DESCRIPTION OF THE COMPANY

Source Capital, Inc., is a major diversified, publicly traded investment company with total net assets of approximately $615,000,000. Its investment portfolio includes a wide range of securities with primary emphasis on common stock and convertible debentures.

Source Capital has Common and Preferred shares outstanding, both of which are listed and traded on The New York Stock Exchange. Each of the 1,969,212 outstanding Preferred shares has a prior claim of $27.50 on assets and $2.40 per year on income. The balance of the Company's assets and income are available to the 8,655,240 shares of Common Stock outstanding.

Source Capital's investment objective is to seek maximum total return for Common shareholders from both capital appreciation and investment income to the extent consistent with protection of invested capital and provision of sufficient income to meet the dividend requirements of Preferred shareholders.

Source Capital is not a mutual fund. Thus, it does not repurchase its own shares on demand and does not need to structure its portfolio securities to provide for possible redemptions. As a publicly traded investment company, Source Capital's Common and Preferred shares are bought and sold on The New York Stock Exchange, and the Company is not involved in such transactions.

Source Capital's investment approach emphasizes primarily equity and equity-related investments in seeking to achieve its growth objective for its Common shareholders. The desirability of equity versus fixed-income investments has been increasingly debated in recent years. Source Capital's position is that without assuming undue risk and recognizing the fixed claim of its Preferred Stock, properly selected stocks offer the better long-term opportunity for overall investment return as well as long-term protection from the large but uncertain threat of inflation. Source Capital's equity investments have been directed toward companies with highly liquid, relatively unleveraged balance sheets and a demonstrated long-term ability to earn above average returns on invested capital. Source Capital's equity investment portfolio is based on fundamental judgments of long-term returns attainable from income and appreciation in the securities of such companies and is not derived from overall economic forecasts or stock market predictions.

The Company has adopted a flexible distribution policy. This policy is designed to pay Common shareholders quarterly distributions at a rate that is substantially in excess of net investment income. The rate will be adjusted periodically in response to sustained changes in the net asset value, market conditions and changes to investment company regulations and tax laws. Only a portion of such distributions is paid from net investment income. The remainder is paid from any net realized capital gains and/or paid-in capital, as determined by each year's results. To the extent the Company realizes net long-term capital gains for any year in excess of the amounts distributed under the Company's distribution policy, such excess will be distributed to shareholders. For federal income tax purposes, all distributions in excess of current year earnings will be taxable to shareholders as long as the Company continues to have accumulated earnings and profits from prior years.

LETTER TO SHAREHOLDERS

TO OUR SHAREHOLDERS:

2007 Investment Portfolio Returns

Total net assets of Source Capital amounted to $614,584,799 at December 31, 2007. After providing for Preferred Stock equity, Common equity amounted to $560,431,469 or $64.75 of net asset value per Common share. This compared with total net assets of $610,486,274, Common equity of $556,332,944 and net asset value per Common share of $64.81 one year ago. These changes reflect payments to Common and Preferred shareholders totaling $39,208,043. As a result, Source Capital achieved a total investment return during 2007 of 6.1% on its Common net asset value, and 6.4% on total net assets, with both figures reflecting the reinvestment of dividends and distributions.

Distributions to Common Shareholders

Source Capital's distribution policy allows the Board of Directors to continue to consider changes in net asset value when establishing the quarterly distribution rate, but also provides for the flexibility to consider other factors such as current market conditions and changes to investment company regulations and tax laws. It is the intention of the Board of Directors to continue paying quarterly distributions at a rate that is substantially in excess of net investment income as evidenced by the current annual distribution rate of $4.00.

Capital gains are the eventual result of successful investments. As in recent years, changes in relative market valuation as well as changing prospects of individual companies led us to sell certain holdings in 2007, and these sales resulted in the realization of significant net capital gains. We believe that we have been able to replace these securities both by adding to existing investments at advantageous prices and by making selected new investments (primarily equity investments) offering potentially better long-term investment returns. As a result of this, the Company realized $29,892,395 in net capital gains in 2007. Detailed tax information is presented on page 9.

Market Prices and Shareholder Returns

In the long run, the future returns for Source Capital Common shareholders will depend primarily on how well we manage the firm's investment portfolio. The longer the period of time involved, the more important portfolio investment returns will be in determining shareholder returns. However, in the short run, changes in the market price of Source Capital Common shares can deviate from the underlying changes in net asset value causing market returns to be either enhanced or diminished.

We continue to see differences between each year's market returns for Source shareholders (the change in Source's quoted price plus dividends received) and the actual investment returns earned by the Source portfolio. These differences can become more dramatic when the premium or discount fluctuates considerably. An increase in the premium (or decrease in the discount) will, of course, produce a market return greater than that actually earned on the underlying portfolio, while a decrease in the premium will have the opposite effect.

