Announcement

The Company entered into the Framework Agreement with China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation on 28 April 2005. Under the Framework Agreement, the Company shall (amongst other things) purchase the Raw Materials from and sell the Petroleum Products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates. At the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005, the Independent Shareholders approved the Connected Transactions and, for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Connected Transactions shall not, in aggregate, exceed the Annual Caps.

It has come to the Company's attention that, as a result of an unexpected increase in the international price of crude oil, the aggregate transaction value of the Raw Materials Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 has increased significantly compared to the same time last year. The Directors of the Company are of the view that if the operation of the Company is to be maintained at the current level, the Raw Materials Cap will be exceeded in November 2005.

In addition, the unexpected increase in the international price of crude oil has led to a corresponding increase in the prices of petroleum products on the open market. As a result, the aggregate transaction value of the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 has also increased significantly compared to the same time last year. The Directors of the Company are of the view that if the sales of the Petroleum Products of the Company are to be maintained at the current level, the Petroleum Products Cap will be exceeded in November 2005.

This announcement is made pursuant to Rule 14A.36(1) of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, which requires the Company to comply with reporting, announcement and independent shareholders requirements if an annual cap in respect of a connected transaction is exceeded.

In addition, in accordance with Shanghai Listing Rules, the Company is required to explain the reasons if the aggregate transaction values of the Connected Transactions exceed the estimated caps. In accordance with Shanghai Listing Rules, the revised caps of the Connected Transactions are subject to the approval of the Company's Independent Shareholders.

A circular containing details of the Connected Transactions and the Revised Caps together with a notice of, and forms of proxy for, a shareholders' meeting to approve the Revised Caps, and including the advice of the independent financial adviser, will be dispatched to the H shareholders and a notice will be published for the domestic shareholders of the Company as soon as is reasonably practicable. Shareholders of the Company who are deemed to have an interest in any of the Connected Transactions shall abstain from voting at the relevant shareholders meeting.

1. INTRODUCTION

The Company entered into the Framework Agreement with China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation on 28 April 2005. Under the Framework Agreement, the Company shall (amongst other things) purchase the Raw Materials from and sell the Petroleum Products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates. At the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005, the Independent Shareholders approved the Connected Transactions and, for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Connected Transactions shall not, in aggregate, exceed the Annual Caps.

It has come to the Company's attention that, based on the Company's unaudited financial statements, the aggregate transaction value of the Raw Materials Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 was RMB 20.9 billion. As stated in the Circular, the Raw Materials Cap was estimated to be RMB21.6 billion. The Directors of the Company are of the view that if the operation of the Company is to be maintained at the current level, the Raw Materials Cap will be exceeded in November 2005.

In addition, the unexpected increase in the international price of crude oil has led to a corresponding increase in the prices of petroleum products on the open market. As a result, the aggregate transaction value of the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 was RMB 11.4 billion. As stated in the Circular, the Petroleum Products Cap was estimated to be RMB13.0 billion. The Directors of the Company are of the view that if the sales of the Petroleum Products of the Company are to be maintained at the current level, the Petroleum Products Cap will be exceeded in November 2005.

The Company does not expect that the increase in the international price of crude oil will have any material impact to the other connected transactions also approved at the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005, and the Company does not anticipate that annual caps for the year ending 31 December 2005 for such connected transactions to be exceeded.

This announcement is made pursuant to Rule 14A.36(1) of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, which requires the Company to comply with reporting, announcement and independent shareholders requirements if an annual cap in respect of a connected transaction is exceeded. As the Framework Agreement and terms of the Connected Transactions have been approved at the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005 and that both the Framework Agreement and the terms of the Connected Transactions are in full force and effect and remain unchanged, the purpose of this announcement is to seek the Independent Shareholders' approval for the Revised Caps.

In addition, in accordance with Shanghai Listing Rules, the Company is required to explain the reasons if the aggregate transaction values of the Connected Transactions exceed the estimated caps. In accordance with Shanghai Listing Rules, the revised caps of the Connected Transactions are subject to the approval of the Company's Independent Shareholders.

A circular containing details of the Connected Transactions and the Revised Caps together with a notice of, and forms of proxy for, a shareholders' meeting to approve the Revised Caps, and including the advice of the independent financial adviser, will be dispatched to the H shareholders and a notice will be published for the domestic shareholders of the Company as soon as is reasonably practicable. Shareholders of the Company who are deemed to have an interest in any of the Connected Transactions shall abstain from voting at the relevant shareholders' meeting.

Edgar Filing: SINOPEC SHANGHAI PETROCHEMICAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

The Board of Directors (including the independent non-executive directors) has approved the Revised Caps which are set out in this announcement. An Independent Board Committee has been established in accordance with Hong Kong Listing Rules to advise the Independent Shareholders as to the Revised Caps.

Table of Contents

2. REASONS FOR EXCEEDING THE RAW MATERIALS CAP AND THE PETROLEUM PRODUCTS CAP

The Company determined the annual caps for the Raw Materials Connected Transaction by reference to two factors:

- a) its estimate on the quantity of the Raw Materials required for production for a particular year; and
- b) its estimate on the price of the relevant Raw Materials on the open market.

