ONLINE RESOURCES CORPORATION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(UNAUDITED)

1. DESCRIPTION OF BUSINESS AND BASIS OF PRESENTATION

Online Resources Corporation (the "Company") is a leading Internet banking, bill payment and e-finance application service provider to financial institutions. The Company provides its clients, primarily regional and community banks, thrifts and credit unions, with an end-to-end outsourced service, which is branded in the client's name. This enables cost-effective delivery of Internet-based financial services to consumer, small business and other retail customers of the Company's clients. By packaging transaction services with call center, database and support services, the Company offers an integrated financial hub and a single-source solution for its clients and their retail customers.

INTERIM FINANCIAL INFORMATION

The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions for Form 10-Q and Article 10 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, certain information and footnote disclosures normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles have been condensed, or omitted, pursuant to the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission. In the opinion of management, the statements include all adjustments necessary (which are of a normal and recurring nature) for the fair presentation of the results of the interim periods presented. These financial statements should be read in conjunction with our audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2000, included in the Annual Report on Form 10-K filed by the Company with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 30, 2001. The results of operations for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations for any other interim period or for a full fiscal year.

RECENT PRONOUNCEMENTS

In June 1998, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement No. 133 ("FAS 133"), Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, as amended, which is required to be adopted in years beginning after June 15, 2000. The Company does not invest in financial instruments of a hedging or derivative nature. FAS 133 will not have a significant effect on the earnings or the financial position of the Company upon adoption.

Edgar Filing: ONLINE RESOURCES & COMMUNICATIONS CORP - Form 10-Q

RECLASSIFICATION

Certain 2000 amounts have been reclassified to conform to the 2001 presentation.

2. CHANGE IN REVENUE RECOGNITION FOR IMPLEMENTATION REVENUE

The Company generates revenues from service fees, implementation fees, and other revenues. Revenues from service fees are derived from recurring monthly fees by providing services which include banking and bill payment, customer service, consumer marketing, information reporting, and administrative services, to financial institution clients, typically based on the number of enrolled retail customers. Implementation and other related revenues are generated from the linking of the Company's financial institution clients to the Company's Quotien(TM) e-financial suite through various networks and the Company's gateways and the sale of PC software and customer service software used to access the e-financial suite. Effective January 1, 2001, we discontinued support of our proprietary PC software and screen-based telephone.

The Company previously recognized nonrefundable implementation fees as revenue under the percentage of completion method as certain milestone output measures were completed. During the year ended December 31, 2000, the Company adopted SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101 -- Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements ("SAB 101"), effective January 1, 2000, and changed its method of accounting for nonrefundable implementation fees for all contracts to recognize such fees and the related incremental direct costs of implementation activities over the contract term as the services are provided, which typically range from one to five years (generally three years). The Company believes the change in accounting principle is preferable based on guidance provided in SAB 101. The cumulative effect of the accounting change as of January 1, 2000 was $217,000 ($1,371,000 of revenue less direct incremental costs of $1,154,000) and was recognized in the statement of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2000. The effect of the accounting change on the quarter ended March 31, 2000 was to increase the net loss before the cumulative effect of the accounting change by $44,000. Due to the adoption of SAB 101, $1,371,000 of revenue that was previously recognized under the Company's prior revenue recognition policy will be recognized under the Company's revised revenue recognition policy through periods up to 2004 because some contract periods extend through 2004. During the quarter ended March 31, 2001, the Company recognized revenue of approximately $163,000 and related direct incremental costs that were included in the cumulative effect adjustment at January 1, 2000.

3. NON-RECURRING CHARGES

The Company incurred a one-time charge of $209,434, of which $207,648 was paid, including severance and benefit payments during the quarter ended March 31, 2001 as a result of the staff reduction of 23 employees, approximately 9% of the total employees, on January 3, 2001.

4. NET LOSS PER COMMON SHARE

Basic and diluted net loss per common share is calculated by dividing the net loss by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding.

Due to their antidilutive effects, outstanding shares of stock options, warrants and convertible subordinated notes to purchase shares of common stock were excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share for all periods presented.

5. EQUITY

During the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2001, employees purchased 42,343 shares of common stock through employee stock purchase plan and individuals exercised warrants to purchase 21,385 shares of common stock with net proceeds to the Company of approximately $222,000.

