $1,612,000 in recognition of his 2002 performance. The Compensation Committee determined this amount considering ConocoPhillips' financial performance and Mr. Dunham's leadership in areas such as safety, ethics and environmental performance as well as his role in the smooth implementation of the merger integration.

Long-Term Incentives

The compensation committees of both Conoco and Phillips, as well as the ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee, awarded long-term incentives for 2002. Historically, Phillips primarily utilized stock options and restricted stock or restricted stock units issued under a long-term incentive plan, while Conoco's primary long-term compensation was in the form of stock options, although restricted stock units were granted to Mr. Dunham, Mr. McKee and Mr. Nokes in 2002.

ConocoPhillips' executive stock-based compensation programs are designed to provide competitive compensation, to offer an incentive to employees primarily responsible for the growth and success of ConocoPhillips, to retain key employees, and to align employees' interests with those of stockholders.

Beginning in 2003, ConocoPhillips' primary long-term incentive compensation will be a Stock Option and a Performance Share Program. Approximately 70% of the long-term incentive award will be in the form of stock options, while the remaining 30% will be in the form of restricted stock awarded under the Performance Share Program. Individual awards may be adjusted up or down based on the subjective evaluation of the individual's performance and potential. The Performance Share Program is designed to maximize medium and long-term stockholder value by encouraging management team alignment and the long-term commitment of key executives. This program rewards medium term performance against our peer group of companies.

Phillips Long-Term Incentive Plan

The Phillips Long-Term Incentive Plan or LTIP was administered by the Phillips compensation committee. Under the LTIP, the Phillips compensation committee annually established a three-year performance period over which it compared Phillips' total stockholder return and return on capital employed with the total stockholder return and return on capital employed for Phillips' oil industry peers.

The approval of the merger by Phillips stockholders on March 12, 2002, constituted a change of control under the Omnibus Securities Plan of Phillips Petroleum Company and resulted in the immediate payout of the Performance Periods VIII and IX.

With respect to Performance Period VIII, which commenced January 1, 2000 and ended March 12, 2002, it was determined that Phillips ranked second of the thirteen peers (the twelve in addition to Phillips included: BP, Royal Dutch/ Shell Group, ExxonMobil, TotalFinaElf, ChevronTexaco, Unocal, Amerada Hess, ENI, Conoco, Marathon, Repsol and Occidental) for total stockholder return and fifth of the thirteen peers for return on capital employed. The performance for the period placed Phillips in the top quartile for total stockholder return and in the second quartile for return on capital employed. Based on the Phillips rankings for the two performance measures, the Phillips compensation committee granted awards that were 170% of the target amount.

With respect to Performance Period IX, which commenced January 1, 2001 and ended March 12, 2002, it was determined that Phillips ranked third of the thirteen peers for total stockholder return and fifth of the thirteen peers for return on capital employed. The performance for the period placed Phillips in the top quartile for total stockholder return and in the second quartile for return on capital employed. Based on the Phillips rankings for the two performance measures, the Phillips compensation committee granted awards that were 160% of the target amount.

Consistent with its historical heritage compensation programs and practices, in December 2001, the Phillips compensation committee established LTIP X, the tenth performance period covering January 1, 2002 through December 31, 2004. The target award for Mr. Mulva is shown on the table on page 23 entitled Long-Term Incentive Plan Awards in Last Fiscal Year. The Phillips compensation committee based target awards for executives on a percentage of salary and the price of Phillips common stock at the beginning of the performance period. To set these target levels, the Phillips compensation committee considered both internally generated information and competitive data provided by an independent, third party consultant.

On February 10, 2003, the ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee approved an unscheduled payout of Performance Period X to close out the Phillips LTIP. The closing payout reflects the Compensation Committee's decision to eliminate heritage Phillips and Conoco plans and align all executives with the new business goals of ConocoPhillips.

The shares of restricted stock or restricted stock units, as applicable, awarded to Mr. Mulva for Performance Periods VIII, IX and X are shown on the Summary Compensation Table beginning on page 20, under the caption Long-Term Incentive Payout.

Stock Options

Conoco's compensation committee granted stock options to eligible employees in February 2002. Of those options, 741,306 were granted to the Named Executive Officers (identified in the Summary Compensation Table), including 397,545 to Mr. Dunham. A guideline number of options was established for each salary grade level of management, based on a competitive analysis of long-term compensation opportunities for persons holding comparable positions in the peer group companies. Each executive's individual award was subject to adjustment up or down from the target by as much as 50% based on a subjective evaluation of the individual's long-term potential and performance, considering input from the Chairman and CEO for each participant other than himself.

The Phillips compensation committee typically granted stock options in October of each year. After considering internally generated information and consulting with independent third-parties, the Phillips compensation committee set the number of shares subject to options by salary grade to approximate the grants by peer companies to persons in corresponding job positions. Each executive's individual award was subject to adjustment up or down from the target by as much as 30% based on a subjective evaluation of the individual's long-term potential and performance, considering input from the CEO for each participant other than himself.