Similarly, the Company determined the annual caps for the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction by reference to two factors:

- a) its estimate on the quantity of the Petroleum Products sold to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for a particular year; and
- b) its estimate on the price of the relevant Petroleum Products on the open market.

In making these estimates, the Company took into account a set of reasonable and objective factors, including historical transactional values, an approximation of increase in production capacity, a projection of business growth and any relevant cost adjustments.

Unfortunately, although the quantity of the Raw Materials purchased and the Petroleum Products sold under the Connected Transactions for the period between 1 January 2005 to 30 September 2005 remains well within the Company's estimated range, the average price of crude oil for October 2005 alone has increased to above RMB 3,666 per tonne (compared to the average price of RMB 2,306 per tonne for 2004). This unexpected increase in the price of crude oil has led to a corresponding increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products on the open market. These price increases have resulted in the value of the Connected Transactions exceeding the Company's original estimate.

Since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has, in the ordinary and usual course of business, conducted the Connected Transactions with China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates on the basis that the Connected Transactions are necessary in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders as a whole, and that the terms of the Connected Transaction are fair and reasonable. The Company has exercised its best judgment, based on its experience in the industry and its analysis of the historical data, to reach a bona fide determination on the Annual Caps, and it has done (and will continue to do) everything within its power to ensure that none of the Annual Caps would be exceeded. Regrettably, the unexpected increases in the international price of crude oil and the corresponding increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products, factors which are completely out of the Company's control, have caused an increase in the values of the Connected Transactions for 2005. The Company could not therefore have done anything to prevent the Raw Materials Cap and the Petroleum Products Cap being exceeded unless it scaled down the volume of its business (which, in the view of the Directors, would not be in the best interest of the Company and all of its Shareholders).

3. REASONS FOR THE CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS, PRICING POLICIES AND REVISED CAPS

On 28 April 2005, the Company and China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation entered into the Framework Agreement in relation to, among other connected transactions, the Raw Materials Connected Transactions and the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction. The Framework Agreement and the terms of the Connected Transactions have already been approved at the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005. The Framework Agreement and the terms of the Connected Transactions remain in full force and effect and are unchanged. Set out below are the reasons for the Connected Transactions, their pricing policies and revised annual caps.

3.1 Raw Materials Connected Transaction

Reasons for such transactions: As disclosed in the Circular, the Company's allocation of the Raw Materials requirements is governed by PRC regulations and measures including Measures for the Administration of Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Pipeline Network, Notice on Pipeline Crude Oil Price for Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Area in 2004, Measures for Crude Oil Administration (for Trial Implementation) and Letter Concerning Adjustment to Commission Standards on Foreign Trade Agency for Crude Oil Import. These regulations and measures dictate the volume and other terms and conditions under which the Company conducts its purchase of the Raw Materials. Importantly, the Company is also required to purchase the Raw Materials from one of four authorised crude oil importers, one of which is China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation.

Given that the Company does not maintain a reserve of crude oil and other raw materials, it has to continue to purchase and since its initial public offer on 6 July 1993, it has been purchasing the Raw Materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates. Naturally, any disruption in the supply of the Raw Materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation would adversely affect the Company's petrochemical production. The Directors were therefore of the view, which was also endorsed by all the independent non-executive directors of the Company, that it would be in the interest of the Company and all of its shareholders to continue to purchase the Raw Materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Framework Agreement, the purchases of crude oil related raw materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates are determined in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but there are applicable State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State guided prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market price (including any bidding price); or
- (d) if none of the above applies, the Company's purchases shall be determined on a cost plus basis. The margin shall be fixed at a rate not exceeding 6%.

The Company will settle the purchases by way of cash payments.

Accordingly, in the case of purchases of crude oil from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates, prices are determined in accordance the prevailing market price.

Table of Contents

Caps: The Company originally estimated that for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Raw Materials Connected Transaction shall not, in aggregate, exceed the caps of RMB 21.6 billion, RMB 23.8 billion and RMB 26.3 billion, respectively. In light of the increase in the international price of crude oil, the Company proposes the following revised annual caps in relation to the Raw Materials Connected Transaction:

	Revised caps for the year ending 31 December
	2005	2006	2007
	(RMB million)	(RMB million)	(RMB million)
Aggregate purchases of raw materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates	28,460	39,102	47,002

The above revised annual caps represent an increase of 31.8%, 64.3% and 78.7% for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007 respectively, compared to the original annual caps. Such increases are as a result of the substantial increase in the international price of crude oil. The average price of crude oil for October 2005 alone has increased to above RMB 3,666 per tonne (compared to the average price of RMB 2,306 per tonne for 2004). The Company anticipates that the international oil price will continue to increase for 2006 and 2007.

More specifically, the revised annual caps referred to above are determined with reference to:

- the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of purchases of raw materials from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- the current cost of the Raw Materials and industry estimates of the increase in the costs of raw materials for 2005, 2006 and 2007;
- the Company's estimate of its business growth; and
- the Company's estimate of the increase in its production capacity.

