Part III

On November 9, 2015, Tutor Perini Corporation (the "Company") received notice of an adverse ruling related to the Brightwater Matter litigation contingency, which the Company had previously disclosed in its financial statements filed with Securities and Exchange Commission on forms 10-K and 10-Q. The Company is evaluating this ruling to determine the amount it needs to accrue for this non-cash charge as of September 30, 2015. Due to the late nature of the notice, the Company was unable to complete its evaluation before the November 9, 2015 filing date for the Company's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2015 (the "Form 10-Q"). The Company expects to file the Form 10-Q with the Securities and Exchange Commission on or before the fifth calendar day as described in Rule 12b-25 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. A summary of the Company's financial results is available in the transcript to its conference call on November 9, 2015 at 2:00 p.m. PT, attached as Exhibit 99.1 to its Current Report on Form 8-K filed on November 10, 2015.

The statements contained in this report that are not purely historical are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, including without limitation, statements regarding the Company's expectations, hopes, beliefs, intentions or strategies regarding the future and statements regarding future guidance or estimates and non-historical performance. These forward-looking statements are based on the Company's current expectations and beliefs concerning future developments and their potential effects on the Company. The Company's expectations, beliefs and projections are expressed in good faith and the Company believes there is a reasonable basis for them. There can be no assurance that future developments affecting the Company will be those that we have anticipated. These forward-looking statements involve a number of risks, uncertainties (some of which are beyond the control of the Company) or other assumptions that may cause actual results or performance to be materially different from those expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, the Company's ability to win new contracts and convert backlog into revenue; the Company's ability to successfully and timely complete construction projects; the Company's ability to realize the anticipated economic and business benefits of its acquisitions and its strategy to assemble and operate a Specialty Contractors business segment; the outcomes of pending or future litigation, arbitration or other dispute resolution proceedings and timing of related collections; the potential delay, suspension, termination, or reduction in scope of a construction project; the continuing validity of the underlying assumptions and estimates of total forecasted project revenue, costs and profits and project schedules; the availability of borrowed funds on terms acceptable to the Company; the ability to retain certain members of management; the ability to obtain surety bonds to secure its performance under certain construction contracts; possible labor disputes or work stoppages within the construction industry; changes in federal and state appropriations for infrastructure projects and the impact of changing economic conditions on federal, state and local funding for infrastructure projects; possible changes or developments in international or domestic political, social, economic, business, industry, market and regulatory conditions or circumstances; actions taken or not taken by third parties, including the Company's customers, suppliers, business partners, and competitors and legislative, regulatory, judicial and other governmental authorities and officials; impact of inclement weather conditions on projects; and other risks and uncertainties discussed under the heading "Risk Factors" in our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 26, 2015. The Company undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as may be required under applicable securities laws.