On October 22, 2002, the ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee granted options to eligible former Phillips employees, including 212,900 options to Mr. Mulva. The Compensation Committee also granted 212,900 options to Mr. Dunham. In determining the number of shares to be subject to these option grants, the Compensation Committee used a Black-Scholes valuation of the options. All stock option grants in October 2002 were made at their target levels.

Going forward, the Compensation Committee will consider annual grants of stock options to executives in February of each year, using procedures and policies for granting such options as are approved by the Compensation Committee from time to time. The October 2002 grant for employees of heritage Phillips extends eight months into the new cycle, to October 2003. To allow employees of heritage Phillips to transition to the new ConocoPhillips cycle, those who were granted options in October 2002 and who were eligible for a February 2003 grant received a grant in February 2003 that was adjusted to reflect the eight months in which the two grants overlapped (February - September 2003).

Restricted Stock

On February 4, 2002, the Conoco compensation committee granted Mr. Dunham 16,674 restricted stock units. On August 30, 2002, pursuant to his employment agreement and the merger agreement, this grant immediately vested. On that date, Mr. Dunham was also granted 32,363 restricted stock units, which immediately vested pursuant to the terms of his employment agreement.

On October 22, 2002, ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee made six Special

Table of Contents

Compensation Awards totaling 40,341 shares of restricted stock to ConocoPhillips executives for merger related accomplishments.

Restricted stock units awarded in prior years under Phillips executive compensation plans generally do not lapse until retirement, unless the Compensation Committee takes action each year to lapse such restrictions beginning the year the executive reaches age 56. In October 2002, the Compensation Committee took action to lapse the restrictions on 196,332 restricted stock units for 12 former Phillips executives, including Mr. Mulva in accordance with prior practice.

Effect of Merger on Equity-Based Compensation

Upon approval of the merger by the former Phillips and Conoco stockholders, unless otherwise provided in the applicable award agreements, all stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock and restricted stock units granted to executives of Conoco and Phillips prior to November 17, 2001 (the date the boards of Conoco and Phillips approved the merger) became fully exercisable, unrestricted, vested and, in the case of restricted stock, transferable. Furthermore, because of the change of control, all outstanding performance awards and other awards became earned and payable; however, Phillips executives were given the opportunity in 2001 to elect to exchange restricted stock for restricted stock units, which still remain restricted. Former Conoco executives who held restricted stock units were given the opportunity to elect to defer receipt of the underlying shares.

As discussed above, the change of control also accelerated the Phillips compensation committee's consideration and approval of awards for the LTIP Periods VIII and IX.

Change of Control Payments

Under the Conoco Key Employee Severance Plan, approval of the Conoco stockholders of the merger constituted a change in control. To address and eliminate the financial incentives under the plan for Messrs. McKee and Nokes to terminate their employment with ConocoPhillips, and in exchange for the agreement by those executives to waive their rights under the plan with respect to the merger, Conoco paid Messrs. McKee and Nokes the amounts that would have been payable to them under the terms of the plan. In addition, under the terms of Mr. Dunham's employment agreement, he received a change of control payment equal to that which would have been payable under his former employment agreement with Conoco. The amounts paid to such executives are set forth in the table entitled "Summary Compensation Table" and footnote 6 to that table beginning on page 20.

Internal Revenue Code Section 162(m)

The compensation committees of both Phillips and Conoco had historically taken action, where possible and considered appropriate, to preserve the deductibility of compensation paid to the companies' respective executive officers. The compensation committees of Conoco and Phillips also awarded compensation that might not be fully tax deductible when such grants were nonetheless in the best interests of the companies and their respective stockholders.

ConocoPhillips generally will be entitled to take tax deductions relating to compensation that is performance-based, which may include cash incentives, stock options, restricted stock, restricted stock units and other performance-based awards.

The ConocoPhillips Compensation Committee will continue to review ConocoPhillips' executive compensation practices to determine if elements of executive compensation qualify as performance-based compensation under the Internal Revenue Code and will seek to preserve tax deductions for executive compensation to the extent consistent with the Compensation Committee's determination of compensation arrangements necessary and appropriate to foster achievement of ConocoPhillips' business goals.

Stock Ownership Guidelines

The Compensation Committee encourages executive ownership of ConocoPhillips stock through annual stock option awards, a long-term performance plan with payouts in restricted stock, and inclusion of ConocoPhillips stock as an investment in employee savings plans. In addition, the committee has established target stock ownership levels for senior executives calculated as a multiple of annual base salary.