Commentary

The year 2007 was a dynamic and exciting one for the credit and equity markets, and the relatively flat performance of the major averages (S&P 500 up 5%, Russell 2000 down 2%) did not do justice to the important and troubling events which continue to unfold in the world economy.

We saw a housing collapse which, although it started with foolish and abusive practices in subprime lending, has spread to the whole market, with declining real estate values, difficulty in borrowing for even excellent credits, and a sharp shrinkage in mortgage securitizations.

The subprime disaster quickly engulfed many major financial institutions, especially large banks and brokers, with huge write-downs and severe erosion of their capital bases. It also revealed risky and questionable practices in securities issuance (especially CDOs collateralized debt obligations), off-balance sheet entities (e.g. SIVs structured investment vehicles), and bond insurance (sloppy underwriting by the monoline insurers).

To a great extent, the full effects, both primary and secondary, of the housing and financial events have yet to play out. A 50% decline in new housing starts is clearly highly deflationary in its own right, but its impact could be greater than one might think. For example, if a new subdivision doesn't get built (lower residential construction spending) it likely means that the related shopping center, school, and roads don't get built either (lower non-residential construction).

Potentially more important, housing "capital gains" have provided both the ability, via cash-back refinancings, and the consumer justification to spend more and save less out of current income, even taking savings to negative rates. This rate of consumer spending has been an important prop to the economy, and it is hard to see how it is going to be maintained in the current environment.

In the financial markets, it is helpful to examine the impact of subprime and related problems on market liquidity and on bank behavior. The subprime losses and the related difficulties in valuing and trading many esoteric securities have hurt market liquidity, making it difficult or impossible to sell new equity or issue bonds. In addition to the obvious impact on corporate investment, this could also have a major adverse impact on the consumer. Much of consumer credit in the form of mortgages, car loans, and credit card debt is ultimately provided via asset-backed securities (ABS).

There is no question that the financial market problems have had, and will continue to have, adverse effects on the economy. It is also highly likely that we will see additional losses and write-downs announced in coming weeks and months. However, we are hopeful that central banks have both the ability and the will to ameliorate much of the impacts of market illiquidity on U.S. and European economies, though this outcome is far from certain. In addition, sovereign investment funds in the Middle East and Far East are clearly showing a willingness to replace some of the equity losses at U.S. and European banks and brokers.

Considering the severity of the problems facing housing and financial markets, it is somewhat surprising how muted the stock market's reaction was in 2007 (though early 2008 has been a different story). Certainly, the stock prices of many companies directly impacted by housing and credit markets have declined sharply Citigroup 4th quarter -37%, year -47%; Countrywide -53%, -79%; homebuilder DR Horton +3%, -50%. But much of the market did not significantly react to the increasingly likely prospect of an economic slowdown or recession.

After a mixed third-quarter performance (large-cap stocks up, small-cap stocks down), the whole market turned down in the fourth quarter, with the indexes down 3-4%. Source did remarkably well in the quarter, with a gain of 0.3%. The portfolio's best performers were healthcare companies and their service providers (Charles River, Invitrogen, Amsurg, and Bio-Rad) as well as several companies thought to have low exposure to economic cycles (Copart, Noble, and CLARCOR). Declining stocks are more difficult to characterize, but included several technology companies (SanDisk, Microchip, and Maxim) as well as Signet, Knight Transportation, and Manpower.

For the full year, the stock market closed with a modest gain, with the S&P 500 up 5.5%. Small stocks underperformed, with the Russell 2000 down 1.6% and the Russell Microcap Index down 8%. We view Source's 6.1% gain for the year as respectable, especially given the relative outperformance of large-cap and growth stocks, neither of which are emphasized in the Source portfolio. Source's best-performing stocks for the year were mostly healthcare related (Invitrogen + 65%, Charles River +52%, Bio-Rad + 26%) and energy (Noble +48%, Helix +32%). Underperformers included companies with some connection to housing or other consumer durables (Franklin Electric -26%, CarMax -26%, HNI -21%).

Over longer time periods, Source has performed well against its benchmark Russell 2500 as well as the leading large-cap and small-cap indexes.

We think it is useful to contrast the year 2007 with 2006. An important driver of 2006 performance was the growing role of private equity. This phenomenon was discussed at length in the Source Shareholder Letter in last year's Annual Report.

Actual private equity purchases, and the prospects of others, "distorted" market pricing, running up the valuations of the kind of low- and medium-quality businesses preferred by private-equity buyers (and generally absent from the Source portfolio). This was an environment in which risk taking was rewarded. We noted in last year's letter that the large impact of private-equity would be "a self-correcting phenomenon" and we would not "indefinitely see increasingly large amounts of capital chasing increasingly poor investments."