3.2 Petroleum Products Connected Transaction

Reasons for such transactions: As disclosed in the Circular, China's oil and petrochemical industry has always been the subject of extensive regulation by the PRC government. Transactions involving the sale and purchase of petroleum products are controlled by the PRC government. Accordingly, the Company's sales of petroleum products are governed by the relevant PRC regulations and measures. These regulations and measures dictate the volume and all other terms and conditions at which the Company conducts its sales of petroleum products.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Framework Agreement, the sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates are determined in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but there are applicable State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State guided prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market price (including any bidding price); or

- (d) if none of the above applies, the Company's purchases shall be determined on a cost plus basis. The margin shall be fixed at a rate not exceeding 6%.

China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates will settle their purchases of the Petroleum Products by way of cash payments.

Caps: The Company originally estimated that for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction shall not, in aggregate, exceed the caps of RMB13.0 billion, RMB14.3 billion and RMB15.7 billion, respectively. In light of the increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products, the Company proposes the following revised annual caps in relation to the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction:

	2005	2006	2007
Aggregate sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates	16,214	22,000	26,400

The above revised annual caps represent an increase of 24.7%, 53.8% and 68.2% for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007 respectively, compared to the original annual caps. Such increases are as a result of the substantial increase in the international price of crude oil. The Company anticipates that the international oil price will continue to increase for 2006 and 2007. The increase in international oil price will, invariably, lead to a corresponding increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products on the open market.

More specifically, the revised caps referred to above are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the current prices of the Petroleum Products and the industry estimates of the increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products for 2005, 2006 and 2007;
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in the costs of raw materials;
- (d) the Company's estimate of the increase in the overall demand for petroleum products in the PRC; and
- (e) the Company's estimate of the increase in the market price of petroleum products.

4. THE DIRECTORS' OPINION

Edgar Filing: SINOPEC SHANGHAI PETROCHEMICAL CO LTD - Form 6-K

The Directors (including the independent non-executive directors) are of the view that the Revised Caps are fair and reasonable so far as the Company and its shareholders are concerned. The Directors (including the independent non-executive directors) are also of the opinion that the Connected Transactions, following the revision of their annual caps, are entered into and carried out in the ordinary course of business of the Company, on terms no less favourable than terms available to or from independent third parties, are fair and reasonable and in the interests of the shareholders of the Company as a whole.

5. CONNECTED PARTIES AND THEIR RELATIONSHIP

China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation is the controlling shareholder of the Company, having a beneficial interest of approximately 55.56% of the registered capital of the Company. China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation is an integrated energy and chemical company with upstream, midstream and downstream operations. To the Shareholders

Dear Sir or Madam,

CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

1. INTRODUCTION

Reference is made to the Announcement and the April Announcement.

The Company entered into the Framework Agreement with China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation on 28 April 2005. Under the Framework Agreement, the Company shall (amongst other things) purchase the Raw Materials from and sell the Petroleum Products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates. At the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005, the Independent Shareholders approved the Connected Transactions and, for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Connected Transactions shall not, in aggregate, exceed the Annual Caps.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

It has come to the Company's attention that, based on the Company's unaudited financial statements, the aggregate transaction value of the Raw Materials Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 is RMB20.9 billion. As stated in the May Circular, the Raw Materials Cap was estimated to be RMB21.6 billion. The Directors of the Company are of the view that if the operation of the Company is to be maintained at the current level, the Raw Materials Cap will be exceeded in November 2005.

In addition, the unexpected increase in the international price of crude oil has led to a corresponding increase in the prices of petroleum products on the open market. As a result, the aggregate transaction value of the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 has also increased significantly compared to the same time last year. The Directors of the Company are of the view that if the sales of the Petroleum Products of the Company are to be maintained at the current level, the Petroleum Products Cap will be exceeded in November 2005.

The Company does not expect that the increase in the international price of crude oil will have any material impact to the other connected transactions also approved at the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005, and the Company does not anticipate that annual caps for the year ending 31 December 2005 for such connected transactions to be exceeded.

This letter is made pursuant to Rule 14A.36(1) of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, which requires the Company to comply with reporting, announcement and independent shareholders requirements if an annual cap in respect of a connected transaction is exceeded. As the Framework Agreement and terms of the Connected Transactions have been approved at the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005 and that both the Framework Agreement and the terms of the Connected Transactions are in full force and effect and remain unchanged, the purpose of this Circular is to seek the Independent Shareholders' approval for the Revised Caps.

In addition, in accordance with Shanghai Listing Rules, the Company is required to explain the reasons if the aggregate transaction values of the Connected Transactions exceed the estimated caps. In accordance with Shanghai Listing Rules, the revised caps of the Connected Transactions are subject to the approval of the Company's Independent Shareholders.

The Board of Directors (including the independent non-executive directors) has approved the Revised Caps. An Independent Board Committee has been established in accordance with Hong Kong Listing Rules to advise the Independent Shareholders as to the revised caps on the Connected Transactions for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007.

