Item 8.01. Other Events.

As previously disclosed by CorMedix Inc. (the "Company"), in February 2007, Geistlich Söhne AG für Chemische Industrie, Switzerland ("Geistlich") brought an action in Germany at the Opposition Division of the European Patent Office against the Sodemann patent covering the Company's Neutrolin[®] product candidate, the Company's primary product candidate, which is owned by ND Partners, LLC and licensed to the Company pursuant to the License and Assignment Agreement between ND Partners LLC and the Company. The Opposition Division of the European Patent Office rejected the opposition by Geistlich. On August 27, 2008, Geistlich appealed the Opposition Division's ruling, alleging the same arguments as presented during the opposition proceedings. The Company filed a response to the appeal of Geistlich on March 25, 2009 and requested a dismissal of the appeal and to maintain the patent as granted. On October 10, 2012, the Company became aware that the Board of Appeals of the European Patent Office issued, on September 4, 2012, a summons for oral proceedings, which is scheduled to be held on November 28, 2012. In connection therewith, the Board of Appeals issued a non-binding, provisional opinion regarding the opposition filed by Geistlich. Such opinion highlights certain issues and topics for argument on which the Board of Appeals will focus during the oral proceedings. The Company intends to vigorously defend the patent at the oral proceedings and believes that Geistlich's claims are without merit. The Company also intends on providing the Board of Appeals with additional materials prior to and in anticipation of oral argument. The Company can provide no assurances regarding the outcome of this matter.