6. NOTES PAYABLE

On September 28, 2000, the Company completed the private placement of $20 million in convertible subordinated notes (the "Convertible Notes") to a group of accredited investors. The Company received proceeds of $18.7 million net of debt issuance costs of $1.3 million including commission of $917,200. The proceeds have been and will continue to be used for working capital. The Convertible Notes mature on September 30, 2005, unless previously converted, and carry an 8% coupon. Interest payment dates are April 1 and October 1, commencing April 1, 2001. The Convertible Notes are convertible at a price of $4.75 per share subject to an annual reset under certain circumstances but in no event will the price be less than $4.00 per share. Subject to certain conditions, the Company may redeem all or part of the Convertible Notes prior to maturity. As of March 31, 2001, 4,210,526 shares were authorized and issuable upon conversion of the Convertible Notes. Jefferies & Company, Inc., one of the underwriters of the placement, also obtained 200,000 warrants that expire on September 30, 2005 that are exercisable at the same price as the conversion price under the Convertible Notes.

As of March 31, 2001, accrued interest on notes payable totaled approximately $813,000, all of such interest attributable to the Convertible Notes. As of March 31, 2000, we had no accrued interest on notes payable as no notes were outstanding.

7. COMPONENTS OF COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

Comprehensive income includes the Company's net loss adjusted for changes, net of tax, of unrealized losses on investments in marketable securities. Comprehensive income for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000 is as follows:

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS.

CAUTIONARY NOTE

This Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may contain "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, including, but not limited to:

- Any statements in this document that are not statements of historical fact may be considered forward-looking;
- Forecasts of growth in business-to-business electronic commerce, and growth in the number of consumers using online banking and billpaying services;
- Statements regarding trends in our revenues, expense levels, and liquidity and capital resources;
- Statements about the sufficiency of the proceeds from the sale of securities and cash balances to meet currently planned working capital and capital expenditure requirements for at least the next twelve months; and
- Other statements identified or qualified by words such as "likely", "will", "suggest", "may", "would", "could", "should", "expects", "anticipates", "estimates", "plans", "projects", "believes", "seek", "intend" and other similar words that signify forward-looking statements.

These forward-looking statements represent our best judgment as of the date of the Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q, and we caution readers not to place undue reliance on such statements. Actual performance and results of operations may differ materially from those projected or suggested in the forward-looking statements due to certain risks and uncertainties, including but not limited to, the risks and uncertainties described or discussed in the section "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 30, 2001. These risks include, among others, the following:

- our history of losses and anticipation of future losses;
- significant fluctuations of our quarterly financial results;
- our dependence on the marketing efforts of third parties;
- our dependence on our financial institution clients to market our services;
- the potential uncertainty of our co-marketing efforts;
- the potential fluctuations in our operating results;
- our potential need for additional capital;
- our potential inability to expand our services and related products in the event of substantial increases in demand for these services and related products;
- our ability to compete with larger, more established businesses offering similar products or services;
- our ability to attract and retain skilled personnel due to our complex business;
- our reliance on our patents and other intellectual property rights;
- our ability to promote our services to be broadly used and accepted by consumers;
- consolidation of the banking and financial services industry;
- reduction or elimination of the fees for some services due to the consumer demand for low-cost or free online financial services;
- our failure to successfully implement a system upgrade or conversion may adversely affect our reputation and our business;

- our co-marketing efforts may not be successful;
- government regulation could interfere with our business;
- our certificate of incorporation and bylaw provisions may prevent or delay third parties from buying your stock;
- control of the management and affairs by our management and directors;
- our volatile stock price;
- a substantial number of shares of common stock may be sold, which could affect the trading prices of our common stock and the convertible notes;
- security breaches or system failures could disrupt our business and we could be liable for some types of failures; and

- if we lose a material client, our business may be adversely impacted.

OVERVIEW

We are a leading application service provider for Internet banking, bill payment and e-financial services to financial institutions. We provide our clients a cost-effective outsourced service, branded in their name, by seamlessly integrating Internet banking, electronic bill payment, and other e-financial services into a single-vendor, end-to-end solution. As part of our services, we provide customer support through our call center, marketing services, web site design, implementation and other services.

We primarily derive revenue from long-term service contracts with our financial institution clients, who pay us recurring fees based primarily on the number of their retail customers enrolled and transaction volumes, as well as an up-front implementation fee. Our financial institution clients typically subsidize some or all of our fees when reselling our services to their retail customers, as they derive significant potential benefits including account retention, delivery and paper cost savings, account consolidation and cross-selling of other products. As a network-based service provider, we have made substantial up-front investments in infrastructure. We believe our financial performance and operating leverage will be based primarily on increasing retail customer subscriptions and transaction volumes over a relatively fixed cost base.