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

2. REASON FOR EXCEEDING THE RAW MATERIALS CAP AND THE PETROLEUM PRODUCTS CAP

The Company determined the annual caps for the Raw Materials Connected Transaction by reference to two factors:

- (a) its estimate on the quantity of the Raw Materials required for production for a particular year; and
- (b) its estimate on the price of the relevant Raw Materials on the open market.

Similarly, the Company determined the annual caps for the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction by reference to two factors:

- (a) its estimate on the quantity of the Petroleum Products sold to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates for a particular year; and
- (b) its estimate on the price of the relevant Petroleum Products on the open market.

In making these estimates, the Company took into account a set of reasonable and objective factors, including historical transactional values, an approximation of increase in production capacity, a projection of business growth and any relevant cost adjustments.

Unfortunately, although the quantity of the Raw Materials purchased and the Petroleum Products sold under the Connected Transactions for the period between 1 January 2005 to 30 September 2005 remains well within the Company's estimated range, the average price of crude oil for October 2005 alone has increased to above RMB3,666 per tonne (compared to the average price of RMB2,306 per tonne for 2004). This unexpected increase in the price of crude oil has led to a corresponding increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products on the open market. These price increases have resulted in the value of the Connected Transactions exceeding the Company's original estimate.

Since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has, in the ordinary and usual course of business, conducted the Connected Transactions with China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates on the basis that the Connected Transactions are necessary in the best interest of the Company and its shareholders as a whole, and that the terms of the Connected Transactions are fair and reasonable. The Company has exercised its best judgment, based on its experience in the industry and its analysis of the historical data, to reach a bona fide determination on the Annual Caps, and it has done (and will continue to do) everything within its power to ensure that none of the Annual Caps would be exceeded. Regrettably, the unexpected increase in the international price of crude oil, and the corresponding increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products, factors which are completely out of the Company's control, have caused an increase in the value of the Connected Transactions for 2005. The Company could not therefore have done anything to prevent the Raw Materials Cap and the Petroleum Products Cap being exceeded unless it scaled down the volume of its business (which, in the view of the Directors, would not be in the best interest of the Company and all of its Shareholders).

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

3. REASONS FOR THE CONNECTED TRANSACTION, PRICING POLICIES AND REVISED CAPS

On 28 April 2005, the Company and China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation entered into the Framework Agreement in relation to, among other connected transactions, the Raw Materials Connected Transaction and the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction. The Framework Agreement and the terms of the Connected Transactions have already been approved at the Company's extraordinary general meeting on 28 June 2005. The Framework Agreement and the terms of the Connected Transactions remain in full force and effect and are unchanged. Set out below are the reasons for the Connected Transactions, their pricing policies and revised annual caps.

3.1 Raw Materials Connected Transaction

Reasons for the Connected Transaction: As disclosed in the May Circular, the Company's allocation of the Raw Materials requirements is governed by PRC regulations and measures including Measures for the Administration of Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Pipeline Network, Notice on Pipeline Crude Oil Price for Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing Area in 2004, Measures for Crude Oil Administration (for Trial Implementation) and Letter Concerning Adjustment to Commission Standards on Foreign Trade Agency for Crude Oil Import. These regulations and measures dictate the volume and other terms and conditions under which the Company conducts its purchase of the Raw Materials. Importantly, the Company is also required to purchase the Raw Materials from one of four authorised crude oil importers, one of which is China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates.

Given that the Company does not maintain a reserve of crude oil and other raw materials, it has to continue to purchase and since its initial public offer on 6 July 1993, it has been purchasing the Raw Materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates. Naturally, any disruption in the supply of the Raw Materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation would adversely affect the Company's petrochemical production. The Directors were therefore of the view, which was also endorsed by all the independent non-executive directors of the Company, that it would be in the interest of the Company and all of its shareholders to continue to purchase the Raw Materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Framework Agreement, the purchases of crude oil related raw materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates are determined in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but there are applicable State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State guided prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market price (including any bidding price); or

Table of Contents*LETTER FROM THE BOARD

- (d) if none of the above applies, the Company's purchases shall be determined on a cost plus basis. The margin shall be fixed at a rate not exceeding 6%.

The Company will settle the purchases by way of cash payments.

Accordingly, in the case of purchases of crude oil from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates, prices are determined in accordance the prevailing market price.

Caps: The Company originally estimated that for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Raw Materials Connected Transaction shall not, in aggregate, exceed the caps of RMB21.6 billion, RMB23.8 billion and RMB26.3 billion, respectively. In light of the increase in the international price of crude oil, the Company proposes the following revised annual caps in relation to the Raw Materials Connected Transaction:

	Revised Caps for the year ending
	31 December
	2005	2006	2007
	(RMB million)	(RMB million)	(RMB million)
Aggregate purchases of raw materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates	28,460	39,102	47,002

The above revised annual caps represent an increase of 31.8%, 64.3% and 78.7% for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007 respectively, compared to the original annual caps. Such increases are as a result of the substantial increase in the international price of crude oil. The average price of crude oil for October 2005 alone has increased to above RMB3,666 per tonne (compared to the average price of RMB2,306 per tonne for 2004). The Company anticipates that the international oil price will continue to increase for 2006 and 2007.