Prior to the closing of the merger on August 30, 2002, ConocoPhillips executive officers functioned as executive officers of, and were compensated by, Conoco or Phillips, as the case may be. The following table provides information concerning total compensation paid to the Chief Executive Officer and certain other officers of ConocoPhillips (collectively, the Named Executive Officers). As set forth in the footnotes, the data presented in this table and the tables that follow include amounts paid to the Named Executive Officers in 2002 by ConocoPhillips or any of its subsidiaries, as well as by Conoco or Phillips for periods prior to the merger. The data presented in this table for the years 2000 and 2001 represent amounts paid to the Named Executive Officer by Conoco or Phillips, as the case may be. In connection with the merger, each share of Phillips common stock was converted into one share of ConocoPhillips common stock and each share of Conoco common stock was converted into 0.4677 shares of ConocoPhillips common stock. Included in the 2001 bonus amounts are Special Compensation Awards in recognition of such individual's contribution to the success of Conoco's July 2001 acquisition of Gulf Canada Resources Limited: Mr. McKee $600,000; and Mr. Harrington $300,000. Included in the 2000 bonus amounts is a special recognition award of $900,000 for Mr. Mulva in recognition of his contribution to the successful completion of Phillips' Duke Energy Field Services joint venture, Phillips Chevron Phillips Chemical Company joint venture and Phillips' acquisition of Atlantic Richfield Company's Alaska business.

- (7) As permitted by the rules of the SEC, this column excludes perquisites and other personal benefits for the Named Executive Officer if the total incremental cost in a given year did not exceed the lesser of $50,000 or 10% of such officer's combined salary and bonus for that year. Accordingly, for Messrs. McKee, Nokes and Harrington, the amounts shown exclude such perquisites and only represent reimbursements for the payment of taxes. Of the amounts shown for Mr. Dunham in 2002, $108,961 represents reimbursement for the payment of taxes, $69,771 represents the approximate incremental cost to ConocoPhillips for Mr. Dunham's personal use of company aircraft, which ConocoPhillips required for security reasons, $55,445 represents certain financial and tax planning services, and $32,230 represents insurance premiums paid on Mr. Dunham's behalf for his participation in the executive group life insurance program. Of the amounts shown for Mr. Mulva in 2002, $2,023 represents reimbursement for the payment of taxes, $5,836 represents the approximate incremental cost to ConocoPhillips for Mr. Mulva's personal use of company aircraft, which ConocoPhillips required for security reasons, and $53,041 represents the cost of installation and service for a home security system. Of the amounts shown for Mr. Dunham in 2001, $75,650 represents reimbursement for the payment of taxes, $29,724 represents insurance premiums paid on Mr. Dunham's behalf for his participation in the executive group life insurance program, and $33,900 represents the approximate incremental cost to Conoco for Mr. Dunham's personal use of company aircraft, which Conoco required for security reasons. Of the amounts shown for Mr. Dunham in 2000, $72,288 represents reimbursement for the payment of taxes, and $28,512 represents insurance premiums paid on Mr. Dunham's behalf for his participation in the executive group life insurance program.
- (8) Amounts shown represent the market value on the grant date using the closing stock price on the New York Stock Exchange. Dividend equivalents on restricted stock units held are paid in cash or credited to each officer's account in the form of additional stock units. All restrictions on Mr. Dunham's restricted stock units terminated upon the merger. Phillips settled awards under its 1985 and 1987 annual incentive plans and under all long-term incentive plans since 1986 by issuing shares of restricted stock that are not transferable before death, disability or retirement, unless the Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors removes the restrictions or upon a change of control. All restricted stock held by Mr. Mulva was converted to restricted stock units prior to the completion of the merger, with the original restrictions still in place. Restrictions on the restricted stock units granted in 2000 to Messrs. McKee and Nokes were terminated upon the change in control. The total number of restricted stock units held by the Named Executive Officers and their market value based on the December 31, 2002 NYSE closing price of $48.39 was as follows: Mr. Mulva 621,107 units, $30,055,362; Mr. McKee 16,457 units, $796,341; and Mr. Nokes 16,457 units, $796,341.

Awards for Periods VIII and IX were issued in restricted stock units, and awards for Period X were issued in restricted stock.

- (2) Represents total appreciation over the exercise price at the assumed annual appreciation rates of 5% and 10%, compounded annually for the term of the options. SEC rules require disclosure of potential realizable value for illustration only. We do not intend these values to be, and you should not interpret them to be, representative of projections of future value of ConocoPhillips common stock or of the stock price at which our common stock may trade in the future.
- (3) These stock options have a term of 10 years and become exercisable in three equal annual installments beginning on October 22, 2003. The executive's options are forfeited in the event he terminates his employment other than due to retirement, disability, layoff, or death. Reload rights are not attached to these options. In the event of a change in control of ConocoPhillips during the executive's employment, all options will immediately vest and be fully exercisable.
- (4) These stock options vested on February 4, 2003 and have a term of 10 years. These options become exercisable immediately upon vesting without any additional restrictions. The executive's options are forfeited in the event he terminates his employment other than due to retirement, disability, layoff, or death. Reload rights are not attached to these options. In the event of a change in control of ConocoPhillips during the executive's employment, all options will immediately vest and be fully exercisable.
- (5) These stock options vest on August 30, 2004 and have a term of 10 years. These options become exercisable immediately upon vesting without any additional restrictions. The executive's options are forfeited in the event he terminates his employment other than due to retirement, disability, layoff, or death. Reload rights are not attached to these options. In the event of a change in control of ConocoPhillips during the executive's employment, all options will immediately vest and become exercisable.
- (6) Represents reload options to purchase common stock granted when a previously held option was exercised by tendering stock already owned. The number of reload options granted is equal to the number of shares tendered in payment of the option exercise price. The exercise price of a reload option is the average of the high and low prices of ConocoPhillips common stock as reported on the NYSE on the date of exercise of the previously held option. Reload options become exercisable six months from the date of grant and have a term equal to the remaining term of the previously held option. Shares acquired as a result of the reload exercise may not be sold for two years.