Our current sources of revenue are from service fees, implementation and other revenues. We expect that our revenue growth will principally come from service fees as a result of continued growth of retail customers.

- Service fees. Our service fee revenues are derived from recurring monthly fees by providing services which include banking and bill payment, customer service, consumer marketing, information reporting, and administrative services, to financial institution clients, typically based on the number of enrolled retail customers. These services are priced on a monthly per retail customer basis, and in some cases, on a transaction basis. We recognize these revenues from services as provided.
- Implementation and other revenues. We generate revenue from implementation of our fully integrated services to our financial institution clients. Implementation fees are paid on a one-time basis at signing. We previously recognized nonrefundable implementation fees as revenue under the percentage of completion method as certain milestone output measures were completed. During the year ended December 31, 2000, effective January 1, 2000, we adopted SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 101--Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements ("SAB 101") and changed our method of accounting for nonrefundable implementation fees for all contracts to recognize such fees over the contract term as the services are provided, which typically range from one to five years. We also derive revenue from sales of related enabling products and software at fixed prices, including our PC software and customer service software. These have not been a significant source of revenue and continue to decline as retail customers migrate to the web service. Effective January 1, 2001, we discontinued support of our proprietary PC software and screen-based telephone.

Historically, the majority of our resources have been directed to creating our proprietary system. Our proprietary system enables us to provide a broad range of services to our financial institution clients including online banking, bill paying, and access to complementary financial services supported by our customer call center, marketing services and other support services. While investment to date has been significant, we believe the infrastructure we have built will enable us to support our anticipated growth over the next several years with only modest cost increases associated with adding retail customers.

FINANCIAL CONDITION

Since our founding, we have incurred high costs to create our infrastructure, while generating low revenues. As a result, we have historically experienced large operating losses and negative cash flow. At March 31, 2001, we had an accumulated deficit of $78.8 million and net property and equipment of $6.7 million. We have funded our operations primarily through the issuance of equity and debt securities. Ongoing working capital requirements will primarily consist of personnel costs related to enhancing and maintaining our system. We expect to continue to incur losses in the near future.

As of March 31, 2001, we had $3.1 million in cash and cash equivalents and $14.2 million in investments as compared to $1.8 million in cash and cash equivalents and $19.7 million in investments as of December 31, 2000. The decrease in cash and investments results from cash used for operating purposes. Total liabilities decreased from $25.9 million as of December 31, 2000 to $25.6 million as of March 31, 2001 primarily as a result of decreases in deferred revenues and capital lease obligations.

Our limited operating history makes it difficult to evaluate our prospects for success and our revenue and profitability potential is unproven.

Revenues. We derive revenues from service fees, implementation and other revenues. Revenues increased $2.6 million, or 85.5%, to $5.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $3.0 million for the same period in 2000. This increase was primarily attributable to a 112.8% increase in service fees which were largely recurring and driven by an increase of 138.0% in the number of retail customers and an increase of 123.1% in the number of transactions offset by lower service fees per user measured at March 31, 2001 and March 31, 2000. Additionally, implementation and other revenues decreased $48,000, or 7.1%, to $634,000 as a result of discontinuing our screen phone and proprietary PC software products.

Cost of Revenues. Cost of revenues primarily includes telecommunications, payment processing, systems operations, customer service, implementation and related products. Cost of revenues increased $653,000, or 21.8%, to $3.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $3.0 million for the same period in 2000. This increase was primarily attributable to a $289,000 increase in customer service costs and a $231,000 increase in bill payment processing costs. These increases resulted from the increased number of retail customers, increased number of transactions, increased banking expenses and an increase in staff to support the growth of our operations.

Gross Profit. Gross profit increased to $1.9 million from $4,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively. Gross margin improved to 34.4% from 0.1% primarily due to increased service fees leveraged over our relatively fixed costs of revenue. Gross margin for service fees improved as a result of increased end user growth without a corresponding incremental increase in costs.

General and Administrative. General and administrative expenses primarily consist of salaries for executive, administrative and financial control personnel, consulting expenses and facilities costs such as office leases, insurance, and depreciation. General and administrative expenses increased $83,000, or 5.0%, to $1,745,000 as compared to $1,662,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively. We have employed cost control initiatives to minimize material increase in our general and administrative expenses.

Sales and Marketing. Sales and marketing expenses include salaries and commissions paid to sales and marketing personnel, consumer marketing costs, public relations costs, and other costs incurred in marketing our services and products. Sales and marketing expenses decreased $756,000, or 33.3%, to $1.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $2.3 million for the same period in 2000. The principal reason for the decrease in sales and marketing expenses was a decline in advertising, direct mail, commission, telemarketing expenses and a reduction in staffs as a result of consolidating certain client service responsibilities.