More specifically, the revised annual caps referred to above are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of purchases of raw materials from China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the current cost of the Raw Materials and industry estimate of the increase in the costs of raw materials for 2005, 2006 and 2007;
- (c) the Company's estimate of its business growth; and

(d) the Company's estimate of the increase in its production capacity.

Table of Contents*LETTER FROM THE BOARD*3.2 Petroleum Products Connected Transaction

Reasons for such transactions: As disclosed in the Circular, China's oil and petrochemical industry has always been the subject of extensive regulation by the PRC government. Transactions involving the sale and purchase of petroleum products are controlled by the PRC government. Accordingly, the Company's sales of petroleum products are governed by the relevant PRC regulations and measures. These regulations and measures dictate the volume and all other terms and conditions at which the Company conducts its sales of petroleum products.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Framework Agreement, the sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates are determined in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but there are applicable State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be bound by the State guided prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State guided prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market price (including any bidding price); or
- (d) if none of the above applies, the Company's purchases shall be determined on a cost plus basis. The margin shall be fixed at a rate not exceeding 6%.

China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates will settle their purchases of the Petroleum Products by way of cash payments.

Caps: The Company originally estimated that for the three years ending 31 December 2007, the annual transaction values in relation to the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction shall not, in aggregate, exceed the caps of RMB13.0 billion, RMB14.3 billion and RMB15.7 billion, respectively. In light of the increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products, the Company proposes the following revised annual caps in relation to the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction:

Revised caps for the year ending*31 December

	2005	2006	2007
	(RMB million)	(RMB million)	(RMB million)
	16,214	22,000	26,400

Aggregate sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates

LETTER FROM THE BOARD

The above revised annual caps represent an increase of 24.7%, 53.8% and 68.2% for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007 respectively, compared to the original annual caps. Such increases are as a result of the substantial increase in the international price of crude oil. The Company anticipates that the international oil price will continue to increase for 2006 and 2007. The increase in international oil price will, invariably, lead to a corresponding increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products on the open market.

More specifically, the revised caps referred to above are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the current prices of the Petroleum Products and the industry estimates of the increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products for 2005, 2006 and 2007;
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in the costs of raw materials;
- (d) the Company's estimate of the increase in the overall demand for petroleum products in the PRC; and
- (e) the Company's estimate of the increase in the market price of petroleum products.

4. CONNECTED PARTIES AND THEIR RELATIONSHIP

China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation is the controlling shareholder of the Company, having a beneficial interest of approximately 55.56% of the registered capital of the Company. China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation is an integrated energy and chemical company with upstream, midstream and downstream operations. The principal operations of China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation include oil and gas exploration and production, oil refining, petrochemical production and sales/marketing of refined oil products in China.

The Company is a highly integrated entity which processes crude oil into synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products.

5. BOARD APPROVAL & APPROVAL OF INDEPENDENT SHAREHOLDERS

The Board takes the view that the Revised Caps are on normal commercial terms in the ordinary and usual course of business, fair and reasonable and in the interests of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole.

The Company seeks Independent Shareholders' approval of the Revised Caps. In addition, the Company shall comply with the relevant requirements under Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules in relation to the Connected Transaction.

6. EXTRAORDINARY GENERAL MEETING

The Notice of the 2005 second extraordinary general meeting to be held at Shangri-La Hotel, East Side, Railway Station, Jianshe Road, Shenzhen, the PRC, on 28 December 2005 at 10:00 a.m. is set out on pages 27 to 29 of the Circular, at which an ordinary resolution will be proposed to approve the Revised Caps.

China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation is the controlling shareholder of the Company, having 4,000,000,000 promoter legal person shares, approximately 55.56% of the registered capital of the Company. In accordance with the Hong Kong Listing Rules, China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation and its associates and other shareholders who are interested in the Connected Transactions, if any, will abstain from voting on the resolution to approve the Revised Caps at the extraordinary general meeting. The votes to be taken at the extraordinary general meeting will be taken by poll, the results of which will be announced after the extraordinary general meeting.

A notice of attendance and form of proxy for use at the extraordinary general meeting are also enclosed with the Circular. Pursuant to Rule 13.38 of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the Company has also submitted to the Hong Kong Stock Exchange an electronic version of the form of proxy for publication on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange's website. Whether or not Shareholders are able to attend the 2005 second extraordinary general meeting, they are requested to complete and return the enclosed form of proxy to the Secretary's Office of the Company at, 48 Jinyi Road, Jinshan District, Shanghai 200540, PRC, as soon as practicable and in any event by not later than 24 hours before the time appointed for holding the extraordinary general meeting. Completion and return of the form of proxy will not preclude you from attending and voting in person at the 2005 second extraordinary general meeting.

Under the article 84 of the articles of association of the Company, a poll can be demanded by the following person(s):

- (a) the chairman of the meeting; or
- (b) at least two (2) Shareholders present in person or by proxies having the right to vote; or
- (c) one or more Shareholders (including proxies) holding shares alone or jointly representing 10 per cent or more of the voting rights present at the meeting.