Retirement Plans*Heritage Conoco Employees*

Retirement benefits for former Conoco employees are provided under the Retirement Plan of Conoco, and are based on an employee's years of service and average monthly pay during the employee's three highest paid years. Average monthly pay for this purpose includes regular compensation and 100% of annual variable compensation payments, but excludes other bonuses and compensation in excess of limits imposed by the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the Code). The Code limits the amount of annual benefits which may be payable from the pension trust. Retirement benefits in excess of these limitations are paid from ConocoPhillips' general revenues under separate, non-funded pension restoration plans. Normal retirement age is 65, but a participant may retire as early as age 50 and receive a reduced benefit.

Heritage Phillips Employees

Retirement benefits for former Phillips employees are provided under the Phillips Retirement Income Plan. Benefits are computed according to several formulas. Officers, including executive officers, generally receive benefits under a final average earnings formula. Benefits are based on years of service and the average of a participant's highest three consecutive calendar years' salary and awards paid under the Annual Incentive Compensation Plan in the ten years preceding retirement. Normal retirement age is 65, but a participant may retire as early as age 55 and receive a reduced benefit.

Table of Contents

The Retirement Income Plan may not provide benefits above a maximum amount or include in benefit computations compensation in excess of limits imposed by the Code and Annual Incentive Compensation Plan Awards that are deferred or salary that is voluntarily reduced under our deferral program. We make supplemental payments under the pension restoration plans using (a) compensation that is not eligible due to Code maximums and deferrals, (b) the highest three of the last ten years Annual Incentive Compensation Plan Awards, without the requirement that they be consecutive, and (c) the value of the special recognition award for Mr. Mulva in 2000 shown in footnote 6 of the Summary Compensation Table and the value of the restricted stock award granted in 2000 when the restrictions lapse in 2005.

PENSION PLAN TABLE

The Pension Plan Table below shows the maximum estimated straight-life annual benefits payable at age 65 for the final average earnings indicated, prior to reductions required by the companies' plans for Social Security benefits. The current years of service, as of December 31, 2002, for the Named Executive Officers for retirement benefit purposes are: Mr. Mulva, 31 years; Mr. Dunham, 36 years; Mr. McKee, 35 years; Mr. Nokes, 32 years; and Mr. Harrington, 23 years.

Upon consummation of the merger, all outstanding options to purchase and restricted stock units payable in common stock of Conoco and Phillips were converted into options to purchase or rights to receive shares of ConocoPhillips common stock. No additional awards may be granted under these plans.
- (2) Weighted average exercise price of outstanding options; excludes restricted stock units.

Each of these plans was assumed in the merger agreement that was adopted by the stockholders of Conoco and Phillips.

Table of ContentsStock Performance Graph

This graph shows ConocoPhillips' cumulative total stockholder return over the five-year period from December 31, 1997 to December 31, 2002. The graph reflects total stockholder return for Phillips from December 31, 1997 to August 30, 2002, and for ConocoPhillips from September 3, 2002 to December 31, 2002. August 30, 2002 was the last day of trading on the NYSE of Phillips stock, and September 3, 2002 was the first day of trading on the NYSE of ConocoPhillips stock. Although the merger was a combination of equals, we are showing combined Phillips-ConocoPhillips stockholder returns because ConocoPhillips does not have a five-year history as a public company. The graph also shows the cumulative total returns for the same five-year period of the S&P 500 Index; and old peer group of companies consisting of ENI, Occidental, Amerada Hess, Unocal, Marathon, ExxonMobil, ChevronTexaco, Royal Dutch/ Shell Group, BP, TotalFinaElf and Repsol; and a new peer group of companies consisting of ExxonMobil, ChevronTexaco, Royal Dutch/ Shell Group, BP and TotalFinaElf. After the merger, we reevaluated the composition of our peer group and determined that a change was appropriate. Our new peer group is composed of the major integrated energy companies which are similar in size to us and represent our competitors in our worldwide operations. The comparison assumes $100 was invested on December 31, 1997 in Phillips stock (which was converted on a one-for-one basis into ConocoPhillips stock on August 30, 2002), in the S&P 500 Index and in each of the peer groups shown and assumes that all of the dividends were reinvested.

Employment Agreements

What are the terms of employment agreements with our executive officers?

We have entered into employment agreements with each of Archie W. Dunham and James J. Mulva. Mr. Dunham's employment agreement expires on October 1, 2004. Mr. Mulva's employment agreement has an initial term of three years (expiring on August 30, 2005), but is automatically extended by one year on August 30 of each year, unless either party has given 60 days notice that the agreement will not be extended. Mr. Mulva's agreement will not be extended beyond the end of the month in which he attains the age of 65.