The year 2007, in contrast, saw the end of the private-equity boom. Deal volume collapsed during the summer, down 90% from its highs, and has remained at nominal levels. The proximate cause of this was the refusal of bond buyers to continue to fund highly leveraged deals without much higher coupons and tighter bond covenants. More generally, we increasingly saw a market in which risk-taking was no longer encouraged. Not surprisingly, the high-quality companies which dominate the Source portfolio performed relatively well in this environment.

Another notable aspect of the 2007 stock market was the dramatic outperformance of growth stocks over value stocks, which was true across the entire market-cap spectrum. The small stock Russell 2000 growth index was 1700 basis points ahead of the value index. The very large stock Russell 200 growth index outperformed value by 1200 bp. As we noted in our third quarter Shareholder Letter, this dramatic difference in relative performance was likely driven by recession fears, dollar weakness, and the flight from risk discussed above.

Signet Group is a company added to the Source portfolio over the past few months. A discussion of this decision can also serve as an opportunity to illustrate important aspects of our investment philosophy and style.

Signet is the largest operator of chain jewelry stores in the U.S., with mall-based Kay Jewelers (832 stores) and non-mall Jared (135 stores), which has larger, free-standing units. In addition, Signet is the #1 chain jeweler in the United Kingdom.

We have always preferred to own industry leaders, with effective business strategies, growing market shares, and strong finances and management. Signet has been steadily growing its share in both the U.K. and the U.S., where it overtook competitor Zale to become the #1 chain over the past few years. Signet also has been rapidly expanding its Jared concept, which features more expensive products to appeal to an upscale customer. The company's balance sheet is strong and we have been impressed with management's execution of its strategy.

We seek out companies that have demonstrated their superiority by earning higher returns on capital compared to both the average company as well as their direct competitors. Signet's five-year return on equity of 17.6% certainly fits this description. It also compares favorably to the 7.6% return on equity earned by competitor Zale over this period. Signet's operating margin of 10.8% is 60% higher than Zale's.

In addition to earning high returns on capital, we prefer companies that have demonstrated the ability to reinvest their earnings at comparably attractive returns. Although Signet's mall-based Kay Jewelers is a relatively mature concept, the free-standing Jared chain, which features much larger and more expensive stores, has been growing quickly, with 135 units now compared to only 55 five years ago. Signet's returns at mature Jared units are comparable to the high returns earned by the established Kay's.

We strongly favor companies with the resources and inclination to take advantage of challenging times by gaining share via internal reinvestment, or by acquisition of weakened competitors. We believe that Signet meets this test, and we expect to see it continue its aggressive Jared roll-out despite the recent slow down in the jewelry business.

In contrast, Zale, Signet's largest U.S. competitor, is less favorably situated. Its balance sheet is more leveraged than Signet's. Its operating margin has been declining since 2004. It has recently announced that it will close 60 stores, and last year sold its upscale chain, Bailey, Banks and Biddle. Most important, Zale has had four chief executives in the past five years, with the most recent change just this past December. That this management instability has led to inconsistent merchandising and poor execution should not be a surprise.

The two companies have discussed a purchase of Zale by Signet in the past and Signet is open to resuming such talks. Though any future deal would certainly raise the risk profile of our Signet investment, the company's past behavior suggests that it would not undertake such a transaction unless it could be done on a very advantageous basis for Signet shareholders. Certainly Signet is under no pressure to do a deal.

The recent purchase of an 18% position in Zale by an "activist investor" has raised the possibility that events may unfold sooner rather than later. Options would appear to be limited. The company could be sold to a financial buyer, which would likely result in a less aggressive and more cash-flow-oriented operating strategy. It could be sold to a strategic buyer hard to think of one other than Signet. Or it could emphasize a renewed effort to manage the business better. Though there is always the possibility this could succeed, it would be no easy task.

The issues discussed above have all been driven by Signet's financial results and strategic position. We also care about valuation. Ideally we want to buy stocks whose low prices are caused by macro issues (there's a recession) or industry issues (jewelry sales are down), rather than a poorly operated business. We believe that Signet, whose stock is at a 5-year low, selling at 8x year 2007 earnings, meets this test.

In addition, there are a number of unusual factors that we believe have contributed to Signet's depressed valuation but could disappear in the coming year. As a U.K.-domiciled company, traded primarily on the London Stock Exchange, it is no surprise that Signet is followed by U.K.-based analysts and owned by English investors. They tend to view Signet's results in the context of the London market and English retailing environment. However, 75% of Signet's revenue is generated in the U.S., and its growth investments are also primarily in the U.S. Consequently, we believe that this Anglo-centric focus is inappropriate, and in the context of the U.S. stock market, the stock is being mispriced.

It appears that others agree with us, and the portion of the company owned by U.S.-based investors has been rapidly increasing over the past year, recently to about 50%, though the stock price has declined. Apparently old English investors have been eager to sell their shares to new American ones.