7. FACTORS FOR CONSIDERATION

Independent Shareholders should consider the following factors when considering the resolutions to be proposed:

11 November 2005

To the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders of

Sinopec Shanghai Petrochemical Company Limited

Dear Sirs,

CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

INTRODUCTION

We refer to our engagement under which Partners Capital International Limited has been appointed to advise the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders of Sinopec Shanghai Petrochemical Company Limited in respect of the revisions to the Annual Caps of the Connected Transactions contained therein for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007 with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates. Pursuant to the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the revisions to the Annual Caps of the Connected Transactions are subject to, among others, the approval of the Independent Shareholders at general meeting of the Company. Details of the revisions to the Annual Caps of the Connected Transactions are summarized in the Letter from the Board included in the Circular issued by the Company to its shareholders. This letter has been prepared for inclusion in the Circular and terms used in this letter have the same meanings as defined in the Circular unless the context otherwise requires.

In our capacity as independent financial adviser to the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders, our role is to give an independent opinion as to whether the revisions to the Annual Caps of the Connected Transactions contained therein on normal commercial terms in the ordinary and usual course of business, are fair and reasonable insofar as the Independent Shareholders are concerned. Our opinion letter to the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders has been prepared and delivered in accordance with the requirements of the Hong Kong Listing Rules for the sole purpose of assisting the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders to evaluate the Revised Caps of the Connected Transactions and we have relied on the Independent Shareholders' approval of the Connected Transactions during the Company's extraordinary general meeting held on 28 June 2005 to form the basis of our engagement and opinion. The assumptions made and the analyses conducted in our letter were undertaken in accordance with the customs and practices employed in similar transactions in Hong Kong.

LETTER OF ADVICE FROM PARTNERS CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL LIMITED

In formulating our opinion, we have relied on the information, opinions and facts supplied, and representations made to us, by the Directors and representatives of the Company (including those contained or referred to in the Circular) and have assumed that all such information, opinions, facts and representations, which have been provided by the Directors and such representatives, and for which they are fully responsible, are true, accurate and complete in all respects. We have discussed with the management of the Company about their plans and prospects of the Company. We have also relied on certain information available to the public and we have assumed such information to be accurate and reliable, and we have not independently verified the accuracy of such information. Further, we have relied on the representations of the Directors that they have made all reasonable inquiries, and to the best of their knowledge and belief, that there are no other facts, the omission of which would make any statement contained in the Circular untrue or misleading. With respect to any financial forecasts, estimates and projections relating to the Connected Transactions, we have assumed that each of such forecasts, estimates and projections was reasonably prepared on basis reflecting the best currently available information, views and judgments of future requirements of the Company and may be relied upon by us in formulating our opinion. We have also assumed that statements and representations made or referred to in the Circular were accurate at the time they were made and continue to be accurate at the date of dispatch of the Circular.

In providing our opinion, we have not made any independent evaluation or appraisal of, nor have we conducted any form of independent investigation into, the business affairs or assets and liabilities of the Company, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation or its associates. Additionally, we did not conduct any physical inspection of the properties or facilities of the Company, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation, or its associates. It is not within our terms of reference to comment on the commercial feasibility of the Connected Transactions, which remains the responsibility of the Directors. As the independent financial adviser to the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders, we have not been involved in the negotiations in respect of the terms of the Connected Transactions and our opinion has been made on the assumption that all obligations performed by each of the parties to the Connected Transactions have been and will continue to be fully performed in accordance with the terms thereof.

Our opinion is necessarily based upon market, economic and other conditions as they existed and could be evaluated on, and on the information publicly available to us as of the date of this opinion. We have no obligation to update this opinion to take into account events occurring after the date that this opinion is delivered to the Independent Board Committee and the Independent Shareholders. As a result, circumstances could develop that, if known at the time we rendered our opinion, would have altered our opinion.

Table of Contents*LETTER OF ADVICE FROM PARTNERS CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL LIMITED*PRINCIPAL FACTORS AND REASONS CONSIDERED

In arriving at our opinion with regard to the revisions to the Annual Caps of the Connected Transactions, we have considered the principal factors and reasons set out below. None of these factors or reasons considered by us was assigned a greater significance than any other. We did not form a conclusion as to whether any individual factor or reason, considered in isolation, supported or failed to support our opinion, although we are not aware of any matter which would have rendered our opinion differently by the results of our analyses of any such individual factor or reason. Rather, in reaching our conclusion, we have considered the results of the analyses in light of each other and ultimately reached our opinion based on the results of all analyses taken as a whole.

1. Introduction

The Company has historically conducted various business transactions with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates and thus had entered into the Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 28 April 2005. Under the Framework Agreement, the Company shall, amongst other transactions, purchase Raw Materials from and sell Petroleum Products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates. At the Company's extraordinary meeting on 28 June 2005, the Independent Shareholders approved the Connected Transactions and the Annual Caps.