During Mr. Dunham's term of employment, he will be a senior executive employee of ConocoPhillips, a member and Chairman of the Board of Directors and Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors. At the conclusion of Mr. Dunham's term of employment, he will retire as an employee and as Chairman, but shall remain a member of the Board of Directors and a member of the Executive Committee of the Board of Directors until his 70th birthday (or earlier retirement from such positions).

During Mr. Mulva's term of employment, he will serve as Chief Executive Officer and President, a member of the Board of Directors and Chairman of the Board of Directors, beginning when Mr. Dunham ceases to hold that position. At the conclusion of Mr. Mulva's term of employment, he will retire as Chief Executive Officer and President. Prior to October 1, 2004, Mr. Mulva's duties and responsibilities may be terminated or diminished only upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the Board of Directors. Both Mr. Dunham's and Mr. Mulva's continued membership on the Board of Directors is subject to periodic re-election by our stockholders.

Mr. Dunham and Mr. Mulva are each entitled to an annual base salary of not less than his annual base salary in effect immediately prior to the merger, bonuses and long-term equity-based compensation that are competitive with industry practices, and participation in the most favorable incentive, retirement, welfare and other benefits we offer to our senior executives, including term life insurance in an amount equal to four times his annual base salary and financial and tax planning services and reimbursement for any taxes incurred as a result of such insurance, financial and tax planning services. In general, during the term of Mr. Dunham's employment, both Mr. Dunham's and Mr. Mulva's compensation and benefits will be, both in the aggregate and with respect to each element of compensation and benefits, the same.

Each executive has agreed not to terminate his employment within six months following a change of control of ConocoPhillips, other than as a result of retirement, for good reason or disability. During the term of the respective agreements, if we terminate the executive's employment other than for death, disability or cause, or if the executive resigns for good reason, then the executive will receive a lump sum cash payment equal to the sum of:

his salary, unused vacation and, for Mr. Dunham, deferred compensation, accrued to the date of termination;

a pro rata bonus for the year in which the termination occurs; the sum of the salary and bonus that would have been payable to him through the remaining term of his agreement (for Mr. Dunham) or for an additional three years (for Mr. Mulva), based on his then current salary and an annual bonus equal to the average of the two highest annual bonuses awarded him within the last three fiscal years; and the value of the additional retirement benefit he would have received had he continued to be our employee through the remaining term of his agreement (for Mr. Dunham) or for an additional three years (for Mr. Mulva).

In addition, each executive will receive:

grants of options, restricted stock and other compensatory awards he would have received through the remaining term of his agreement (for Mr. Dunham) or for an additional three years (for Mr. Mulva), based on the average of the grants of options, restricted stock and other compensatory awards he received in the preceding three years (other than the grants received by each executive in connection with the merger);

vesting of, and termination of restrictions on, any unvested equity or performance-based awards, and the remaining term for exercise of his stock options will not be less than one year or, if shorter, until the date they would have expired had his employment continued through the remaining term of his agreement (for Mr. Dunham) or for an additional three years (for Mr. Mulva); and welfare and other benefits through the later of three years following the date of termination of his employment and the date the executive attains age 70, which is referred to as the benefits continuation period.

Moreover, if a change of control of ConocoPhillips precedes or occurs within one year following the termination date, each executive will have the right to cash out his equity-based compensation awards at the most favorable price paid by specified persons during the six-month period prior to the change of control. Each executive will also receive during his lifetime tax and financial planning benefits with related income tax gross-ups so long as he or his family hold ConocoPhillips stock options.

In addition, if Mr. Dunham's employment is terminated under circumstances described above, he will receive the following additional benefits, which are referred to as post-employment compensation, during the benefits continuation period:

continued participation in the director's charitable gift program;

continued participation in welfare benefit plans and fringe benefits arrangements applicable as if he had remained employed;

continued coverage under the comprehensive security program applicable during employment, including both company provided air and ground transportation and home security protection (and a tax gross-up for any taxes incurred as a result of such continued coverage); and continued participation in the ConocoPhillips domestic relocation policy with respect to a single relocation.

If Mr. Dunham remains employed through the expiration of the term of his employment, upon any termination of his employment thereafter, he is entitled to vesting of, and termination of restrictions on, any unvested equity or performance-based awards. In addition, upon such a termination, Mr. Dunham will receive his post-employment compensation. Mr. Mulva's stock options and other equity-based awards will also vest upon termination of his employment at or after the expiration of the agreement.

Mr. Dunham's and Mr. Mulva's employment agreements provide that they will be entitled to receive additional payments sufficient to compensate them for the amount of any excise tax imposed on any payments or benefits or otherwise pursuant to Section 4999 of the Code and for any taxes imposed on that additional payment.