It actually makes a difference who owns the stock. Signet has recently switched its functional currency from pounds sterling to U.S. dollars. Management effectively runs the business from U.S. operations' headquarters in Akron, Ohio. The CEO is an American. The company is now considering whether to have shareholders vote on a change of domicile. If approved, we would expect that the main trading market would soon move from London to New York.

If enacted, we view these changes as likely beneficial to the stock's valuation. But even if not, we consider Signet to be an attractive company at an attractive price, and we expect it to be a successful investment over time.

Respectfully submitted,

Eric S. Ende

Notice to Dividend Reinvestment Plan Participants:

The information above shows the cash distributions paid by Source Capital during 2007. When additional shares are issued by Source Capital under the Automatic Reinvestment Plan at a discount from the market price, a participant in the Plan is treated for federal income tax purposes as having received a taxable distribution equal to the market value of the shares purchased. In effect, the discount from market price at which shares are purchased is added to the amount of the cash distribution to determine the total value of the taxable distribution. Such value also becomes the participant's tax basis for the shares purchased under the Plan.

The first three distributions paid during the year were reinvested at a discount from the market price, and the additional taxable amount of these distributions for each Common share purchased is as follows: March 15, 2007, $3.3325 per share; June 15, 2007, $0.5600 per share; September 15, 2007, $1.2200 per share.

State Tax Information:

None of the amounts reported was derived from U.S. Treasury Securities.

Certain states have reduced tax rates for capital gains attributed to securities that meet certain holding periods. The following percentages should be applied to the amounts in column (2): 6.5% of these gains was derived from assets held 1-2 years, 57.1% 2-3 years, 13.6% 3-4 years, 10.9% 4-5 years, 9.6% 5-6 years, and 2.3% more than 6 years.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2007

NOTE A Significant Accounting Policies

Source Capital, Inc. (the "Company"), is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a diversified, closed-end management investment company. The investment objective of the Company is to seek maximum total return for Common shareholders from both capital appreciation and investment income to the extent consistent with protection of invested capital and provision of sufficient income to meet the dividend requirements of Preferred shareholders. The significant accounting policies followed by the Company in the preparation of its financial statements include the following:

- 1. SECURITIES VALUATION Securities, including any outstanding written call options, listed or traded on a national securities exchange are valued at the last sale price. If there was not a sale that day securities are valued at the mean between the most recent bid and asked prices. Securities traded on the NASDAQ National Market System are valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price. Securities that are unlisted and debt and convertible securities listed on a national securities exchange for which the over-the-counter market more accurately reflects the securities' value in the judgment of the Company's officers, are valued at the mean between the most recent bid and asked prices or other ascertainable market value. Short-term corporate notes with maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Securities for which market quotations are not readily available are valued at fair value as determined in good faith by, or under the direction of, the Board of Directors.
- 2. USE OF ESTIMATES The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- 3. OTHER Securities transactions are accounted for on the date the securities are purchased or sold. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income and expenses are recorded on an accrual basis. Dividends payable by the Company on the Preferred Stock are recorded on an accrual basis, and distributions payable on the Common Stock are recorded on the ex-dividend date. The ratios of expenses and net investment income to average net assets do not reflect the effect of dividend payments to Preferred shareholders.

NOTE B Capital Stock

The Preferred Stock is entitled in liquidation to $27.50 per share plus accrued dividends and may be called for redemption, at the discretion of the Company, at $27.50 per share plus accrued dividends. Dividends may not be declared on the Common Stock if Preferred dividends are in arrears or if the Preferred Stock would not thereafter have an asset coverage of 200% or more. Preferred asset coverage was 1,135% at December 31, 2007.

During the year ended December 31, 2007, the Company issued 70,689 shares of Common Stock, under its Dividend Reinvestment Plan for Common and Preferred shareholders.

NOTE C Advisory Fees and Other Affiliated Transactions

Pursuant to an investment advisory agreement, the Company pays First Pacific Advisors, LLC ("Investment Adviser"), monthly investment advisory fees calculated at an annual rate of 0.725% for the first $100 million of total net assets, 0.700% for the next $100 million of total net assets, and 0.675% for any total net assets in excess of $200 million. The Agreement obligates the Investment Adviser to reduce its fee to the extent necessary to reimburse the Company for any annual expenses (exclusive of interest, taxes, the cost of any supplementary statistical and research information, legal expenses related to portfolio securities, and extraordinary expenses such as litigation) in excess of 1 1/2% of the first $30 million and 1% of the remaining average total net assets of the Company for the year.

For the year ended December 31, 2007, the Company paid aggregate fees of $136,500 to all Directors who are not affiliated persons of the Investment Adviser.

NOTE D Federal Income Tax

No provision for federal taxes is considered necessary because the Company has elected to be taxed as a "regulated investment company" under the Internal Revenue Code. The Company intends to maintain this qualification and to distribute to shareholders each year all of its taxable net investment income and taxable net realized gain on investments in accordance with the minimum distribution requirements of the Code.