Approved Connected Transactions and the Annual Caps

Transaction	Description	Annual Caps
		for the year ending December 31,
		2005	2006	2007
		(RMB million)	(RMB million)	(RMB million)
Raw Materials Connected Transaction	Purchase crude oil, naphtha, paraxylene and other intermediate petrochemical raw materials	21,600	23,800	26,300
Petroleum Products Connected Transaction	Sell gasoline, diesel, jet oil and other petroleum products	13,000	14,300	15,700

Based on the Company's unaudited financial statements, the aggregate transaction values of the Raw Materials Connected Transaction and the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 were RMB20.9 billion and RMB11.4 billion, respectively. The Directors believe that if the market condition and the operation of the Company are to remain at the similar level throughout the last quarter of 2005, the Raw Materials Cap of RMB21.6 billion and the Petroleum Products Cap of RMB13.0 billion, as stated in the May 2005 Circular, are expected to be exceeded. In addition, the Directors also believe that based on the current market condition and the operation of the Company, the annual caps for Raw Materials Connected Transaction and Petroleum Products Connected Transaction, for the year ending 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007, should also be revised.

2. The Revised Caps for the Connected Transactions

The table below sets forth a summary of the historical figures and the estimated amount of the Revised Caps for the Connected Transactions for the three years ending 31 December 2007:

Transaction	Historical Figures for			Estimated amount for the years ending 31 December			the years ending 31 December
	2002	2003	2004	2005	2006	2007
	(RMB Million)	(RMB Million)	(RMB Million)	(RMB Million)	(RMB Million)	(RMB Million)
Raw Materials Connected Transaction	11,912	16,661	20,526	28,460	39,102	47,002
Petroleum Product Connected Transaction	7,400	8,146	11,473	16,214	22,000	26,400

2.1 The Revised Caps for the Raw Materials Connected Transaction

In formulating our opinion, we have examined the information, opinions and facts supplied regarding the Raw Materials Connected Transaction with reference to two principal factors:

- i. The Company's estimate on the quantity of the Raw Materials that it will purchase from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for a particular year, on the basis of:

The previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of purchases of Raw Materials from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;

The Company's estimate of the increase in its production capacity; and

The Company's estimate of its business growth; and

- ii. The Company's estimate of the increase in the costs of Raw Materials.

LETTER OF ADVICE FROM PARTNERS CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL LIMITED

In assessing the quantity of the Raw Materials purchased by the Company for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005, we reviewed the data provided by the Company and noted that despite the recently completed construction of several facilities near the end of 2004 and increase in its current aggregate capacity, the quantity purchased remained within the Company's prior estimated range under its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps. For each of the full year 2005 and 2006, the Company expects the quantities of the Raw Materials purchased by the Company to remain within the prior estimated range under its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps. As far as the quantities of the Raw Materials purchased and expected to be purchased in 2005 and 2006 under the Raw Materials Connected Transaction are concerned, we noted that the Company has shown signs of adherence to its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps. On such basis, the parameter of quantities would impact (as compared to those quantities adopted in the Annual Caps) no differently on arriving at the magnitude of the Revised Caps of the Raw Materials to be sought in 2005 and 2006.

We however noted that, based on the Company's updated business plan revised subsequent to the approval of the Annual Caps on 28 June 2005, the aggregate quantity of the Raw Materials that the Company is expected to purchase in 2007 is estimated to grow at an annual growth rate of between 11% to 15% over 2006 (versus about 11% according to the prior estimated range under its business plan as reflected the Annual Caps). Upon our enquiry, the Directors advised that such an increase in the expectation of quantity of the Raw Materials to be purchased in 2007 would be necessary after accounting for the magnitude of the newly estimated increase in the aggregate capacity of the Company in 2007 and after allowing a buffer for the future economic growth in the PRC which is poised to result in an increase in the demand of the Company's petroleum products.

In reviewing the prices of the Raw Materials purchased by the Company for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005, we noted from the data provided by the Company that the purchase of crude oil accounted for over 90 percent of the aggregate transaction value of the Raw Materials Connected Transaction and the average monthly crude oil prices payable by the Company to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates (the Monthly Oil Prices) had gradually increased to over 50% during this period, reaching approximately RMB3,765 per tonne in September 2005. We also noted that the Monthly Oil Prices were predominantly determined by the international oil price as over 85% of the crude oil purchase was made by China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates through the international market, and the international oil price had increased substantially, at a similar pace to that of the Monthly Oil Prices, over the same period. For the period between 1 October 2005 and 31 December 2005, the Company expects the Monthly Oil Prices to increase to approximately RMB3,900 per tonne to reflect the further increase in the international oil price. We consider that such expectation of the increase in the Monthly Oil Prices over those actually recorded in September 2005 to be acceptable in determining the Revised Caps in view of the said historical volatility of the international oil price with a recent recording of an increase of more than 50% within a 9-month period.

In reviewing the prices of the Raw Materials that are expected to be purchased by the Company in 2006 and 2007, we noted that the Company is expected to continue to purchase over 85% of its crude oil purchase by China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates through the international market and, based on the current market condition and forecast, expects the Monthly Oil Prices to remain at a level near RMB3,900 per tonne. We consider that the Company's expectation of the Monthly Oil Prices at such level in 2006 and 2007 remains acceptable given the said historical volatility of the international oil price, current trading price range of long-dated oil future contracts and according to the views provided by international brokerage firm on the expected international Brent crude oil price (i) in 2006 ranging from US$66 per barrel (approximately RMB3,960 per tonne) in normal case up to US$88 per barrel (approximately RMB5,280 per tonne) in super spike upside case; and (ii) in 2007 ranging from US$66 per barrel (approximately RMB3,960 per tonne) in normal case up to US$103 per barrel (approximately RMB6,180 per tonne) in super spike upside case.