Mr. Dunham's former employment agreement with Conoco provided substantially similar benefits to those set forth above, and would have allowed Mr. Dunham to terminate his employment with Conoco in connection with the merger. As an inducement for Mr. Dunham to enter into the employment agreement with ConocoPhillips, and in lieu of any compensation and benefits that would have been payable to Mr. Dunham under his former employment agreement with Conoco in connection with the merger, Mr. Dunham received, at the completion of the merger on August 30, 2002, a cash lump sum of $16.2 million, and a tax gross-up payment of $8.9 million. In addition, Mr. Dunham received grants of 1,312,320 options and 32,363 vested stock units. The amounts of these benefits were calculated substantially as set forth above, except that they were based on the amount of salary, bonus, retirement benefits, options and restricted stock Mr. Dunham would have received had his employment with Conoco continued an additional three years. Further, all previously awarded but unvested equity or performance-based awards vested, and any restrictions on those awards terminated. The term during which those awards may be exercised by Mr. Dunham was extended until the earlier of (a) the August 30, 2003 or (b) the date upon which the right to exercise any such award would have expired if Mr. Dunham had continued to be employed by Conoco under the terms of his former employment agreement with Conoco for an additional three years. Any option grants made upon completion of the merger will not, however, vest until August 30, 2004, subject to earlier vesting upon the occurrence of a change of control of ConocoPhillips or a termination of Mr. Dunham's employment without cause or for good reason. Mr. Dunham will receive welfare and other benefits continuation until August 30, 2004, and will also continue to receive at no cost to him, until the earlier of Mr. Dunham's death or the expiration or exercise of all his company stock options, the financial and tax planning and life insurance benefits afforded during employment.

In connection with Mr. Mulva's relocation to Houston, Texas, pursuant to his employment agreement, Phillips provided Mr. Mulva with the home sale assistance that he would have received had he been eligible for such assistance under the Phillips Work Force Stabilization Plan described under Severance Arrangements below.

Severance Arrangements

What are the terms of any severance arrangements with our executive officers?

Severance arrangements for executive officers are currently provided under the severance plans of Conoco and Phillips.

Severance Arrangements for Former Conoco Employees

The Key Employee Severance Plan covers executives who were formerly key employees of Conoco. The plan provides that if the employment of a participant in the plan is terminated (1) within two years of a change in control of Conoco, or (2) after a potential change in control of Conoco but prior to a change in control, whether or not a change in control ever occurs, in either case by Conoco or its affiliates other than for cause, or by the participant for good reason, as such terms are defined in the plan, upon executing a general release of liability, the participant will be entitled to:

- a lump-sum cash payment equal to one-and-one-half, two, or three times the sum of the employee's base salary, previous year's bonus, and economic equivalent of the most recent annual guideline stock option award;

- a lump-sum cash payment equal to the present value of the increase in retirement benefits that would result from the crediting of an additional one-and-one-half, two, or three years to the employee's number of years of age and service under the applicable retirement plan;

- 36 months of welfare benefits continuation;

- a pro rata portion of the annual bonus for which the employee is eligible in the year of termination; and

- if necessary, a gross-up payment sufficient to compensate the participant for the amount of any excise tax imposed on payments made under the plan or otherwise pursuant to Section 4999 of the Code and for any taxes imposed on this additional payment.

Prior to October 19, 2005, the Key Employee Severance Plan may not be amended or terminated if such amendment would be adverse to the interests of any eligible employee, without the employee's written consent. Amounts payable under the plan will be in lieu of any payments or benefits that may be payable to the severed employee under any other plan, policy or program of Conoco or its affiliates relating to severance.

Severance Arrangements for Former Phillips Employees

The Executive Severance Plan pays severance benefits to participants, including Phillips' former executive officers, if their employment terminates within two years after a change of control of Phillips either (1) by Phillips or its affiliates, other than for death, disability, transfer to another employer, retirement, cause, as a result of certain sales of subsidiaries or divisions, or (2) by the participant, within 90 days of an event constituting good reason.

Group one participants in the plan, which include Phillips' former Executive Vice Presidents and Senior Vice Presidents, receive severance benefits based on three years' pay, and group two participants, including Phillips' former Vice Presidents, receive benefits based on two years' pay. The severance benefits under the plan consist of:

- a lump-sum cash payment of two or three times the sum of the participant's base salary and the greater of (a) the last incentive bonus paid to the participant before the termination date or (b) the highest incentive bonus target award for the calendar year of the termination date;

- 18 months of health plan benefits continuation at employee rates;

credit for additional years of service under Phillips or ConocoPhillips retirement plans based upon the number of years represented by the lump-sum cash payment, and the portion of such lump-sum payment representing severance benefits from termination through the end of the calendar year of termination will be treated as pensionable earnings; and if the participant's payments or benefits exceed 110 percent of the maximum amount the participant can receive without being subjected to the excise taxes, a gross-up payment sufficient to compensate the participant for the amount of any excise tax imposed on payments made under the plan or otherwise pursuant to Section 4999 of the Code and for any taxes imposed on this additional payment. Otherwise, amounts payable under the plan will be reduced to the maximum amount permissible to avoid imposition of the tax.