Dividends and distributions paid to shareholders are based on net investment income and net realized gains determined on a tax reporting basis, which may differ from financial reporting. For federal income tax purposes, the components of distributable earnings at December 31, 2007, were as follows:

Undistributed ordinary income	$ 62,235
Undistributed net realized gains	$

Edgar Filing: SOURCE CAPITAL INC /DE/ - Form N-CSR

The tax status of dividends and distributions paid during the fiscal years ended December 31, 2007 and 2006 were as follows:

	2007	2006
Dividends from Ordinary Income:
Preferred	$ 4,726,109	$ 2,363,054
Common	1,672,327
Distributions from Long-term Capital Gains:
Preferred		$ 2,363,055
Common	$ 32,933,989	$ 40,739,873

The cost of purchases of investment securities (excluding short-term investments with maturities of 60 days or less) aggregated $71,966,405 during the year ended December 31, 2007. Realized gains and losses are based on the specific identification method.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

All of the amounts reported in the financial statements at December 31, 2007, were the same for federal income tax and financial reporting purposes. A permanent difference of $124,382 as of December 31, 2007, was reclassified from Undistributed Net Realized Gain on Investments to Additional Paid-in Capital. The permanent difference related to the accounting for market discount on Common Shares issued under the Dividend Reinvestment Plan, which differs between income tax regulations and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. Gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation for all investments at December 31, 2007, for federal income tax and financial reporting purposes was $238,290,171 and $7,359,617, respectively, resulting in net unrealized appreciation of $230,930,554. The Company adopted the provisions of Financial Accounting Standards Board Interpretation No. 48 ("FIN 48"),

Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, on January 1, 2007. The implementation of FIN 48 resulted in no liability for unrecognized tax benefits and no change to the beginning net asset value of the Company. As of and during the year ended December 31, 2007, the Company did not have any liability for unrecognized tax benefits. The Company recognizes interest and penalties, if any, related to unrecognized tax benefits as income tax expense in the Statement of Operations. During the period, the Company did not incur any interest or penalties. The Company is not subject to examination by U.S. federal tax authorities for years ended before December 31, 2003 or by state tax authorities for years ended before December 31, 2002. Refer to page 9 for detailed information regarding the tax character of distributions paid during the year.

DIVIDEND REINVESTMENT PLAN

Holders of record (other than brokers or nominees of banks and other financial institutions) of Common and Preferred Stock are eligible to participate in the Dividend Reinvestment Plan ("Plan"), pursuant to which distributions to shareholders are paid in or reinvested in shares of Common Stock of the Company ("Dividend Shares"). Mellon Bank, N.A. ("Agent") c/o Mellon Investor Services LLC, Investment Services, P.O. Box 3338, South Hackensack, New Jersey 07606-1938, acts as agent for participants under the Plan.

A shareholder may join the Plan by signing and returning an authorization form that may be obtained from the Agent. A shareholder may elect to withdraw from the Plan at any time by written notice to the Agent and thereby elect to receive cash in lieu of Dividend Shares. There is no penalty for withdrawal from the Plan, and shareholders who have previously withdrawn from the Plan may rejoin at any time. The Company reserves the right to amend or terminate the Plan.

Purchases of the Company's shares are made by the Agent, on behalf of the participants in the Plan, promptly after receipt of funds, and in no event later than 30 days from such receipt except when restricted under applicable federal securities laws. The Agent purchases outstanding shares in the market when the price plus estimated commissions of the Company's Common Stock on the NYSE is lower than the Company's most recently calculated net asset value per share. To the extent that outstanding shares are not available at a cost of less than per share net asset value, the Agent, on behalf of the participants in the Plan, accepts payment of the dividend, or the remaining portion thereof, in authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock of the Company on the payment date. Such shares are issued at a per share price equal to the higher of (1) the net asset value per share on the payment date, or (2) 95% of the closing market price per share on the payment date. There are no brokerage charges with respect to shares issued directly by the Company to satisfy the dividend reinvestment requirements. However, each participant pays a pro rata share of brokerage commissions incurred with respect to the Agent's open market purchases of shares. In each case, the cost per share of shares purchased for each shareholder's account is the average cost, including brokerage commissions, of any shares purchased in the open market plus the cost of any shares issued by the Company.

Edgar Filing: SOURCE CAPITAL INC /DE/ - Form N-CSR

For Federal income tax purposes, shareholders who reinvest distributions are treated as receiving distributions in an amount equal to the fair market value, determined as of the payment date, of the shares received if the shares are purchased from the Company. Such value may exceed the amount of the cash distribution that would have been paid. If outstanding shares are purchased in the open market, the taxable distribution equals the cash distribution that would have been paid. In either event, the cost basis in the shares received equals the amount recognized as a taxable distribution.