Taking these factors into account, the Company has arrived at the Revised Caps of RMB28,460 million, RMB39,102 million and RMB47,002 million for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007, respectively.

2.2 The Revised Cap for the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction

In formulating our opinion, we have examined the information, opinions and facts supplied regarding the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction with reference to two principal factors:

- i. The Company's estimate on the quantity of the Petroleum Products sold to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for a particular year, on the basis of:

The previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of sales of Petroleum Products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates; and

The Company's estimate of its production capacity; and the Company's estimate of the increase in the overall demand for the Petroleum Products in the PRC; and

- ii. The Company's estimate of the increase in the prices of the Petroleum Products.

In assessing the quantity of the Petroleum Products sold by the Company for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005, we reviewed the data provided by the Company and noted that despite the recently completed construction of several facilities near the end of 2004 and increase in its current aggregate capacity, the quantity sold remained within the Company's prior estimated range under its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps. For each of the full year 2005 and 2006, the Company expects the quantities of Petroleum Products sold by the Company to remain within its prior estimated range under its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps. As far as the quantities of the Petroleum Products sold and expected to be sold in 2005 and 2006 under the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction are concerned, we noted that the Company has shown signs of adherence to its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps. On such basis, the parameter of quantities would impact (as compared to those quantities adopted in the Annual Caps) no differently on arriving at the magnitude of the Revised Caps of Petroleum Products to be sought in 2005 and 2006.

LETTER OF ADVICE FROM PARTNERS CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL LIMITED

We however noted that, based on the Company's updated business plan revised subsequent to the approval of the Annual Caps on 28 June 2005, the aggregate quantity of the Petroleum Products that the Company is expected to sell in 2007 is estimated to grow at an annual growth rate of between 10% and 15% over the previous year (versus about 10% according to the prior estimated range under its business plan as reflected in the Annual Caps). Upon our enquiry, the Directors advised that such an increase in the expectation of quantities of the Petroleum Products to be sold in 2007 would be necessary after accounting for the magnitude of the newly estimated increase in the aggregate capacity of the Company in 2007 and after allowing a buffer for the future economic growth in the PRC which is poised to result in an increase in the demand of the Company's petroleum products.

In reviewing the prices of the Petroleum Products sold by the Company for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005, we noted from the data provided by the Company that the prices of all the Petroleum Products sold were determined by the PRC government and they had all gradually increased. The sale of gasoline and diesel accounted for over 60 percent of the aggregate transaction value of the Petroleum Products Connected Transaction and the prices of gasoline and diesel sold had both increased between 15% and 25% for the period, reaching an average of approximately RMB3,900 per tonne of gasoline and approximately RMB3,700 per tonne of diesel in September 2005. For the period between 1 October 2005 and 31 December 2005, the Company expects the average selling price of Petroleum Products to reach RMB3,900 per tonne, up from an average of RMB3,450 per tonne for the period between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005. We consider that such expectation of the increase in the average selling price of the Petroleum Products over the average actually recorded between 1 January 2005 and 30 September 2005 to be acceptable for the Company in determining the Revised Caps in view of the said historical pricing trends for gasoline and diesel with a recent recording of an increase of between 15% and 25% within a 9-month period.

In reviewing the average prices of the Petroleum Products that are expected to be sold by the Company in 2006 and 2007, we noted that the Company expects these prices to increase at an annual growth rate of approximately 23% and 8% over the prior year for 2006 and 2007, respectively, and reach RMB4,400 per tonne in 2006 and RMB4,800 per tonne in 2007. We consider that the Company's expectation of the average selling prices of the Petroleum Products at such levels in 2006 and 2007 to be acceptable given the said historical pricing trends for gasoline and diesel (recording an increase of between 15% and 25% within a recent 9-month period) and the expectation in the price of crude oil in 2006 and 2007.

Taking these factors into account, the Company has arrived at the Revised Caps of RMB16,214 million, RMB22,000 million and RMB26,400 million for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007, respectively.

OPINION

We note that if any terms of each of the Connected Transactions as mentioned above is altered or if the Company enters into any new agreements with any connected persons (within the meaning of the Hong Kong Listing Rules) in the future, the Company must comply with the provisions of, among others, Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules governing connected transactions.

LETTER OF ADVICE FROM PARTNERS CAPITAL INTERNATIONAL LIMITED

Having taken into account the rationale and considerations set out above, we are of the view that the Revised Caps for the Connected Transactions contained therein for the years ending 31 December 2005, 31 December 2006 and 31 December 2007, taken as a whole, are fair and reasonable. Accordingly, we recommend the Independent Shareholders to vote in favour of the resolution to be proposed at the Extraordinary General Meeting.

Yours faithfully