In addition, if a participant institutes legal action to obtain or enforce any right or benefit under the severance plan, Phillips will reimburse the participant's reasonable costs and expenses relating to the legal action, including legal fees and expenses, unless a court determines that the participant's position was frivolous. Finally, participants who relocate to secure new employment are entitled to the home sale assistance benefits provided under the Phillips Work Force Stabilization Plan (as described below).

Work Force Stabilization Plan. The Work Force Stabilization Plan provides that all eligible heritage Phillips employees, including executive officers, who are laid off within two years after a change of control of Phillips and who execute a general release of liability are entitled to severance benefits equal to four weeks' pay for each year of service, subject to a maximum of 104 weeks. Pay is determined by adding the employee's current base salary, regularly scheduled overtime pay and most recent incentive bonus award (or target incentive bonus award for the calendar year of termination, if greater). Work Force Stabilization Plan benefits payable to employees who also participate in the Executive Severance Plan are reduced by the amount of benefits those employees receive under the Executive Severance Plan.

Company sponsored health plan benefits are continued at employee rates for eligible employees for a minimum of six months to a maximum of eighteen months depending on years of service. The period of time which severance benefits cover would be added to service for purposes of calculating the heritage Phillips final average earnings formula in the ConocoPhillips Retirement Plan, and all affected employees would immediately be vested in the retirement plan. In addition, eligible affected employees can require ConocoPhillips to purchase their principal residences under a formula-pricing arrangement intended to protect them from loss of value, and could receive reimbursement of legal expenses incurred in connection with certain claims for benefits under the plan.

Effect of Merger on Severance Arrangements

The merger constituted a change in control under each of the severance plans discussed above. To address and eliminate the financial incentives under the plan for Messrs. McKee and Nokes to terminate their employment with ConocoPhillips within 30 days of the first anniversary of Conoco stockholder approval of the merger, and in exchange for the agreement by those executives to waive their rights under the plan with respect to the merger, Conoco paid Messrs. McKee and Nokes the amount that would have been payable to them under the terms of Conoco's Key Employee Severance Plan. Such payments are detailed in footnote 1 to the table captioned "Summary Compensation Table" beginning on page 20.

Section 16(a) Beneficial Ownership Reporting Compliance

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 requires ConocoPhillips' directors and executive officers, and persons who own more than 10% of a registered class of ConocoPhillips' equity securities, to file reports of ownership and changes in ownership of ConocoPhillips common stock with the SEC and the NYSE, and to furnish ConocoPhillips with copies of the forms they file.

To ConocoPhillips' knowledge, based solely on a review of the copies of such reports furnished to it and written representations of our officers and directors, during the year ended December 31, 2002, all Section 16(a) reports applicable to its officers and directors were filed on a timely basis except for a Form 4 filed on behalf of Phillip L. Frederickson, which was filed late.

Certain Relationships and Related Transactions

Mr. McPherson's adult son, Kenneth McPherson, has been an employee of ConocoPhillips for 22 years. Currently, he is a non-executive employee of one of our foreign subsidiaries, for which he received aggregate compensation of $325,716 in 2002. Proposal To Ratify the Appointment of Ernst & Young LLP

(Proposal 2 on the Proxy Card)

What am I voting on?

You are voting on a proposal to ratify the appointment of Ernst & Young LLP as our independent auditors for 2003. The Audit and Compliance Committee has appointed Ernst & Young to serve as independent auditors.

What services do the independent auditors provide?

Audit services of Ernst & Young for fiscal 2002 included an audit of our consolidated financial statements and services related to periodic filings made with the SEC. Additionally, Ernst & Young provided certain services related to the consolidated quarterly reports and annual and other periodic reports and other services as described in the next question.

How much were the independent auditors paid for 2002 and 2001?

Ernst & Young's fees for professional services totaled $12.2 million for 2002 and $7.4 million for 2001. Ernst & Young's fees for professional services included the following:

Audit Services fees for audit services, which relate to the fiscal year consolidated audit, quarterly reviews, registration statements, comfort letters, statutory audits, accounting consultations, subsidiary audits and related matters, were $7.8 million in 2002 and $5.8 million in 2001.

Audit-Related Services fees for audit-related services, which consisted of benefit plan audits and special reports, were $0.8 million in 2002 and $0.5 million in 2001.

Tax Services fees for tax services, which primarily related to tax consulting and compliance services and expatriate tax services, were $2.9 million in 2002 and $0.9 million in 2001.

Other Services fees for other services, which primarily related to financial planning assistance for employees, certain actuarial services and forensic audit services, were $0.7 million in 2002 and $0.2 million in 2001.

The Audit and Compliance Committee has considered whether the non-audit services provided to ConocoPhillips by Ernst & Young impaired the independence of Ernst & Young and concluded that they did not.

Will a representative of Ernst & Young be present at the meeting?

Yes, one or more representatives of Ernst & Young will be present at the meeting. The representatives will have an opportunity to make a statement if they desire and will be available to respond to appropriate questions from the stockholders.

What vote is required to approve this proposal?