In the case of foreign participants whose dividends are subject to United States income tax withholding and in the case of any participants subject to 31% federal backup withholding, the Agent will reinvest dividends after deduction of the amount required to be withheld.

All record holders of Common Stock are also offered the opportunity, on a voluntary basis, to send in cash payments of not less than $100 each up to a total of $7,500 per month to purchase additional shares of the Common Stock of the Company through participation in the Cash Investment Plan ("Cash Plan"). Under the Cash Plan, shares are purchased in the market and no shares are issued by the Company. A brochure describing the terms and conditions of the Cash Plan, including fees and expenses, is available from the Agent.

Item 6. Schedule of Investments. The schedule of investments is included as part of the report to stockholders filed under Item 1 of this Form.

Item 7. Disclosure of Proxy Voting Policies and Procedures for Closed-End Management Investment Companies.

POLICY

First Pacific Advisors, LLC ( Adviser ) acts as discretionary investment adviser for various clients, including SEC-registered closed-end and open-end investment companies ( RIC clients ) and separately managed accounts (including those governed under the laws and provisions of ERISA) (collectively referred to as client or clients). The Adviser is authorized to vote proxies on behalf of its clients, unless a client specifically retains or delegates this authority to another party, in writing. The Adviser will vote all proxies in a timely manner as part of its full discretionary authority over client assets in accordance with these Policies and Procedures.

When voting proxies for clients, the Adviser's utmost concern is that all decisions be made solely in the best interest of the client (and for ERISA accounts, plan beneficiaries and participants, in accordance with the letter and spirit of ERISA). The Adviser will act in a prudent and diligent manner intended to enhance the value of the assets of the client's account.

PURPOSE

The purpose of these Policies and Procedures is to enable the Adviser to comply with its fiduciary responsibilities to clients and the requirements under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended ( Advisers Act ), and the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended ( 1940 Act ). These Policies and Procedures also reflect the fiduciary standards and responsibilities set forth by the Department of Labor for ERISA accounts.

PROCEDURES

The Adviser is ultimately responsible for ensuring that all proxies received by the Adviser are voted in a timely manner and in a manner consistent with the Adviser's determination of the client's best interests. Although many proxy proposals can be voted in accordance with the Adviser's guidelines (see Guidelines below), the Adviser recognizes that some proposals require special consideration which may dictate that the Adviser make an exception to the Guidelines.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

Where a proxy proposal raises a material conflict between the Adviser's interests and a client's interest, the Adviser will resolve such a conflict in the manner described below:

Vote in Accordance with the Guidelines. To the extent that the Adviser has little or no discretion to deviate from the Guidelines with respect to the proposal in question, the Adviser shall vote in accordance with such pre-determined voting policy.

Obtain Consent of Clients. To the extent that the Adviser has discretion to deviate from the Guidelines with respect to the proposal in question, the Adviser will disclose the conflict to the relevant clients and obtain their consent to the proposed vote prior to voting the securities. The disclosure to the client will include sufficient detail regarding the matter to be voted on and the nature of the Adviser's conflict that the client would be able to make an informed decision regarding the vote. If a client does not respond to such a conflict disclosure request or denies the request, the Adviser will abstain from voting the securities held by that client's account.

Client Directive to Use an Independent Third Party. Alternatively, a client may, in writing, specifically direct the Adviser to forward all proxy matters in which the Adviser has a conflict of interest regarding the client's securities to an identified independent third party for review and recommendation. Where such independent third party's recommendations are received on a timely basis, the Adviser will vote all such proxies in accordance with such third party's recommendation. If the third party's recommendations are not timely received, the Adviser will abstain from voting the securities held by that client's account.

The Adviser will review the proxy proposal for conflicts of interest as part of the overall vote review process. All material conflicts of interest so identified by the Adviser will be addressed as above. Matters to be reviewed include: (i) whether the issuer of the portfolio security to be voted, or an affiliate or employee group of the issuer, is a client of the Adviser; (ii) whether the Adviser has made or is actively considering a business proposal to provide services to the issuer or an affiliate or employee group of the issuer; (iii) whether the Adviser has any other material business relationship with the issuer or an affiliate of the issuer; (iv) whether an officer or director of the Adviser or the portfolio manager responsible for recommending the proxy vote is a close relative or has a personal or business relationship with an executive, director or director candidate of the issuer or is a participant in a proxy contest; and (v) whether there is any other business or personal relationship where the portfolio manager has a personal interest in the outcome of the matter to be voted upon.

LIMITATIONS

In certain circumstances where the Adviser has determined that it is in the client's best interest, the Adviser will not vote proxies received. The following are some, but not all, circumstances where the Adviser will limit its role in voting proxies:

Client Maintains Proxy Voting Authority. Where the client has instructed the Adviser in writing, the Adviser will not vote the securities and will direct the relevant custodian to send the proxy material directly to the client. If any proxy material is received by the Adviser, it will promptly be forwarded to the client or a specified third party.