Systems and Development. Systems and development expenses include salaries of personnel in the systems and development department, consulting fees and all other expenses incurred in supporting the research and development of new services and products, and new technology to enhance existing products. Systems and development expenses increased $75,000, or 5.3%, to $1.5 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $1.4 million for the same period in 2000. The lack of material increase in our systems and development expenses was associated with our efforts to control costs.

Non-Recurring Charges. As a result of the reduction in staffs by approximately 9% on January 3, 2001, we incurred a one-time charge of $209,000, of which $207,648 was paid, including severance costs and benefit payments as of March 31, 2001.

Loss from Operations. Loss from operations decreased $2.3 million, or 43.0%, to $3.1 million as compared to $5.4 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively. Excluding one-time charges related to the staff reduction, loss from operations decreased $2.5 million, or 46.9%, attributable to the various factors as described above.

Other Income and Expense. Interest income decreased $96,000, or 31.9%, to $205,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $301,000 for the same period in 2000, primarily due to lower interest rates. Interest and other expenses increased $485,000, or 1691.5%, to $514,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $28,700 for the same period in 2000 as the result of the interest expense in connection with the issuance of $20 million convertible subordinated notes on September 28, 2000. Going forward, until at least September 2005, unless the convertible notes are earlier converted, we will incur higher interest expenses due to the convertible subordinated notes.

Net Loss and Loss Per Share. Net loss was $3.4 million compared to a loss of $5.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively. For the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000 the basic and diluted loss per share were $(0.29) and $(0.48), respectively. Excluding non-recurring charges and cumulative effect of change in accounting principle, we would have reported loss per share of $(0.27) and $(0.46), for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively, as a result of the various factors noted above.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

Cash and investments in available for sale securities increased $108,000 to $17.3 million from $17.2 million as of March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Net cash used in operating activities was $3.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $4.8 million in the three months ended March 31, 2000. Cash used in operating activities in the three months ended March 31, 2001 resulted primarily from a net loss of $3.4 million. Cash used in operating activities in the three months ended March 31, 2000 was primarily attributable to a net loss of $5.3 million.

Net cash provided from investing activities in the three months ended

March 31, 2001 and 2000 was $4.9 million and $4.8 million, respectively, which primarily resulted from the net reduction of $5.6 million and $5.5 million of investments in available for sale securities. In addition, capital expenditures were $676,000 and $737,000 for the three months ended March 31, 2001 and 2000, respectively.

Net cash provided by financing activities was $82,000 in the three months ended March 31, 2001 as compared to $1.3 million in the three months ended March 31, 2000. Cash provided by financing activities in the three months ended March 31, 2001 resulted primarily from the issuance of $222,000 of common stock attributable to the exercise of warrants and the employee stock purchase plan offset by $94,000 of the capital lease payments and $45,000 of the convertible subordinated notes issuance costs. During the three months ended March 31, 2000 $1.3 million in cash provided by financing activities was the result of the issuance of common stock in the amount of $1.1 million. At March 31, 2001, we had cash and cash equivalents of $3.1 million, investments in available for sale securities of $14.2 million, working capital of $17.8 million, long term obligations of $21.2 million and stockholder equity of $6.1 million.

We currently believe that cash, cash equivalents and investment balances will be sufficient to meet our current anticipated cash requirements for at least the next twelve months. However, there can be no assurance that additional capital beyond the amounts currently forecasted by us will not be required or that any such required additional capital will be available on reasonable terms, if at all, at such time as required. We intend to invest our cash in excess of current operating requirements in marketable government, Corporate and mortgage-backed securities.

ITEM 3. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

We invest primarily in marketable government, corporate, and mortgage-backed debt securities. We do not have operations subject to risks of foreign currency fluctuations, nor do we use derivative financial instruments in our operations or investment portfolio. We have classified all of our investments as available-for-sale financial instruments. The following table provides information about our available-for-sale investments that are sensitive to changes in interest rates.

	MARCH 31, 2001
	BOOK VALUE	FAIR VALUE	INTEREST RATE
U.S. government treasury obligations.....	$ 688,683	$ 688,541	4.15%
Commercial bonds.....	13,392,835	13,476,188	5.06%
Total investments.....	$14,081,518	$ 14,164,729
	=====	=====

The long-term debts on March 31, 2001 are comprised of convertible subordinated notes with an 8% interest rate and capital lease obligations with interest rates ranging from 8% to 13%. The cost of the convertible