Approval of this proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares present in person or represented by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote on the proposal. If the appointment of Ernst & Young is not ratified, the Audit and Compliance Committee will reconsider the appointment.

Solicitation by Board; Expenses of Solicitation

Our Board of Directors has sent you this proxy statement. Our directors, officers and employees may solicit proxies by mail, by telephone or in person. Those persons will receive no additional compensation for any solicitation activities. We will request banking institutions, brokerage firms, custodians, trustees, nominees and fiduciaries to forward solicitation materials to the beneficial owners of common stock held of record by those entities, and we will, upon the request of those record holders, reimburse reasonable forwarding expenses. We will pay the costs of preparing, printing, assembling and mailing the proxy materials used in the solicitation of proxies. In addition, we have hired D.F. King & Co., Inc. to assist us in soliciting proxies, which it may solicit by telephone or in person. We anticipate paying D.F. King and Co., Inc. a fee of $13,500, plus expenses.

Submission of Future Stockholder Proposals

Under SEC rules, a stockholder who intends to present a proposal, including the nomination of directors, at the 2004 Annual Meeting of Stockholders and who wishes the proposal to be included in the proxy statement for that meeting must submit the proposal in writing to our Corporate Secretary. The proposal must be received no later than December 6, 2003.

Stockholders who wish to propose a matter for action at the 2004 Annual Meeting, including the nomination of directors, but who do not wish to have the proposal or nomination included in the proxy statement, must notify ConocoPhillips in writing of the information required by the provisions of ConocoPhillips' by-laws dealing with stockholder proposals. The notice must be delivered to ConocoPhillips' Corporate Secretary between January 7, 2004 and February 6, 2004. You can obtain a copy of ConocoPhillips' by-laws by writing the Corporate Secretary at the address below, or via the Internet at www.conocophillips.com.

All written proposals should be directed to E. Julia Lambeth, Corporate Secretary, ConocoPhillips, 600 North Dairy Ashford, Houston, Texas 77079.

The Committee on Directors' Affairs is responsible for selecting and recommending director candidates to our Board of Directors, and will consider nominees recommended by stockholders. If you wish to have the Committee on Directors' Affairs consider a nominee for director, you must send a written notice to ConocoPhillips' Corporate Secretary at the address provided above.

Availability of Form 10-K and Annual Report to Stockholders

SEC rules require us to provide an Annual Report to stockholders who receive this proxy statement. Additional copies of the Annual Report, along with copies of our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2002, including the financial statements and the financial statement schedules, are available without charge to stockholders upon written request to ConocoPhillips Shareholder Relations Department, P.O. Box 2197, Houston, Texas 77079-2197 or via the Internet at www.conocophillips.com. We will furnish the exhibits to our Annual Report on Form 10-K upon payment of our copying and mailing expenses.

Householding

The SEC permits a single set of annual reports and proxy statements to be sent to any household at which two or more stockholders reside if they appear to be members of the same family. Each stockholder continues to receive a separate proxy card. This procedure, referred to as householding, reduces the volume of duplicate information stockholders receive and reduces mailing and printing expenses. A number of brokerage firms have instituted householding.

As a result, if you hold your shares through a broker and you reside at an address at which two or more stockholders reside, you will likely be receiving only one annual report and proxy statement unless any stockholder at that address has given the broker contrary instructions. However, if any such beneficial stockholder residing at such an address wishes to receive a separate annual report or proxy statement in the future, or if any such beneficial stockholder that elected to continue to receive separate annual reports or proxy statements wishes to receive a single annual report or proxy statement in the future, that stockholder may contact their broker or send a written request to ConocoPhillips Shareholder Relations Department, P.O. Box 2197, Houston, Texas 77079-2197 or may telephone us at (281) 293-6800.

Other Matters

The Board of Directors does not intend to present any other items of business other than those stated in the Notice of Annual Meeting of Stockholders. If other matters are properly brought before the meeting, the persons named as your proxies will vote the shares represented by it in accordance with their best judgment. Discretionary authority to vote on other matters is included in the proxy.

To: ConocoPhillips Domestic Employees

On December 14, 1995, the Compensation and Benefits Arrangements Stock Trust (CBT) was established for Phillips Petroleum Company to use in its sole discretion to meet its obligations with respect to various compensation and benefits arrangements. The CBT holds approximately 26.8 million shares of ConocoPhillips common stock. The Trustee for the CBT is Vanguard Fiduciary Trust Company (Trustee).

Under the terms of the CBT, the Trustee is required to seek voting instructions for the CBT shares from certain domestic and foreign employees of ConocoPhillips and subsidiaries who participate in Company stock-related benefit plans and arrangements.

Enclosed is the Voting Direction card. If you choose to exercise this opportunity to vote, your vote will be given equal weight to that of all employees who elect to vote, and those directions will govern the Trustee's vote of approximately 95 percent of the 26.8 million shares. The remaining CBT shares will be voted by foreign employees under similar arrangements.

These 26.8 million shares in the CBT, combined with the shares held in the plans sponsored by ConocoPhillips and its subsidiaries, give employees a strong voice in the direction of our Company.