Terminated Account. Once a client account has been terminated with the Adviser in accordance with the investment advisory agreement, the Adviser may refrain from voting any proxies received after the termination. However, the client may specify in writing who the proxies shall be forwarded to.

Securities No Longer Held. The Adviser may refrain from voting proxies received for securities which are no longer held by the client's account.

Securities Lending Programs. When securities are out on loan, they are transferred into the borrower's name and are voted by the borrower, in its discretion. However, where the Adviser determines that a proxy vote is materially important to the client's account, the Adviser may recall the security for purposes of voting.

PROCEDURES FOR VOTING

Proxies and annual or other reports received by the Adviser for issuers in clients' accounts under management are promptly forwarded to the appropriate portfolio manager, who votes the proxy and returns it to the operations department to process the votes.

When voting telephonically. The telephone number on the proxy is called and voted, verification of the vote is made after all proposals have been voted, the date of the telephone call is noted on the proxy and filed in the account's file. Note of the date of the telephone call is also made on the cross-reference report and filed alphabetically in a binder by issuer.

When voting manually. Sign and date after manually checking each proposal being voted and send through the regular postal service. A copy of the proxy is filed in the account's file.

Note of the date of mailing is also made on the cross reference report and filed alphabetically in a binder by issuer.

When voting electronically. Go online and vote each proxy as designated. A confirmation is then returned through e-mail. These confirmations are printed and are then filed with the proxy in the account's file. Note of the date of voting is also made on the cross reference report and filed alphabetically in a binder by issuer.

If there is a disagreement as to how a proxy is to be voted, it is the responsibility of the portfolio managers of the Adviser to discuss and substantiate their voting. See Guidelines below for further explanation of standard voting procedures.

RECORD KEEPING

In accordance with the Rules under the Advisers Act, the Adviser will maintain for the time periods set forth in the Rules the following information:

1. these proxy voting policies and procedures, and all amendments thereto;
2. all proxy statements received regarding client securities (provided however, that the Adviser may rely on the proxy statement filed on EDGAR as its records);
3. a record of all votes cast on behalf of clients;
4. records of all client requests for proxy voting information;
5. any documents prepared by the Adviser that were material in making a decision and/or used as the basis for the decision; and
6. all records relating to requests made to clients regarding conflicts of interest in voting the proxy. These requests will be kept in the client proxy file.

The Adviser will disclose its proxy voting policies and procedures and will inform clients how they may obtain information on how the Adviser voted proxies with respect to the clients' portfolio securities. Clients may obtain information on how their securities were voted or a copy of the Adviser's Policies and Procedures by written request addressed to the Adviser. The Adviser will prepare all the information required to be filed by its RIC clients on Form N-PX with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

GUIDELINES

Each proxy issue will be considered individually. The following guidelines are a partial list to be used in voting proposals contained the proxy statements, but will not be used as rigid rules.

1. Issues regarding the issuer's Board entrenchment and anti-takeover measures such as the following: Oppose
  1. Proposals to stagger board members' terms;
  2. Proposals to limit the ability of shareholders to call special meetings;

Edgar Filing: SOURCE CAPITAL INC /DE/ - Form N-CSR

3.	Proposals to require super majority votes;
4.	Proposals requesting excessive increases in authorized common or preferred shares where management provides no explanation for the use or need of these additional shares;
5.	Proposals regarding fair price provisions;
6.	Proposals regarding poison pill provisions; and
7.	Permitting green mail.
2.	Providing cumulative voting rights	Oppose
3.	Social issues, unless specific client guidelines supersede	Oppose
4.	Election of directors recommended by management, except if there is a proxy fight	Approve
5.	Election of independent auditors recommended by management, unless seeking to replace if there exists a dispute over policies	Approve
6.	Date and place of annual meeting	Approve
7.	Limitation on charitable contributions or fees paid to lawyers	Approve
8.	Ratification of directors actions on routine matters since previous annual meeting	Approve
9.	Confidential voting	Approve
	Confidential voting is most often proposed by shareholders as a means of eliminating undue management pressure on shareholders regarding their vote on proxy issues
	The Adviser will generally approve these proposals as shareholders can later divulge their votes to management on a selective basis if a legitimate reason arises
10.	Limiting directors liability	Approve
11.	Eliminate preemptive right	Approve
	Preemptive rights give current shareholders the opportunity to maintain their current percentage ownership through any subsequent equity offerings. These provisions are no longer common in the U.S., and can restrict managements ability to raise new capital

The Adviser generally approves the elimination of preemptive rights, but will oppose the elimination of limited preemptive rights, e.g., on proposed issues representing more than an acceptable level of total dilution

19. Sale of assets, divisions, product rights, etc.	Case-by-case
20. Other business that may arise at the annual meeting	Case-by-case
21. Other issues not included on this list	Case-by-case

Item 8. Portfolio Managers of Closed-End Management Investment Companies.

(a)(1) Eric S. Ende and Steven R. Geist are primarily responsible for the day-to-day management of the registrant.

Mr. Ende has been the President, Chief Investment Officer and Director of the registrant for more than the past five years and Partner of the Adviser since October 2006. Mr. Ende also serves as Director, President and Portfolio Manager of FPA Paramount Fund, Inc. and of FPA Perennial Fund, Inc., and as Vice President of FPA Capital Fund, Inc., FPA New Income, Inc. and FPA Funds Trust's FPA Crescent Fund for more than the past five years. Mr. Ende served as Senior Vice President of First Pacific Advisors, Inc. from December 1994 to September 2006.

Mr. Geist has been the Executive Vice President and Portfolio Manager of the registrant since November 2006, and Partner of the Adviser since October 2006. Mr. Geist also serves as Executive Vice President and Portfolio Manager of FPA Paramount Fund, Inc. and of FPA Perennial Fund, Inc. for more than the past five years. Mr. Geist served as Senior Vice President and Fixed- Income Manager of the registrant from November 1999 to November 2006, and Vice President of the First Pacific Advisors, Inc. from December 1994 to September 2006.

FPA Capital Fund, Inc., FPA Funds Trust's FPA Crescent Fund, FPA New Income, Inc., FPA Paramount Fund, Inc. and FPA Perennial Fund, Inc. are registered investment companies managed by the Adviser.

(a)(2) The Portfolio Managers, Eric S. Ende and Steven R. Geist, are also responsible for the day-to-day management of two open-end investment companies and four other accounts, with total aggregate assets of $1.1 billion at December 31, 2007. In addition, Mr. Geist assists in the management of a small portion of another open-end investment company and 12 other accounts with total aggregate assets of $2.8 billion at December 31, 2007. None of these accounts have an advisory fee based on the performance of the account. The Adviser does not believe any material conflicts of interest exist as a result of the Portfolio Managers managing the registrant and the other accounts noted above. The Adviser seeks to allocate portfolio transactions equitably whenever concurrent decisions are made to purchase or sell identical securities for several clients managed by the Adviser. The Adviser may aggregate orders for its client accounts for the same security where concurrent decisions are made to purchase or to sell identical securities for several clients managed by the Adviser and such aggregation will generally result in more favorable net results for its clients. In these cases, the Adviser will allocate the securities or proceeds arising out of those transactions (and the related expenses) on an average price basis among the various participants. While the Adviser believes combining orders in this way will, over time, be advantageous to all participants, in particular cases, this procedure could have an adverse effect on the price or the amount of securities purchased or sold by any one client. In making such allocations, the main factors considered by the Adviser are the respective investment objectives, the relative size of portfolio holdings of the same or comparable securities, the availability of cash for investment, the size of investment commitments generally held and the opinions of the persons responsible for recommending the investment.

(a)(3) Compensation of the Adviser's Portfolio Managers includes a fixed salary plus participation in the Adviser's revenues and profits. The participation in revenues and profits is primarily based on the revenues received on the assets managed by those Portfolio Managers, including the registrant's assets, and partly based on the overall profitability of the Adviser. In addition, as equity owners of the Adviser, the value of each Portfolio Manager's ownership interest is dependent upon their ability to effectively manage their business over the long term. The Adviser offers a 401(k) plan whereby the Portfolio Managers, as well as all permanent employees of the Adviser, may elect to contribute up to the legal limit.

(a)(4) The dollar value of shares of Common Stock of the registrant owned at December 31, 2007 by Mr. Ende was between $50,001 and $100,000 and by Mr. Geist was between $10,001 and $50,000.

(b) Not Applicable.

Item 9. Purchases of Equity Securities by Closed-End Management Investment Company and Affiliated Purchasers. Not Applicable.

Item 10. Submission of Matters to a Vote of Security Holders. There has been no material change to the procedures by which shareholders may recommend nominees to the registrant's board of directors.

Item 11. Controls and Procedures.

(a) The principal executive officer and principal financial officer of the registrant have concluded that the registrant's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rule 30a-3(c) under the Investment Company Act of 1940) are effective based on their evaluation of the disclosure controls and procedures as of a date within 90 days of the filing date of this report.

(b) There have been no significant changes in the registrant's internal controls over financial reporting (as defined in Rule 30a-3(d) under the Investment Company Act of 1940) that occurred during the second fiscal quarter of the period covered by this report that have materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the registrant's internal controls over financial reporting.

Item 12. Exhibits.

- (a)(1) Code of ethics as applies to the registrant's officers and directors, as required to be disclosed under Item 2 of Form N-CSR. Attached hereto as Ex.99.CODE.ETH.
